NOBODY LOVES THIS MAN

How would you like to be the person whose life work is considered so risky that no life insurance company would insure your life? Wouldn't like it, eh? Well, there is a man coming to the Patriotic Carnival who is in just that position—nobody will insure his life. His means of livelihood is too precarious. His name is Beno, and he presents the most wonderful free attraction in America. He is with the Foley & Burk shows playing here from June 5 to 3 inclusive. ARSONISTS INDICTED FOR SETTING FIRE

The trial of Mrs. Nan Strickfadden and Mrs. Dreyfus, formerly of Ashland, and Mrs. Garwood of Seattle, who were indicted yesterday by the grand jury on the charge of setting fire to Mrs. Strickfadden's home in Ashland with intent to defraud the insurance company, is expected to be hard fought and full of sensational developments. The Strickfadden house was burned last March, and several weeks ago the accused persons were arrested. At the same time that Mrs. Garwood was arrested in Eugene, N. E. Hemphill of Medford, who had been working for her in connection with a Washington land selling scheme, was placed under arrest. It is claimed he made a complete confession to the authorities. WOMEN DOING MEN'S WORK

One of the most striking results of the great war in Europe, is the extent to which women are doing the work of men. Travelers to England and France report that practically every able-bodied man is in uniform and women by the thousands are engaged in doing men's work—acting as conductors and drivers on the cars and doing all sorts of heavy work besides. This shows unexpected possibilities in what has been mistakenly called the weaker sex. Women are subject to ailments which men do not have, and when so ailing become weak, helpless sufferers. But a remedy has been found. For forty years, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been making such women well and strong, and as able to do work as any other woman.
