The St. Mark's Episcopal church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning, when Rev. Liam B. Hamilton united in marriage Miss Katherine Esterly and old Scott McCaughey, members of prominent Seattle families. The church was artistically decorated with pink and green, pink asters, gladioli and roses, palms and trailing vines being used in pretty arrangement on the chancel and roof. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white tulle and tulle dress, a white hat and carried a bouquet of pink Perla d'Oro roses. The groom's boutonniere was a bar pin of tulle set with diamonds and pearls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Max Esterly of Seattle and is a graduate of the State university of Washington and a member of the Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. McCaughey is a graduate of the Hotchkiss Military school at San Suel, Cal., and later attended the University of California at Berkeley.

After the ceremony the young couple left for Portland and later will travel over Vancouver island, returning to Seattle November 1, where they will make their home. The wedding guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Esterly, father and mother of the bride; Mrs. Joseph Mortimer Anson of Whitewater, Wis., grandfather of the bride; Dr. and Mrs. J. Reddy, Mrs. Joseph Lyon Mohr of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. John Van of Waldo, Mr. and Mrs. A. (son Adams of Cordova, Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark of Tak-

Much enthusiasm is being manifested in the delightfully arranged card party for Friday, September 28, at St. Mary's academy. Under the able management of Mrs. O. J. Patton the affair is attracting the attention of Medford players of bridge, five hundred and other games. Those who are interested may secure tables or individual seats as they may wish. Before the playing begins there are to be a few musical numbers, "Galop di Bavaria" at three pianos, a violin selection and Hawaiian songs by the Ukalele-Banjo club of the music department. After cards, while tea is being served, there will be other ukalele numbers.

Wednesday evening, Reames chapter entertained at the Masonic hall in honor of the worthy grand matron of the state of Oregon, Mrs. Lena C. Mendelhall, who was here for her official visit to this chapter. Mrs. Mendelhall was accompanied by Mrs. Albee B. Cowell, grand marshal. The chapter room was prettily decorated with red and green and the banquet room was in yellow. After the business meeting a banquet was served and a social time enjoyed.

The Red Cross has been asked by the Seventh company to furnish more gun wipers. Using canteen or similar material is out, but in 2 1/2-inch squares. This is work the children can do, and they are asked to come to Red Cross headquarters on Monday to help prepare them. There is some material on hand, but if anyone has any scraps they can be used. Each one is asked to bring a pair of scissors and help do their bit.

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the church Wednesday afternoon, September 26, at 2:30. At this time Dr. Maud Adams, a returned missionary from India, will speak, telling of her work and experiences in India. Members of the missionary societies of Phoenix, Central Point and Jacksonville will be present and all friends and members of the society here are urged to attend.

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Seely entertained with an informal dinner Friday evening for their son, Claire, who leaves tonight for Stanford university, where he will attend school. The guests were: Miss Ercel Stewart, Miss Catherine Swen, Norman Normile and Claire Seely.

Mrs. S. S. Smith left Wednesday evening for El Dorado, Kan., where she will visit her father and mother, Captain and Mrs. W. L. Riley. Mrs. Smith will visit a day with friends in Denver and will also visit relatives in Wichita and other Kansas points.

The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church will have their homecoming on Wednesday, September 26, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Walter Crank, 26 Portland avenue. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Frances McQuiston of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived in Medford this week and will spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Josephine McQuiston.

Miss Winifred Smith of Los Angeles, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mult, at Ashland, is now the guest of Miss Marie Gates.

Marvin Fisher will leave tonight for Medford, Cal., where he will attend school this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Schuler have returned from a trip to different parts of Washington.

The only strictly local item of the past few weeks was the concert by the Medford Choral society last evening at the Natatorium, as a feature of the county fair. As these notes are written before the date of the performance, a detailed account is not possible in this issue. The program was as follows:
Choral numbers—Waltz from Faust (Gounod); "Echo" (MacFarren); March from "Tannhauser" (Wagner); recitative and chorus, Mr. Beckwith, soloist; "El Meter," from "Stabat Mater" (Rossini). Violin solo, "Valse Trieste" (Sibelius). Carlton Jones; choral number, "Song of the Triton" (Molloy).

Part 2—Piano solo with orchestra; two numbers from "Peer Gynt Suite" (Grieg); Miss Flora Gray; vocal solo, aria from "Trovatore" (Verdi), Miss Florence Hazelrigg.
Choral numbers—"When the Heart is Young" (Dudley Buck), "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust" (Gounod), "Moonlight and Music" (Piusuit).

Because we hope very soon to "follow suit," perhaps a little news from "way across the continent" concerning a music festival may be of some interest. The one in question is the twenty-first annual Maine music festival, which includes a grand opening concert, orchestral matinee, third, fourth and fifth concert, the latter a Red Cross benefit, all of which will be presented in Bangor and Portland. The same director, Mr. Chapman, has held this position for twenty years. The most auspicious announcements concerning the festival are the appearance of Madame Galli Curri, heralded everywhere as a second Patti; Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the president, an orchestral number by Henry Hadley, past conductor of the Seattle and San Francisco symphony orchestra, and the requested appearance of Madame Alma Tracy, at present a resident of this valley, as concert pianist. Because of business interests, Madame Tracy will not be able to fulfill the engagement, and Percy Grainger has been chosen instead. Madame Tracy was to have played a concerto with cadenzas by Reinecke.

Leo Henning, who played the part of Lawrence Tucker with Kolb and Dill Wednesday night, is an extremely versatile young man. A year ago Mr. Henning was one of the principals in a big Hawaiian act on the Orpheum circuit. He is a wonderful dancer, possesses a good singing voice, and as shown in "The High Cost of Loving," handles comedy roles with all the verve of youth. In playing Lawrence Tucker, Mr. Henning just obeys the obvious rule of etiquette, "Always be natural." The revue in the third act was extremely pleasing. The refined manner of the

A PARIS FAVORITE

Marked favor will be given all-black costumes this winter. An authoritative photo from Paris indicates the popularity of all-black even for girls. The gown is designed for semi-dress occasions, or informal evening functions. It is made of black taffeta—and note that it is plest as well as the most elegant of all Parisian evening gowns. This frock is typical of prevailing Paris modes—there is no particular feature to distract the attention. The entire thought of the designer was given to the general outline and the "ensemble" or effect of the gown as a whole.

Albert Parr of "The Bostonians" fame, spent four days in Medford and vicinity last week enjoying several fishing trips as the guest of our famous angler, "Toggerly Bill." Mr. Parr is at present in vaudeville. His experience is indeed par with many who attain position and prominence after years of striving against adverse circumstances in every form. A member of a musical family from London, a Canadian by birth and American by adoption, Mr. Parr began his life work by singing as a child in Sunday school entertainments. Later in an amateur production of the "Mikado" he sang "Nanki Poo." As a chorus man in "The Isle of Champagne" he understudied the principal roles and exemplified the beauty of preparedness when the leading man was taken ill, and Mr. Parr was given "his chance."

A wedding of interest to many Jackson county residents occurred Yreka, Cal., at the residence of E. H. Mackay, Monday, September 17, when he married Benjamin Harrison James and Miss Mildred Sell. The groom is one of the missing young men of Maedocel, and the bride the daughter of O. Bissell and wife, former residents of Table Rock and Medford, conducting the hotel at Maedocel. The young couple were accompanied by the parents of the bride later in the day motored with in to Medford, and have since visited at the home of the bride's aunt, E. S. Hitzler, in Medford, and her friends of the valley. They make their home at Hotel Maedocel for the present, having returned later in the week.

Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church a farewell reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Mordoff. During the evening short talks were given by A. Canaday, Mr. Mordoff and J. C. Rollins. Mrs. Heine faded the guest with readings and a visit from a Victrola was enjoyed, for which refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Mordoff left day morning for Maryland, where they will visit their son, Myron Mordoff, and family, and where they probably reside. En route they will visit another son and family in Va.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bissell of Table Rock was the scene of a merry gathering Tuesday evening, September 18, the occasion of a reception given to Mr. and Mrs. B. H. James from Maedocel, who were spending their honeymoon in the valley. The bride, Miss dreg Bissell, was a former Table Rock girl, and the gathering consisted of old friends and neighbors. The young couple received many presents with hearty wishes for a long happy life together. The evening was spent with music and visits, the hostess serving refreshments.

The opening meeting for the season of the Greater Medford club will be Monday afternoon at 2:30 in Hotel Holland, at which time a Geraldine Theiss will sing and Emerick will render a piano selection. A large attendance is desired, as delegates are to be elected to the state convention and other business matters of importance will transacted. All members are requested to come prepared to pay dues.

Mrs. Homer Harvey and daughters, Margaret, Opal and Alberta, and son, Burn, returned Thursday from Seattle, Wash., where they have been for the summer.

Mrs. Charles M. English entertained the Monday club at her home on Friday.
