NEWS PRINT PAPER MATERIALLY REDUCED. NEW YORK, July 28.—The Editor and Publisher will publish tomorrow an announcement by the paper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' association that, through a contract made by the committee with Lord Northcliffe's New Foundland mill, 80,000 tons of news print paper annually will be available for small newspaper publishers in the United States and others who have been paying high prices for their print paper.

The entire output of the Northcliffe mill will be available, as well as the output of the Albert E. Reed mill, near the Northcliffe plant, which makes 160 tons of ground wood daily. "This paper will be sold in carload lots at rates less than the prevailing market quotations," the paper committee says, "and publishers who take larger quantities will get it for less than $3 a hundred pounds, f. o. b. seaboard, the exact price having not yet been set. It will be sold for cash in advance."

The financing of this arrangement was made possible through the generosity of a number of large publishers. The smaller publishers now may get their requirements by communicating with A. G. McIntyre, special representative of the paper committee in this city.

AMERICAN BARK CARMELA SUNK BY SUBMARINE

PLYMOUTH, England, July 28.—The American bark Carmela has been sunk by a submarine. The crew was landed in safety.

All the members of the bark's crew which numbered twenty men, were uninjured. They will be sent to New York. The Carmela was attacked at 6 o'clock this morning by a German submarine of small type.

The undersea boat fired four shots at her and the crew then took to their boat. The submarine ordered the bark's crew to go aboard the submarine, and placing an armed guard over them, used the boat to loot the ship's stores of coffee and bacon.

At the end of the second trip the Germans were interrupted by the approach of patrol vessels which rescued the bark's crew. The submarine was not seen again. The bark Carmela, 1379 tons, was built in 1873 at Glasgow. She sailed from the United States June 29 for Havre, France. Captain John A. Johnson was in command with a crew of twenty, including six Americans, among whom were Ernest Dober, mate, Seattle, Wash.

TO BUILD TRAIL DOWN CRATER LAKE

Will G. Steel, commissioner of Crater Lake park, who came down from a visit to the lake late Friday night, said today that the work of building a new trail from the rim down to the lake level, would be begun at once. The government has appropriated $8000 for this purpose.

Twenty-five men are wanted at once to build the new trail. They will be paid wages of $3 a day and can board themselves in camp on the rim. The work will last two months. Any men who desire to work on this trail can communicate with Mr. Steel in his office in the federal building, this city, within the next few days.

The new trail will be five or six feet wide and will be built at such a grade from the rim to the water's edge that any one can easily descend and ascend.

Open Letter to Seventh Company

Medford, Ore., July 26, 1917. To the Seventh Company:

Today as I watched you fall in line I thought of the great duty you are called on to perform; the trenches of France suddenly seemed infinitely closer. In that flash it seemed that I saw you in those trenches, already hardened veterans, ready, fit to do your "bit" to "make democracy safe." And I felt that I would like to take each of you by the hand and pledge you that I, too, would do whatever I could to "make democracy safe."

You are about to go where the real battle line is drawn. Others will follow. Whenever I meet a young man between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one I shall feel as I do toward you. I shall feel like taking him by the hand and saying, "When your turn comes and you are sent to the firing line if you see any of the boys of the Seventh company say to them, 'All's well at home. There has never been found a disloyal citizen in Jackson county. Democracy is a success, it is safe.' Let it be understood your county and state brands as a disloyal act any conduct on the part of any individual that would reflect in any way upon the efficiency of democracy."

I make this pledge now because I know the minds of all people are disturbed by this world war, that vibrations of unrest permeate all space; if that unrest should lead to any disturbance in any locality that I shall consider it my duty to see

FIRE SITUATION IN COUNTY MUCH MORE SATISFACTORY

The forest fires situation in the county was reported as being much improved Saturday. The two big fires in the Prospect region are again under control. In fact, the situation has so improved that the Jackson County Fire Patrol association has reduced its force by one-half during the past two days.

New fires which have been smoldering are now springing up from time to time both in the Prospect and Butte Falls territory. These fires are not easily detected, because the heavy smoke in these regions prevents the lookouts from noticing their presence except during certain hours of the day when the wind blows the smoke away for a short time.

Fire Warden W. T. Grieve, who returned to the city Saturday from the fires near Prospect, reports that the valuable timber loss thru forest fires so far has been nominal, as the fires started early in the season, and close to the ground in the big timber there is still much dampness.

Forest Supervisor Erickson is still in charge of the fires in federal territory in the Prospect region. The federal fire-fighting force in the Butte Falls region has been much reduced, but the new fires springing up there, as well as in the Prospect region, are being combatted successfully.

The greatest trouble encountered in the fire fighting in both regions has been the lack of competent foremanship over the fire fighters and the lack of cooks to provide meals for the fighters.

SEATTLE, July 28.—The steamer Juneau sailed for St. Michael, Alaska, today, with 2000 tons of steel rails for the retrucking and extension of the Tanaet Valley railroad, a forty-mile narrow gauge line out of Fairbanks, lately purchased by the government as part of its trunk line between the Yukon valley and the sea. The rails will complete the line between Fairbanks and Chatinika. The barge Henry Villard sailed from Everett for Anchorage today with 600 tons of rails and 1,100,000 feet of lumber for the government railroad.

CAROUSAL ENDS WHEN POLICEMAN RAIDS PREMISES

There was lots of commotion and excitement early Friday evening when Night Policeman Timothy raided a small one-story house at the corner of South Newtown and Eighth streets, adjoining the monument works building on South Newtown. In the excitement most of the wanted prisoners got away, but he captured three.

During the afternoon and early evening a group of disorderly persons were gathered in the small structure drinking and carousing. The disturbance had grown so disgraceful early in the evening that neighbors telephoned police headquarters and Officer Timothy was sent to arrest the crowd.

En route to the place Timothy enlisted the services of Private J. M. Elliott of the Seventh company, whose home is at Central Point, to assist in the raid. He stationed Elliott at the back door with instructions to stop any one who tried to leave the house, Timothy then went to the front door and knocked.

When the carousers opened the door and saw the policeman, with one accord they ran for the rear door, pushed Elliott aside and disappeared in the darkness. Timothy, however, managed to hold three, two men and a woman known as Maud Sturgis.

The Sturgis woman broke away from his grasp and seizing a pair of shears, shouted that she was going to kill herself, and thereupon began trying to do so by slashing at her body with the shears. Her dress was badly cut up. Before she could do herself any harm Timothy grasped the shears and struggled with her until he obtained possession of them. He then took the half-crazed woman and the two men to the police station.

Later information was learned that some of those who escaped were en route to Jacksonville, and Sheriff Jennings was phoned to head them off. The sheriff and deputies searched for the persons a large part of the night, but without success.

Locked Up in Jail. This morning H. McKee, Frank Parker and Maud Sturgis, who were arrested by Officer Timothy were arraigned before Justice of Peace Taylor on the charge of vagrancy. They pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for next Tuesday, and the bail of each was fixed at $100. None of the prisoners could furnish bail and they were given into the custody of Sheriff Jennings and locked up in the county jail.

Chief of Police Hittren swore out the vagrancy charge and in addition to these three included Lloyd Parker, Josie Deeter and John Doe in the charge. Two other men, whose names are also given as John Doe, were mixed up in the affair.

The police and Sheriff Jennings expect to have all the persons of the house party under arrest within a few hours.

TREASONABLE CONDUCT BEING INVESTIGATED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Federal Attorney Preston tonight received orders from the attorney general's office in Washington to investigate alleged treasonable utterances, said to be responsible for the cannery strikes in San Jose, Santa Clara and Oakland.

Orders received by District Attorney Preston also commanded him to investigate alleged industrial workers of the World activities in this vicinity, and their reputed threats to destroy crops.

It was said this information was obtained by Assistant Federal Attorney Casper Ornauba on a recent trip to Klamath Falls, Ore., and Dorris, Cal., where scores of persons posing as I. W. W.'s have been arrested.
