BEWARE OF KAISER.

(Continued from Page One.) no indemnities." Except, of course, Germany will want that little strip of Serbia that will enable her to control her Bagdad railroad, but she will most kindly allow Serbia compensation in the shape of a seaport on the Adriatic.

And, of course, Belgium ought to be relieved of the care of her colonies which have always been a burden to her, and Germany stands ready in the interest of humanity to take them over. But substantially, fellows, let's go back and shake hands and forget all this little row.

Means German Victory.

That would mean, of course, that all of Germany's lost colonial empire, Africa, and the vast sweep of South Sea Islands, goes back to her. The South Sea Islands alone would make any country rich.

It would mean that Germany's mercantile marine, practically intact would be given back after she has sunk thousands of the other deep sea vessels, leaving her then the world's foremost sea carrier and commercial empress of the globe.

But these are merely trifles compared to some other things.

It would mean the moral triumph of the ideas and ideals for which Germany has stood in this war, the principle that nothing is important except material success, no matter how it is achieved; that might makes right, that the weak have no protection against the strong, that savagery is holy, that treaties have no binding power, faith no force and honesty no significance.

Principles of Murder and Savagery Will Stick.

It would mean settling upon the world forever the principle that if a nation is strong enough it can trample over a smaller neighbor, commit the most horrible and sickening atrocities the world has ever seen—murder, rape, theft, be a bandit on land and a pirate at sea—go forth dripping with the blood of little children followed by the execrations of wronged women, escape any retribution for a list of crimes unequalled in human history, and diligently prepare to repeat them.

For such a peace would be a farce. It would be an armed truce in which all of us should bend every energy for the next war not more than six months hence, and far more terrible than this.

"Peace and Good Fellowship—No annexation and no indemnities."

The element that cannot think and does not know, with the pro-Germans of Wisconsin and St. Louis, will spring rapturously at the suggestion. It will not be peace they will grasp, but the most terrible and destructive war. Peace! There will never be any peace on this earth again until the Prussian conception of brute force as the only governing power are put out of business forever.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

When I wrote last Saturday, I spoke of the grand time that we had at the track meet in Eagle Point but intentionally left out the most interesting part of the narrative because I didn't have a list of the names of the prize winners in the various contests, so will give a partial list of them at this time. The list embraces all those who are living here and are attending our school: First, Hazel McCaslin, second egg race cash prize, $1.50; second, Mary Boltz, first prize little girls' race candy Maypole. The Maypole consisted of a huge stick of candy two feet and ten inches long, nine inches in circumference and eight pounds, and the little girl almost fainted when one of the committee men grabbed her as she struck the tape line, she was so excited. Third, Eden Anderson, second prize little girls' race, cash 50 cents; fourth Fay Terry, ladies race, two pound box of candy. Fifth, Fay Terry, third auto potato race, $2.00 mds. Sixth, Mrs. W. O. Wheeler, our primary teacher, first auto egg race, $5.00 box candy. Seventh, Varian Jones, second married ladies race, $2.00 mds. Ninth, Joyce Von der Hellen, first race of girls under 12 years, cash prize, $1.50. Tenth, Mayma Winkle, second race for girls under 12 years of age, 50 cents. Eleventh, Ruth Grover, third prize box of candy. Twelfth, Glen Anderson, pie eating contest, prize $1.00 mds. Thirteenth, Truman McClelland and Lyle Van Scoy, wheelbarrow race, a flashlight each, value 1.50. Fourteenth, Heath Childreth and Glen Anderson, second wheelbarrow race, but in the second Heath Childreth won a paper weight. This was nearly more sport among the children than among the older ones, although it was quite amusing to see such men as ex-County Commissioner James Owens pull in the tug of war contest and such athletes as Wm. Von der Hellen and Dr. Holt enter the fat men's race, but it all made sport for the crowd.

TALENT TALK

W. W. Walls of Talent, E. Conger and Henry Conger of Jacksonville, spent Sunday afternoon visiting at the home of Mr. Jas. Adams on Wagner creek.

Mr. Sawyer was a business caller from Wagner creek Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vandershuis and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wagner who have been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Weaver, and family, during the winter, left on Monday for her home in Cove, Ore. She was accompanied by her grandson, Carl Weaver, who will spend the summer. They will visit relatives and friends at Newberg enroute.

Master Marshall Baker, Elmer and Lee Neville of Ashland were all day guests of Carl Weaver Sunday.

John Williams of Newell, Iowa, visited with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Williams, last week, leaving for his home Thursday.
