

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

About 50 autos filled with boosters joined the demonstration parade to Ashland yesterday afternoon to boost the coming county fair. Enroute the parade drove around Talent with tooting horns. At Ashland the procession passed over the principal streets distributing hand bills and calling attention in various ways to the fair.

Dr. Heine fits glasses correctly. At the Natatorium and vicinity there was much bustle and activity by many persons in arranging for the county fair next week. All the stalls have been built for the horses and cattle, and pens for the sheep and hog exhibits and quite a lot of stock is already on the ground. Guards will be maintained each night during the fair to watch the live stock.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heath and Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln McCormack received letters Friday from their sons who are serving with the 18th engineer reserve corps somewhere in France. The letters, which were undated and bore no post mark date, were mailed from Liverpool shortly after the arrival of the regiment in England enroute to France. Although well censored the letters were full of interesting news to the parents of the two boys. Ralph Aitken is also a member of this regiment and as he is a good letter writer his parents are hourly expecting a letter from him.

Saturday was another heavy day at the public market and there were not enough of several commodities to meet the demand, especially of tomatoes. The outlook is for a scarcity of home grown potatoes from now on unless some unheard of crops turn up soon.

A Western Electric farm lighting plant will be in operation at the Jackson county fair.

Metz cars at Riverside Garage. The new policemen to replace Eugene Amman, resigned, will not be appointed by Mayor Gates until at next Tuesday night's council meeting. There are several good candidates for the position. The mayor had practically decided on a man but when he took the matter up with the council at the council conference Thursday night as a matter of courtesy, some objection was raised and the matter was laid over until Tuesday evening's meeting.

Irvin S. Cobb in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post advises those who seek prominence in New York to be a type or become one. "Develop some idiosyncrasy of person or temperament and exhibit it persistently in public places until the newspapers take cognizance of it," says he.

This is exactly the manner in which Charles Ray as The Clodhopper becomes a Broadway celebrity in the new Triangle play by Monte M. Katterjohn, produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, which opened at the Page theater this afternoon and will be shown again tonight.

He is distinctly a type, without any premeditation on his part. Attired in a suit which his mother purchased from a mail order house, he goes to New York from a New Hampshire village with the determination to be a somebody.

government has decided not to take extreme measures against Korniloff, as it does not wish not to appear revengeful.

"The story," M. Kishkin said, "is so tangled that only an inquiry by a commission can elucidate the truth. Meantime we have reason to believe that the revolt was due to a misunderstanding with Korniloff's emis-

Coalition Cabinet.

Both parties accept the principle of a coalition cabinet and have no objection to constitutional democrats becoming ministers on condition that they immediately leave that party. The grounds for this decision is the view of the parties that the constitutional democrats as a whole, although there is no evidence of their complicity in the rebellion, and in the demonstrations at Moscow, sided with and encouraged General Korniloff. The parties further demand the convocation of a new congress on the lines of that held in Moscow from which, however, the members of all four dumas would be excluded. It is suggested that the congress meet not later than September 23 and sit until the meeting of the constituent assembly.

Secretary Soskice added that Premier Kerensky now is in excellent health, despite the fact that through the recent crisis he has worked eighteen hours daily.

Courtesy

This bank has gained a reputation among our fellow citizens for unvarying courtesy to all depositors.

We do not believe this is an accident. It has been our policy for years to do business in as pleasant a way as possible, because it is our belief that business pleasantly done is business well done.

This courtesy distinctly leaves out of account the size of the customer's deposit. That's why it is appreciated.

Pain

Here is a message to suffering women from Mrs. Kathryn Edwards, of R. F. D. 4, Washington Court House, Ohio. "I am glad to tell, and have told many women, what I suffered before I knew of Cardui and the great benefit to be derived from this remedy. A few years ago I became practically helpless."

Cardui

The Woman's Tonic

"I was very weak," Mrs. Edwards goes on to say, "and could not stoop without suffering great pain. . . . Nothing seemed to help me until I heard of Cardui and began the use of it. . . . I gradually regained my strength. . . . I am now able to do all my work. If you need a tonic take Cardui. It is for women. It acts gently and reliably and will probably help you as it helped this lady."
