

SOCIETY

Of the many pupils' recitals Mr. Edward C. Root has given in Medford the last seven years, the one given Wednesday evening was far the best. The performers were enthusiastic and played well. The audience was delighted and responsive. Special mention should be made of the rendition of the Viotti violin concerto by Riley Davis. A wonderful grasp of this concerto was demonstrated, the vigor required well displayed, the phrasing nicely brought out, and the tone satisfying. The juvenile orchestra played in its usual pleasing style, with better balance than heretofore. The surprise of the evening was the playing of the juvenile band. They played with a precision that captured their hearers. The softer parts, many times lacking in older organizations, were there, and there was no doubt about the accents and climaxes. Following is the program:

Violin solo, "Hungarian Dance" No. 5, Brahms, Howard Raymond.
Piano solo, "March of the Flower Girls," Wachs, Miss Mabel Earsley, (Pupil of Mr. Haight).
Violin solo, "Plantation Melodies," Anon, Keith Cole.
Violin solo, "Chant d'Adieu," Lagye, Miss Jennie Tuck.
Violin solo, "Concerto No. 23," Viotti, Riley Davis.
Accompaniments by Fred Alton Haight.

Juvenile Orchestra—Operatic selection, "Martha," Floto. March, "Southern Bells," Hazel. Members of the orchestra—Violins, Riley Davis, Howard Raymond, Miss Jennie Tuck, Keith Cole; cello, Maed Fremeh; bass viol, Austin Raymond; cornet, Ray Hague; trombone, George Stewart; drums and bells, Raymond Knibbs; tympani, David Wilcox; flute, Howard Howell; piano, Miss Mabel Earsley.

Juvenile band—March, "Ruby Red." Gavotte, "Dainty Dear." March, "Zo." Cornets, Ray Hague, Jean Watkins, Harold Reichstein, Russell Wheeler, Howard Raymond; altos, William Campbell, Tom Piggras; baritone, Riley Davis; trombone, George Stewart; tuba, Clifford Stringfeller; snare drum, Raymond Knibbs; bass drum, Keith Cole; clarinet, Adrian Loffland.

The Greater Medford club met at the library Monday afternoon; Mrs. Dr. Conroy was installed as the president for the coming club year. Mrs. T. E. Pottinger was elected first vice president to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Jap Andrews, and Mrs. Jesse Houek was elected as treasurer, as Mrs. Delroy Getchell also resigned from the duties of this office. Under the executive supervision of Mrs. Chas. L. Schefflin the club has accomplished many things which have been of civic value to the city and state. Mrs. Conroy has plans that will interest every woman of Medford which the club hopes to have enrolled upon their membership list. The club will have charge of gathering papers and magazines during the summer months; they hope to have a car load for shipment by September first. This money to be given to the Red Cross. Mr. Bardwell has given the use of his warehouse for the storing of the papers, those having papers and no way of taking them to the warehouse may phone Mr. Latta at the Commercial club and some one will call for them. Mrs. Conroy will appoint a committee to supervise this work in the near future. The club will hold their next regular meeting the last Monday in September.

The members of the senior class of 1917 will give a reception which will be in the form of a tennis dance Tuesday, June 5th, at the armory. Among the pleasant after-graduation surprises is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Florence Jackson and Cecil M. Jennings, who were united in marriage by their pastor, Dr. J. C. Rollins, April 17, 1917. They were attended only by a few intimate friends and it was planned to keep the wedding a secret until after high school commencement. Both these young people are well known and highly respected among a large number of friends and acquaintances. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Jackson and was a graduate this year from the local high school and the groom is in business in this city. WOMEN TO WORK FOR LIBERTY LOAN FRIDAY, JUNE 8

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Members of a women's special liberty loan committee, headed by Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, wife of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, reported at a meeting here today that millions of American women have been enlisted for a nation-wide demonstration to encourage sale of bonds next Friday, June 8, designated as Woman's Liberty Loan day.

Secretary McAdoo, in an address, urged women to do their utmost to help finance the military operations in which they cannot actually participate.
"Let it not be said," said Mr. McAdoo, "that 10,000,000 of youths in America registered for military service on June 5 and that there was wanting a sufficient number of volunteers on the fifteenth day of June to supply the means to keep these men in the field thru the purchase of the bonds of their own government, the safest investment on earth."

In most large cities next Friday women will hold mass meetings and women orators will speak at street corners on behalf of the loan, while women motorists will distribute literature thru the country districts. Thousands of telephone switchboard operators have agreed to spend part of that day calling prospective purchasers of bonds, and asking other women to make similar telephone canvasses. In office buildings, railway stations and department stores, women will be stationed with application blanks for the bands and information for their purchase.
