

SAMMIES PLAN TO DRIVE ENEMY ACROSS RHINE

American Army Expects to "Bust" German Line and Drive Kaiser's Legions Out of the Trenches and Back Into Germany—Standardizing of Motor Trucks Under Way.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Despite pro-German reports sent from this city, the big outstanding fact of this war game is that the American army expects to "bust" the German line and drive the Kaiser's legions back to the Rhine and beyond.

Everything the American war department is doing is based on this expectation. That is one reason why Secretary Baker has employed expert automobile engineers to produce standardized motor trucks.

Perfecting Transport. "In a great drive, experience has shown soldiers can move faster than food and munitions can be brought to them," said Captain W. M. Britton of the quartermaster general's office, charged with providing motor transport. If the Germans had perfected their motor transport in the early days of the war they would have been in Paris.

"We are not going to make any such mistake. When the time comes to get our men to the front in force and to make our drive, we will be prepared.

"For we are going to drive the Germans out of their trenches, back into Berlin, and we are not going to fail for lack of food and ammunition. That is where the motor truck comes in.

Standardize Trucks. "Our allies are using thousands of American commercial motor trucks and are apparently finding them all right. But these are being used on the splendid highways of France back of the front, roads that are constantly being kept in the best state of repair. When our troops were in Mexico they found that some of the trucks found useful in France were absolutely useless.

"Conditions back of the German lines will be worse than in Mexico. They will be shell-pitted and the retreating Germans will do all they can to ruin them and to impede our progress. We will need trucks which can go forward under any conditions.

"That is why we want a standardized ton and a half truck and a standardized three-ton truck. We will not put a lot of experimental devices in these trucks or get some experts to make a truck on paper and recommend it.

50,000 Trucks Needed. "We will build experimental trucks and work them day and night, putting them to every test to make sure the design is right and that they are constructed properly in every detail.

"Once this is demonstrated, we will ask the bigger manufacturers to gear up their plants for making trucks by the thousands. Standardization of all the parts means a final speeding up of quantity production and means making it easier to keep duplicates of all parts for quick repairs.

"We shall need about 50,000 trucks. The ordinary divisional train consists of 140 cargo trucks. The munition trains contain about 400 trucks.

"The great cry for the trucks will come when our army moves forward and gets away from rail communications. By that time we confidently expect, with the aid of American automotive engineers and American truck builders, to have our great fleets of trucks ready for war work."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Agricultural experts gathered here today for the first of the department of agriculture's conferences to stimulate the production of wheat next year. Conferences will be held later at Atlanta, Indianapolis and Kansas City, and at Spokane August 27. They will be under the direction of Dr. I. A. Pearson of Iowa State College, who has been serving as an assistant to Secretary Houston.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

H. O. Frohbach has resigned as secretary of the commercial club and will remove to Three Forks, Montana, where he will accept a position in a similar capacity. The new location is a thriving young town, rapidly growing and Mr. Frohbach's new duties will call him there about September 1.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Baughman, one month old, died on Tuesday morning.

A. M. Beaver, the popular teacher of a large class in the Methodist Sunday school, is host to a number of his class whom he has taken on a tour of Lake of the Woods.

The regular meeting of Odd Fellows Thursday, August 16, the subordinate lodge here will receive a fraternal call from the grand chaplain of the order in California, who is visiting the Oregon jurisdiction. Social tea and refreshments.

Infractions of the prohibitory laws are receiving considerable attention from Justice Wilmer of late, who is sitting "en banc" with County Attorney Roberts at several hearings. Last Saturday O. K. McLaughlin, Mel Emery and Grant Coleman were arrested for having liquor in their possession, the two former pleaded guilty on Monday and were fined. Coleman elected to stand trial, pleading his own case on Tuesday before the jury, which found him guilty with a recommendation to the court for clemency, whereupon he was fined $10 under a suspended sentence. The several cases involve 12 bottles of booze which it is claimed were accidentally found while the triple alliance were out rabbit hunting south of town.

The boys returning from Fort Stevens are invited to be present at the next meeting of the Soldiers' auxiliary, Thursday evening, August 16, and in an informal way advise the local committees as to the particular needs of the members of First company now on garrison duty there.

Judge Dooley of the federal bench, San Francisco, injured in an auto accident near Ashland last week, left for home Tuesday morning, accompanied by a relative from San Francisco.

The annual meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be held on Thursday, August 21 at the library. Election of officers and other business.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Frohbach motored over to Klamath Falls last Saturday, returning on Tuesday morning. The outward trip was over the Green Mountain Spring route, the home journey for a change being via Topsy grade and Shovel Creek. The visitors noted busy activities in the milling interests of Klamath county.

Trustees of the Christian church have been leading crusades lately to mountain wood lots where the winter's fuel may be obtained at first cost.

Andrew J. McFadden, formerly assistant cashier of the First National Bank, has won a captain's commission after a three months' strenuous course of sprouts at the army officers' training school at San Francisco. Thanks to several years practice in Ashland's old national guard team, one of the strongest points to McFadden's credit was his expert rifle shooting, and by a margin of points led the whole training camp of 2500 men in this respect. His assignment as captain is with the infantry branch of the service.

A meeting of the Home Guard to secure further enlistments and perfect the organization in general is called for Thursday evening, August 16, at the armory. All are invited to join the guard which may be called upon in case of emergency. No medical examination required and no "dependent" complications follow enlistment.

Zemas Moody, local manager of the Pacific Fruit Express, has been transferred to Portland and will enter upon like duties in a wider scope of operations.

Quite a few this summer are making the Klamath Falls and Bend auto trip. The first unit of the relay is from Ashland to Klamath Falls by the Howard line over the Green Mountain Spring route, thence from the falls to Bend over another line which makes close connections with the Ashland service.

Funeral services of Ray F. Sayle, who died last Sunday, were held Tuesday afternoon at Elks temple. Interment was in Ashland cemetery. Deceased was a native of Nebraska and was 32 years of age. He leaves a wife, both parents and several brothers and sisters. For years he had been a valued employe of the California-Oregon Power Co., notably proficient as an expert line man.

Ed Roberts, wealthy cattleman of Hornbrook and well known throughout this section, is being examined as to sanity, suspicious symptoms having developed of late.

Fred Greenman and Ralph Gay, Southern Pacific employes at Dunsuir, have gone to Chicago to enlist in the aviation corps. Previous to leaving for the east, Greenman's relatives living here visited him at Dunsuir.

Salting under the prosaic name of "Albert Brown," the authorities have arrested a man whom they think is a German spy. He was apprehended at Dunsuir by Southern Pacific officers who discovered him in the vulgar act of pilfering clothing and supplies from a railroad crew this side of the Oregon line. At a preliminary hearing before Ashland authorities he was held to the grand jury and sent to the detention stockade somewhere near Jacksonville for safe keeping.

Mrs. H. P. Holmes, Miss Emma Joortetz and T. W. Acklin constitute a special committee from the Soldier Auxiliary organization which is soliciting supplies for the boys of First company. These may be left either at H. P. Holmes' store or the Ashland Trading company.

Siskiyou Chapter No. 21, R. A. M., meets on Thursday evening, August 16.

AVOID MISTAKES

No Need to Experiment With Medford Evidence at Hand.

There are many well-advertised kidney remedies on the market today, but none so well-recommended—none so Medford recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read this Medford case: J. H. Atwell, painter and paper-hanger, 129 W. Eleventh St., says:

"Doan's Kidney Pills are all that is claimed for them and I never hesitate to recommend anything I believe will be of benefit to others. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions when I have had any trouble with my back or kidneys and they have always done good work. A few doses now and then keeps my kidneys in good working order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Atwell uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
