

POINCARÉ SEES PERSHING'S ARMY PASS IN REVIEW

President of France and Commander-in-Chief Review American Troops—Welcomed by Pershing, Poincaré Expresses Pleasure—Joint Celebration of the LaFayette Day and Marne Battle.

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Sept. 6.—Delayed—By the Associated Press.—Wearing their British trench helmets and looking grim and warlike, the American troops passed in review before President Poincaré of the French republic today.

The French president, accompanied by Paul Painlevé, minister of war and marine; General Petain and several other French generals, was met at the American field headquarters by General Pershing and General Sibert. Today was the anniversary of the birth of LaFayette as well as the beginning of the battle of the Marne, and President Poincaré said that he had especially selected the date to pay his first visit to the American troops.

Democratic Simplicity.

The French president's reception was marked by democratic simplicity. He was dressed in his familiar blue knickerbocker suit with leather leggings and wore, as usual, a simple blue yachting cap. The review was held on the top of a plateau in the American training area and when President Poincaré and his party arrived early this morning the troops were drawn up at attention in regimental squares, a formation which seemed wonderfully formidable.

Pershing's Welcome. "We are being paid a great honor today in the visit of the president of the republic to which we have come to do our share in the fight for liberty," General Pershing said. "This happens also to be the anniversary of the beginning of the battle of the Marne, a day which will ever stand out in the history of the world. It is peculiarly fitting that this army should be so honored on this day, for I am sure it will give us a still greater feeling of patriotism and loyalty for the principles for which we shall fight and will instill into us a still higher spirit for the accomplishment of the task which is before us. It will make us, the advance guard of the American forces, feel still more keenly the responsibility that has been placed upon us."

General Pershing then presented President Poincaré and the president, stepping into the semi-circle, removed his cap as he began to speak in a clear, far-reaching voice. He spoke in French, but already a majority of the officers of the expeditionary force are acquainted with the language, and they followed each sentence closely.

Poincaré's Speech.

"It makes me very happy," President Poincaré said, "to be able to bring today the congratulations of the French republic to this very fine army commanded by General Pershing, and which I have just seen marching before me in such a magnificent manner. It filled me with emotion at seeing so many gallant officers and so many brave soldiers, who faced the dangers of the sea to come to the soil of France to defend the common cause of liberty. As President Wilson said the other day, we are fighting for the same ends, and the interests of the free United States are at stake everywhere. The allied armies are at grips with the enemy, whether it be in Flanders, before Verdun or on the Isonzo. "Today in all of the great cities of America is being celebrated the anniversary of the birth of LaFayette. Today also I will visit the tombs of the heroes of the battle of the Marne, the men fallen in that advance guard of the armies, which are now fighting for right and civilization. Thus our two countries are celebrating today two common anniversaries which must draw them still more closely together and inspire them in the struggle in which they are engaged."

Long Live Wilson.

President Poincaré concluded his address with the cry: "Long live President Wilson! Long live the United States." President Wilson was warmly applauded and then the officers gave three cheers and a tiger. The cheering was taken up by the troops in the distance and continued while the president and his party were moving off the reviewing field. One non-commissioned officer, who stood near the party during the speech, was greeted by some of his men when he rejoined his command, with the question, "What did he say?" "I don't know exactly," was the reply, "but I think he said to 'give 'em hell.'"

"That's the stuff," yelled a number of privates in chorus and the word ran all along up and down the long khaki lines amid another outburst of cheering.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Another important realty acquisition, enabling the city to further exercise absolute control of the Ashland Creek watershed, was clinched at the council meeting on Wednesday night. The tract comprises 300 acres of woodland on the west side of the creek, just above the lower intake. The purchase was from Martin Bros., the price being $4000, of which sum $1000 is to be paid in spot cash, the balance to remain on deferred payments. City officials consider this a wise investment, asserting that the price of the tract can be paid from wood cut therefrom—in fact, the city may go into the wood business.

Frank Madden, county commissioner, having resigned, his successor will be appointed by the county court in due season.

The Eastern Star Thimble club will meet in Masonic hall Tuesday afternoon, September 11, and decide as to continuing the semi-monthly gatherings "during the war." A full attendance is requested.

Engineer George Willard, recently seriously injured in a railroad wreck near Pollock, Cal., is recovering at the Southern Pacific hospital at Dunsmuir.

A daughter was born September 1 to Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Shepherd, formerly of Ashland, now residing at Bend.

The Chautauqua association at its annual meeting on Tuesday re-elected M. C. Reed as president. C. B. Lamkin is vice-president and G. G. Eubank treasurer. E. D. Briggs, C. B. Lamkin, Sylvester Patterson, Mrs. O. Winter and Mrs. Elizabeth Van Sant are the board of directors, who, previous to the 1918 assembly season, will choose a secretary. The 1917 assembly met all expenses and cleared up a last year's deficit of over $200. The new Chautauqua building construction exceeded the amount directly available for the purpose by over $5000. It is hoped to divert a substantial legacy, left to the association by a benefactor for a specific purpose, to the building fund. The concrete building on the grounds has been christened "Pioneer Hall," a welcome departure from "Chautauqua Annex" and "Old G. A. R. Hall."

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Shepherd have returned from a lengthy visit to central and northern Oregon. F. R. Fry of the Astoria National bank is visiting Ashland on a motor tour which will be extended to California. He is accompanied by his wife, who is a sister of the McNair brothers. Official announcement from State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill states that the Jackson County Teachers' institute will be held at Medford (October 29, 30 and 31. T. F. Leffler, proprietor of the Fourth street pool hall, was on Thursday in Recorder's court fined $10 for allowing minors to frequent his resort. Five boys were fined $5 each for playing and loitering about the premises. P. J. Amer is serving as night policeman temporarily. Otto Michel has received the regular appointment, and is away on leave of absence previous to serving actively on the job. W. L. Heady of Grants Pass is a new arrival here and has located in the Crocker residence, 452 B street. Among other Ashland teachers employed outside of Oregon boundaries, Miss Frances McWilliams returns to her work at Calexico, Cal., her fourth consecutive year in that locality. Miss Floy Cambers will again teach at Provo, Utah, her third year in that city. Miss Agnes Danford will return to Metlakatla, Alaska, a school conducted under government auspices, where she has taught for several years. J. F. Rocho, president-elect, secretary, on Thursday received from Washington the charter of the Ashland District of the Federal Farm Loan association. This being on hand, the next step is to perfect other details governing the organization and get down to business. Dave Castleman, formerly manager of the Dreamland theater in the earlier days of movie attractions here, and who for some time past has been identified with electrical engineering projects in eastern states, has completed a course in the officers' training school at Washington, D. C., and is in line for a captaincy in the engineer corps. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ling leave soon for southern California, where they will locate at Oxnard, in the center of the sugar-beet industry. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Greer accompany them and the latter may remain with the young folks indefinitely. Mr. and Mrs. Claire Beebe, newlyweds, whose joined matrimonial fortunes have linked together an Ashland and Minneapolis family, are visiting relatives here previous to locating permanently in the sunny south. Councilman W. W. Caldwell has been summoned to Lodi, Wis., called there by the serious illness of his father. He left Thursday evening, via Portland. Oliver Morton, enlisting from Ashland in the army as a mechanic, and who accompanied the early expeditionary force overseas, writes home very entertainingly of scenes and incidents in old England and in belle France. By aid of an interpreter he is studying French. C. D. Schell, former city councilman, also educator and orchardist of these parts, is now located with his family in the vicinity of Ketchikan, Alaska. The Epworth League will hold an "after-vacon" rally at the Methodist church, Sunday evening, September 9. The new Studio Ashland, relocated on the Plaza, opens September 15, under its former proprietor, B. H. Hinthorne. Joseph Goldman, an ex-rabbi, lectures at the Chautauqua Auditorium Saturday evening of this week. Subject, "Russia." Also at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. Dr. Bertha Sawyer and Miss Lydia McCall will pass their vacation amid Coos Bay scenes, visiting Fort Stevens and other northern localities before returning home. Mrs. L. J. Herr will reopen the remodeled and rejuvenated Hotel Ashland on or about September 10. Both the exterior and interior of the familiar old hostelry have been improved as to appearance and conveniences. The initial week of the school term witnesses an enrollment of 820, of which 180 are in the advanced departments, 270 in the Hawthorne building, and 370 in the Junior high school. In 1916 the figures were 879, and in 1915 the total was 855. Mr. and Mrs. Beals, of Springfield, Ore., the former an employe of the First National Bank in that city, have been here of late visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herndon. Their motor tour includes a trip to Crater Lake over the Siskiyou and via the Ager route. Tom Hill is nursing a fractured wrist, the result of cranking a cranky Ford. The ladies of the Congregational church will hold a pie sale at Dickerson's store on Saturday, this week. J. M. Beaver is in Klamath county, helping his son-in-law, Orville Glick, build a house on the latter's claim near Malin.

Hurrah! How's This Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers. Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF JACKSON COUNTY, OREGON. In the matter of the petition of R. E. Robinson, W. J. Hartzell and O. A. Manning, constituting the Board of Directors of the Talent Irrigation District of Jackson County, Oregon, for a confirmation of acts of said district. Notice of hearing. The petitioners pray: First, that all the proceedings pertaining to the organization of the Talent Irrigation District and any and all proceedings thereafter be decreed to be regular and legal and to be within the requirements of the laws of the State of Oregon, and that a decree be entered confirming the same.
