KOLB AND DILL FAMOUS COMEDIANS COMING TO PAGE

That Kolb and Dill, California's two popular Dutch dialect comedians, are now appearing in the most seemingly humorous of all their productions, has been most convincingly attested by San Francisco theatergoers who for the past fourteen weeks have been laughing "The High Cost of Loving" to a record-breaking run. So successful has been the engagement in the metropolis that at the conclusion of their fourteen solid weeks, the irresistible funmakers had played to 150,000 San Franciscans, or 25 per cent. of the entire population of the Bay City.

"The High Cost of Loving," as has been unanimously agreed by the drama critics, suits Kolb and Dill far better than any of their former offerings. It is a three-act farce with musical trimmings, in which domestic entanglements pile up with such rapidity that one laugh has scarcely died away before another is rocking the theater.

As usual, the comedians have surrounded themselves with a supporting company of exceptional ability. The principal supporting roles are in the very capable hands of Julia Blane, May Cloy, Henry Shumer, A. C. Van Slyke, Honora Hamilton, Lucille Chalfant. Then, of course, there is a bevy of most attractive singing girls, each of whom is a soloist.

One of the bright features of the show is supplied by the Kolb and Dill "surprise" orchestra, which travels with the company and offers many novelties in a musical way.

"The High Cost of Loving" is to play the Page theater here Wednesday evening, September 19.

A Woman's Happiness Depends Upon Care

Joy in its purest mood thrills in the ecstasy of motherhood. The expectant mother pictures a miniature figure of self and soul, and her thoughts converge on her for the days of suspense. For over three generations, thousands of women have used the tried and well-known preparation, "Mother's Friend". By its daily use the muscles which nature is expanding relax, steady; when baby is born strain is relieved. Tendency to nursing sickness or nausea is counteracted and the inflammation of breast glands is soothed; they are kept in good condition, and the time before baby comes is full of quiet repose and joyful anticipation. This makes greatly for the health of the mother and for the future good nature of the coming child.

RED CROSS GIFTS ACKNOWLEDGED BY COMPANY SEVEN

The Red Cross has received the following from Company Seven:

"I have yours of recent date advising that the scissors for the housewives had been sent, and this is to acknowledge receipt of them. The presence of Mr. Gates was most opportune at the time they arrived, as we took advantage of his presence to present the kits to the men yesterday evening at retreat. He made a few appropriate remarks in presenting them to the boys, and you may be assured that every one appreciates what the ladies of the Red Cross have done for them in thus giving to each individual a personal remembrance which will be useful every day.

There were plenty to supply every one who did not already have a housewife, a few being left over, which can be used to supply any new men that may enlist in the company, or to replace any that may be lost. I was directed to express the thanks of every member of the Seventh company to the Red Cross and to say that they will ever remember your interest in our behalf.

With kindest personal regards, I am, sincerely yours, A. J. VANCE, Captain, O. C. A. Ft. Columbia, Sept. 11.

Mexico and to Minister Morris at Stockholm, but neither has instructions to present the information to the government to which he is accredited.

Dispatches to the department from The Hague, dated yesterday, were that up to that time the disclosures made by Secretary Lansing of the manner in which Count Laxburg had used the Swedish minister in Argentina as a bearer of dispatches had not been published in Germany.

It is not expected that this government will take any further action except possibly to add to the story of intrigue by revealing more documents in its possession.

The Letter

The department's exposition of the von Eckhardt letter follows:

"Imperial Legation, Mexico, to His Excellency the Imperial Chancellor: "Herr Folke Cronholm, the Swedish charge d'affaires, since his arrival here, has not disguised his sympathy for Germany and has entered into close relations with this legation. He is the only diplomat through whom information from a hostile camp can be obtained. Moreover, he acts as intermediary for official diplomatic intercourse between this legation and your excellency. In the course of this he is obliged to go personally each time to the telegraph office, not seldom quite late at night, in order to hand in telegrams.

Urges Secrecy "It would perhaps be desirable, in order not to excite the enemy's suspicion, to treat with secrecy the matter of the issue of the patents until the end of the war, should the decision be favorable to my suggestion. This would mean that the matter would be communicated to no one but the recipient and his government, and even to them only under the seal of secrecy; while the publication of the bestowal of the decoration would be postponed until the end of the war.

"I should be particularly grateful to your excellency if I could be furnished with telegraphic news of the bestowal of the decoration, which I strongly recommend, in view of the circumstances detailed above. (Signed) "Van Eckhardt."

"I'll Show You How Corns Peel Off!"

Ever Peel a Banana Skin? That's It!

"I should worry about those corns—I just put corns 'Gels-It' on 'em. Corns used to pester the world into a frenzy, enduring pain, digging, eliciting toes, tinkering with plasters

"Gels-It" Puts Your Feet in Clover—It Ends Corns Quickly. and tape, trying to fix a corn so it wouldn't hurt. But now no one in the world should worry, because the moment you put "Gels-It" on, it means the end of a corn. There is nothing in the world like "Gels-It"—nothing so sure and certain—nothing that you can count on to take off a corn or callus every time, and without danger. This corn never grew that "Gels-It" will not get. It never irritates the flesh, never makes you too sore. Just two drops of "Gels-It" and presto! the corn-pain vanishes. Shortly you can peel the corn right off with your finger and there you are—corn-free and happy with the toe as smooth and corn-free as your palm. Never happened before, did it? Guess not. Get a bottle of "Gels-It" today from any drug store, you need pay no more than 25c, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Medford and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Medford Pharmacy, Heath's Drug Store, Strang's Drug Store, and Leon B. Haskins.
