

RED CROSS PLANS TO AID FAMILIES OF ENLISTED MEN

Harry R. Bogart, coast supervising director of family relief for the American Red Cross, spent Wednesday in Medford in consultation with officers of the local Red Cross branch, organizing relief work for families of enlisted men.

"The Red Cross at the present time has over 1200 chapters distributed throughout the country and many of these have organized branches and auxiliaries in neighboring communities. People understand pretty clearly what the Red Cross is doing on the medical, nursing and supply sides of its program, but as yet there is not a full grasp of what this organization is planning to do among families of soldiers and sailors.

"The Red Cross officials at Washington, however, are looking ahead towards a large task that will confront the civilian relief section of the chapters throughout the country in the near future. Even with the increased pay of soldiers and sailors, recently provided for by act of congress, and even though the government grants a separate allowance for dependents of soldiers and sailors, and further, under the selective draft a large percentage of the registered men with families may be exempted, it is still conceivable that among the grand total of men drawn into the armed service of the country in every branch, there will be left behind tens of thousands of relatives of these men, who in one way or another, will need the friendly aid of the Red Cross.

"The families which the Red Cross will deal with are groups of fellow citizens each of whom has made a great sacrifice. From their midst have gone out men to serve and die for the rest of us, if necessary. More than this no man can do. They must not be allowed to suffer. Their needs must be met with understanding and with adequate assistance.

"The Red Cross will be concerned not merely about the creature needs of the families of soldiers and sailors, but with their social needs also. Through its chapter's bureau of advice and information it lets it be known that it is ready to serve as "next friend" in all sorts of difficulties that may arise, for example, wage complications, troubles with landlords, and regarding insurance, property and furniture payments, dangers threatening the moral welfare of the children, illness, accident, etc.

"Experience in Canada, England and France shows that a great many families have come to grief unnecessarily because no early enough did helpful organizations get in touch with them. The American Red Cross conceives that it has a great preventive function as well as an ameliorative task ahead of it.

"The Red Cross headquarters at Washington has issued to chapters throughout the country printed matter, giving full instructions as to how this work among families is to be done. In many localities special schools are giving courses as are also colleges and universities, all of them in co-operation with local Red Cross chapters.

"The opportunity for fine patriotic service under this part of the Red Cross program is considered by the authorities at Washington as important and worth while. We would show ourselves unfit to enjoy the blessings of democracy if, while sending our soldiers to the front to fight the enemy, we permitted their families to home to fight want, disease and moral dangers alone. It would look like willful punishment on the community's part for the sacrifices made by them. Only by getting close to them thru friendly visitation, sympathetic inquiry, neighborliness, intelligent interpretation of home conditions, can untoward factors in environment and within the group be discovered."

All Traces of Scrofula Eradicated from the System

By the greatest of all purifiers. A common mistake in the treatment of scrofula has been the use of mercury and other mineral mixtures, the effect of which is to bottle up the impurities in the blood, and hide them from the surface. The impurities and dangers are only added to in this way. For more than fifty years S. S. S. has been the one recognized reliable blood remedy that has been used

COMPANY I TO LEAVE FOR NORTH THURSDAY MORN

By daylight tomorrow morning I company, Third Oregon infantry, will probably be on its special train enroute to the regiment headquarters in Clackamas, following the company's four months stay in the city.

Captain Todd received a telegram this forenoon stating that the special train with C company of Portland, of the same regiment, which will relieve I company and be stationed in Medford, will not reach the city until 11 o'clock tonight. Enroute to this city tonight the special train will pick up the various details of I company between Roseburg and here, and leave details of C company to take their places.

On the arrival of the train in this city all the C company men will be detained except those who are to form the details to relieve the I company details in the Siskiyou. The train will then proceed to the summit of the Siskiyou, and while en route there will stop occasionally to pick up the I company details and leave the C company relieving details.

It will probably be five or six hours before the special train will return to Medford. Then I company will go on board with all its baggage and the start will be made for Clackamas. Temporarily, until the officers have time to get their bearings here, C company will occupy the barracks quarters of I company at the corner of Central avenue and Sixth street. The new officers will then decide whether to select new quarters or remain in the old ones.

IRON HAND FOR I. W. W. IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Aug. 1.—Acting under new orders to deal with Industrial Workers of the World with an "iron hand," police early today went to the Cough hotel, called William Ford, alleged to be an I. W. W. organizer, from his room, overcame his strenuous resistance and placed him under arrest.

Ford fought for fifteen minutes before the handcuffs were slipped onto his wrists, the officers said. When he came from the room he carried a satchel filled with inflammatory literature and I. W. W. propaganda.

Wallace Smith, a sign painter, who is charged has painted numerous signs for the I. W. W. here, was also arrested today. The police are endeavoring to learn if Ford is a relative of "Blackie" Ford, serving a life sentence in San Quentin for committing murder at the Wheatland hop riots in California in 1914.

President Wins On Food Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The deadlock of the conferees on the administration food control bill was broken today and complete agreement reached when the senate conferees yielded and consented to strike out the amendment proposing a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures which President Wilson has opposed.

The agreement will be reported to the house tomorrow. The senate conferees voted 4 to 3 to eliminate the congressional committee clause. Senators Chamberlain, Smith of South Carolina and Smith of Georgia, Democrats, were joined by Senator Warren of Wyoming in yielding while Senator Gore, Democrat, and Senator Kenyon and Senator Page, Republicans, insisted upon retaining the committee provision.

BOARD TO BUILD STEEL SHIPS AS WELL AS WOOD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Conferences today between shipping board officials and southern pine producers disclosed that the new administration in charge of the ship program proposes to build large numbers of wooden ships as well as steel ones.

It has developed that the new officials, on examination of the facts in the shipping board row which resulted in the elimination of Major General Goethals and former Chairman Denman found merit on both sides of the controversy. More than 700 ships are now under construction.

At the conference today Rear-Admiral Capps, the new general manager of the emergency fleet corporation, told the lumbermen the government had new information to spur the shipping program onward and he asked the producers to increase their output in every possible way.

OREGON TROOPS TO REMAIN AT YAKIMA

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 1.—Lieutenant Orville Stevens and his detachment of Oregon troops, who have been on guard duty in the Yakima valley since July 9, today were ordered by the department headquarters at Portland to remain here indefinitely. The order reversed a previous order for their transfer to Oregon. It is believed here they will remain until state troops are ready to take over the task of maintaining order.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Owing to the war several changes have been made in the local postoffice. Homer Payne is carrier in place of Lieutenant Dan Spencer, and Chauncey Stoddard is night mail clerk in place of Lieutenant Millard Grubb. Both of these are temporary assignments pending the fortunes of war. John Anderson succeeds to the position of carrier on route No. 1 made vacant by the resignation of H. S. Palmerlee, who has entered the employment of the Citizens' bank. Troy Phipps is acting as temporary substitute on the office force and Bert Freeman is performing the duties of deputy postmaster during the absence of H. G. Eastman on his vacation.

Portland representatives of the Dealers Motor Association of Oregon have been in the valley this week, making arrangements for that organization's tour of southern Oregon, including trips to Crater Lake and the marble caves. The dates are August 20 to 25.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dodge and Mr. H. C. Galey left on Tuesday by the auto route for a brief vacation trip thruout the Klamath Lake regions.

The Home Guard organization and local unit of the nation rifle association, both of Medford, have offered their services to Sheriff Jennings in any emergency.

Over in Klamath and Lake counties a tab is being kept on all travelers by vigilance committees. O. P. Carron, who recently returned from that section reports that his auto was topped at times by officers who wanted to know the destination and business of passengers.

Mrs. Stuart Saunders and daughter, Josephine, left early in the week for Portland.

A very enjoyable social affair was that of the dance held in Central Hall Friday evening. A large, select crowd of Central Point and neighboring cities people were present. There was very fine music and refreshments and every one who was fortunate enough to get an invitation to this social occasion says that they had a most pleasant evening.

Mrs. Nicholson of Medford is one of the out of town guests here during the week. She is enjoying a visit with Mrs. John Downing and Mrs. Joe Boswell.

The gravity of the war situation was brought home to our citizens Sunday morning when eleven of the finest and most wholesome young men in the community took leave of their homes and parents and went with the Seventh company, in which they are members, to new headquarters. Nine-tenths of our citizens followed the boys to Medford Sunday morning to see them off. The remaining people met them at the train here and showered their blessings upon them. Central Point and Rogue River valley has just cause to be proud of her patriotic soldier boys. We admire their bravery, courage and the desire to do right by our old flag. It takes a whole lot of grit to give up home, mother, sweetheart and all that is dear to one, yet these boys stood without flinching in the ordeal of parting, saw their mothers' tears, felt her trembling arm around them and yet because they knew their cause was just and there was no turning back, they smiled and the last seen of our heroes was their hands waving a cheery goodbye. We are indeed proud to be classed as telly citizens of those two hundred boys who departed Sunday.

Will C. Owen, highly esteemed citizen of Central Point for many years, left Saturday evening for Marshfield, Oregon, where he has accepted a position as clerk in one of the leading stores. Mr. Owen was a clerk in Cranfill and Robinett's store for many years and was one of the best liked and most praised clerk in the valley. He will be greatly missed here but his many friends wish him the greatest success and happiness in his new home.

The Epworth League held their regular monthly social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Broadbent Friday evening. A goodly number of young people were present. A most enjoyable time was had by all who attended. This was one of the liveliest and the best planned affairs ever given. There was something doing all the time and many were the novel entertainments. The refreshments, too, were grand. Mr. and Mrs. Broadbent are ideal entertainers and the league cannot praise them too much for the true hospitality shown them.

Miss Nora Watkins, who spent the past fortnight in Eugene, the guest of her sister, arrived at her home here Sunday morning.

Miss Lola Peart's bright and smiling face greets all who come into Cranfill and Robinett's store now. She is at your service and whatever you may order, leave it to her, she'll have it ready in no time.

J. S. Stille of Derby was one of the out of town business visitors here during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Broadbent will leave during the week for Grenada, California, where they will spend a week enjoying a rest.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gleason, Miss Luella Gleason and Master Mervin Gleason have returned from a pleasurable trip to Crescent City.
