GOVERNOR CHANGES MIND, SHORTENS HUNTING SEASON

With Governor Withycombe in relation to the recent requests for the closing of the deer hunting season because of the danger of forest fires it has been a case of "on again, off again, Finnegan" for several days past, but today he announced that he would order the season closed from August 21 to September 1 unless rain fell in the meantime. Yesterday he gave out the announcement that he would not interfere in any way with the regular season, which opens tomorrow and continues until October 15th.

The governor's latest edict now brings about a rather mixed up state of affairs for the hunters, sportsmen and game wardens, and means that unless rain comes to their relief the hunting season may only last ten days.

However, many hunters have already gone out into the hills, to be gone for the length of the deer hunting season, and there is no way of reaching them with the information that the season may be closed from August 21 to Sept. 1. And between now and August 21 many other hunters will be out in inaccessible places and will have no means of knowing whether after August 21 the season is open or closed.

The net result of this mixup will probably be that the hunters who are in the hills won't give a hang whether or not the season is closed and will go on banging their guns and gathering in deer to the legal limit. And now no end of trouble seems to be in sight for the game wardens and their deputies. In fact, it is doubtful if all the deputy game wardens can be notified in time to enforce the governor's edict, if he issues one.

SALEM, Aug. 14.—Governor Withycombe announced today he would close the Oregon deer hunting season from August 21 to September 1, unless rain falls before August 21, to lessen danger of forest fires.

The season ordinarily runs from August 15 to October 15.

PAUPER'S BURIAL FOR LOSING LIFE FOR UNCLE SAM

At the invitation of the Soldiers' Auxiliary, representatives of the various civic, social and religious organizations of the city met at the public library Monday evening and discussed plans for the entertainment and welfare of the members of Company C, while they are stationed in our city.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Brackehead, president of the auxiliary, who expressed the appreciation generally felt of the efforts already made by individuals and societies for the entertainment of our soldier guests. She then asked Attorney Gus Newbury to act as chairman of the meeting.

In the discussion which followed, many suggestions were offered and the following committee was named to meet with the heads of the various organizations in the city to arrange for some special entertainment by each organization. Rev. W. B. Hamilton, chairman; Mrs. H. W. Bingham, Mrs. F. W. Hollis, Mrs. Jap Andrews and Miss Louise Burke. A second committee was named to arrange the dates for the entertainments, with Mrs. Alan Brackehead as chairman, Mrs. O. C. Boggs and Mrs. W. H. McGowan.

These committees, it was decided, should exist for the duration of the war and they will provide for the welfare of all soldiers quartered in the city at any time.
