SEATTLE SHY IN NUMBER REGISTERING

SEATTLE, June 6.—The total registration for Seattle was 25,924, whereas the government had expected registration of 58,848, basing the estimate on the census bureau figures which give Seattle's population as 366,445.

BIG CARNIVAL DELIGHTS MANY ON OPENING DAY

It was a real carnival night, with all of its carnival features, noises, gaieties, music, fun and frolic. It was a jolly night of entertainment and of more than usually interesting thrills and engrossing scenes.

In addition to the fact that the Seventh company, C. A. C., of Medford, is putting on the show for the benefit of one of its necessary funds, the Foley & Burk shows presented at first an attractive appearance, being clean and orderly in all respects.

All of the booths were well patronized—and there are "some" booths. Teddy bears, dolls, sofa pillows, statury, kewpies, and even darling little work baskets and needles were among the prizes offered.

The concessions are all above those of the ordinary carnival, from the "Little Wild People" to the miniature dog and pony circus.

The newlyweds are clever little entertainers, as well as expert dancers—and their baby, a youngster of two and a half years, is almost a match for his tiny parents.

The merry-go-round and ferris wheel proved the mecca of delight for the young people—and some of the older folks, as well.

Trixie, the educated horse, is a wonder. It knows its program and assumes poses without being prompted by its trainer.

A real thrill-producer is "Ben Bono," who appears on a trapeze suspended 40 feet in mid-air. With only the blue canopy above and not much seawind below, this intrepid acrobat creates repeated heart-throbs, not the least thrilling of which is his complete summersault on the swinging trapeze while seated in a chair blind-folded.

The carnival is, in fact, the best that ever appeared in Medford. Its concessions are all class A shows, each of its kind; and the personnel of the combined shows is much above the average.

WEDDING BELLS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. B. Osborn, 417 Woodstock street, when her daughter, Miss Effie Vivienne Osborn, was united in marriage to Thorvald Anderson. At 4:30 the bride and groom took their place under a beautiful arch of roses and Rev. J. E. McDonald, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony which made them man and wife.

POOR DEMOCRACY.

WE HAVE actual conscription of men but no conscription of wealth. While the poor are registering for their country's service to give their life if necessary, congress is placing upon them the additional burden of the cost of the war.

The rich are best able to pay for the war to which the poor give their life, but the senate is lifting the burden from their shoulders and placing it upon the poor.

The senate has altered the house war taxation bill so that one-quarter, instead of one-half of the war's cost will be raised by taxation; so that the profits and incomes of the rich will continue to pay for their luxuries while the pennies of the poor will fall farther short of buying life's necessities.

Taxes on large incomes are reduced 25 per cent by the senate and the sugar, coffee and tea used by the poor must make up the deficit. Excess profit taxes, small enough in the house bill as compared to Great Britain's levies, are cut still smaller, so that business may swell and swell profits. Decreases in the income and profit taxes amount to one billion—left in the coffers of the rich while the poor pay higher prices for food and clothing.

Enormous incomes are left intact, by the senate. No increase in inheritance taxes is provided. Jewelry and other luxuries are overlooked—but necessities soaked.

The men with the little income are not forgotten—married men with $2000 and single men with $1000 must pay—and they make no complaint. But big inheritances, and men with incomes over $100,000, and those who have made fortunes out of war munitions, raise a howl and escape with comparatively small assessments.

President Wilson states that this is a "war for democracy" but the senate is crippling democracy by conscripting life and not property. It is not the democracy practiced in France or in Britain—wealth there has been conscripted along with life. It is not the democracy necessary to win a great war. All the people must do their share. There is nothing sacred about wealth to exempt it. There is no fortune that cannot be recreated by labor—while a life destroyed, is a life gone forever.

While we are crushing democracy, we must also smash plutocracy. Wealth must fight along with poverty. Democracy must rule all things.

RUSSIAN CHIEFS VISIT KRONSTADT

PETROGRAD, June 6.—Minister of War Kerensky has left the capital to visit the northwest front.

An official announcement made prior to the departure of the socialist minister for Kronstadt reads:

"The provisional government, recognizing that the present condition of affairs in Kronstadt is both menacing and intolerable, has requested the socialist ministers, Tsereteli and Skoboleff, to visit the fortress city with the object of clearing up its attitude toward the central power. They are charged with investigating the defense of the fortresses, the character of the local administration of justice, the conditions under which prisoners are detained and to make a full and detailed report of their investigation to the government, in order that necessary measures may immediately be taken to deal with the trouble."

HOBO REGISTERS FROM BOX CAR

EUGENE, Ore., June 6.—Peter Finnan, who gave his age at 25 years and said he was born in New York city, was registered under the selective conscription act here yesterday. Finnan maintained that he had no home except the United States and that he had wandered from state to state for seven years. The registration officers decided that the rule that a single man might claim the place he slept the previous night as his domicile might apply.

"Where did you sleep last night?" he was asked. "On a box car between Roseburg and Eugene," Finnan replied. "He was registered and his card marked 'transient.'"

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF WARSHIP

BERLIN, June 6.—The loss of the German destroyer S-20 is admitted in an official statement issued by the war office in regard to the attack on Ostend by British ships. The statement follows:

"Enemy monitors shelled Ostend on the morning of the 5th, killing and wounding a great number of Belgian inhabitants and causing some material damage to houses. Strongly superior reconnoitering forces, attached to the advanced monitors, encountered two of our torpedo boats which were on guard. After fierce fighting the S-20 was sunk, firing to the last moment. A portion of the crew was rescued by us.

"The enemy forces received several hits and retired before the fire of our coast batteries."

BRITISH CALL FOR WAR VOLUNTEERS

The congress of the United States having passed an act permitting the voluntary recruitment, within the United States, of British subjects for service with the British army conditional upon regulations issued by the United States secretary of war, Male British subjects between the ages of 18 and 40 years inclusive residing in the states of Oregon, Washington, Montana, and Idaho, or in the territory of Alaska, who are not naturalized American citizens, are requested to register their names and address at the British consulate, Portland, Oregon.

It must be understood that registration does not necessarily imply obligation or compulsion. Benton Pool of Buncom is spending Wednesday in the city on business.

BRITISH ADVANCE ON ARRAS FRONT IN TWO SECTORS

LONDON, June 6.—The British made an attack last night on the Arras front north of the River Scarpe, the war office announces. Ground was gained in two sectors.

The statement follows: "We attacked last night north of the Scarpe and made further progress on the western slopes of Greenland hill. We gained ground slightly west of Lens."

PARIS, June 6.—Two violent German attacks on French positions at Hurbise and the Chemin Des Dames were repulsed last night, the war office announces this morning. The attacks were preceded by an intense bombardment. Lively actions took place during the night on the Belgian front.

The statement follows: "There was great activity during the night over a large part of the Chemin Des Dames and further west between the Ailette and the Laon road. The artillery fighting became very intense late at night, especially east of Vauxaillon, north of Moulin De Laifoux and over the whole region northwest of Braye En Laonnois. Near Hurbise after a spirited bombardment the Germans late yesterday made two attacks in vain on our positions northeast of the monument. The Germans were driven back to their trenches after a violent engagement in which they suffered heavy losses at the hands of our soldiers and our line was maintained everywhere. Over the remainder of the front there was intermittent cannonading.

"On the Belgian front lively actions took place late at night."

FOUR AIRSHIPS WINGED BY BRITISH

LONDON, June 6.—Four of the German airplanes returning from yesterday's raid over England were destroyed by British pilots, it is announced officially.

One British pilot, who pursued the Germans toward Dunkirk brought down two of the raiders. Later ten British machines from Dunkirk engaged the returning Germans, destroying two of their machines and forcing down four.

Sixteen German airplanes took part in the raid over Essex and Kent, dropping bombs which killed twelve and injured 36. Two German airplanes were brought down by British anti-aircraft guns while the raid was in progress.

AUSTRIANS REGAIN POSITIONS CAPTURED ON TRIESTE FRONT

VIENNA, June 6.—The Austrians have regained positions taken by the Italians south of Jamiano, on the front above Trieste and captured more than 6500 Italians in a battle lasting a day and a half, the war office announces. In all, 22,000 prisoners have been taken on this part of the front, it is said.

BERLIN, June 6.—A German air squadron has dropped more than 5,000 kilograms of bombs on military establishments at Sheerness, England, German army headquarters announced today. Good hits were observed.

A British attack delivered yesterday only succeeded in penetrating the German position at the Roux railway station, where fighting continues for small sections of trenches, says today's army headquarters statement.

The artillery battle in the Wytschaete salient continued with only short interruptions, the report adds.

RIO JANEIRO, June 6.—It is reported that Germany has made a protest against the utilization of German merchant ships by Brazil.

After the cancellation last week of Brazil's decree of neutrality in the war between Germany and the United States, Brazil seized 46 German merchantmen in her ports and interned the crews.

Terms of a Liberty Loan Bond

Liberty Loan Bonds of the first issue of $2,000,000 are to bear date of June 15, 1917, and to run for 30 years, except that the government reserves the right to pay them 15 years after date. If this right is not exercised by the government 15 years from date the bonds will run the full 30 years. These bonds bear interest at 3 1/2 percent per annum, and the interest is payable semi-annually on the 15th day of December and 15th day of June in each year.

TEN REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A LIBERTY BOND.

- 1. Because your country needs the money. 2. It is to pay for clothing, feeding and arming the men who are fighting to save your life and property. 3. It is not a contribution—just a loan. 4. It keeps your money absolutely secure and pays you interest on it—$3.50 a year on each $100 bond. 5. The whole faith and power of the United States guarantees that you will get your money back when the bond falls due. 6. You can sell it any day in the open market. 7. You can get it on easy installments—ask any bank or department store. 8. The government will let you have a $100 bond on these terms: $2 down before June 15; $18 on June 28; $20 on July 30; $30 on August 15; $30 on August 30. Other bonds in same proportion. Banks will arrange for payment of $10 down and $10 a month or better. 9. The government frees your bond from taxation—federal, state or local, except from the inheritance or estate tax. 10. Your brothers are to risk their lives on the firing line. You won't even risk a cent of your money if you buy a bond. Make your dollars into bullets—DO IT TODAY.
