INTENSE ARTILLERY ON FRENCH FRONT

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Intense artillery fighting occurred last night on the Verdun front between Beaumont and Bezonvaux, the war office reports.

The statement follows:
"Brief and violent artillery actions occurred on the Aisne front in the sector between Harcelosse and Fresnois. An enemy attack on our small posts north of Joux was repulsed. Our detachments penetrated the German lines south of Cerny, northwest of Berniercourt and in the Champagne near Tahure. We brought back ten prisoners."

On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the artillery fighting was continued with intensity between Beaumont and Bezonvaux. With Medford train to Medford made.

RIPPEY ARRESTED FOR SEINING AT GOLD RAY DAM

Bert Rippey, persistent offender against the fish and game laws, is again in trouble, having been captured at the Gold Ray dam at 1 a. m. Wednesday, together with "John Doe" Ferguson, by Deputy Game Warden Ed Walker of this district and Deputy Game Warden J. J. Walker of the Ashland district.

The game wardens watched the two alleged offenders fishing for some time under the fishways of the dam with a seine. Waiting until Rippey and Ferguson left the dam with gunnysacks over their shoulders, the officers closed in on them with drawn revolvers and placed them under arrest. The wet seine was also taken into custody as evidence, but no fish were in the sacks or elsewhere.

The prisoners were brought to Medford and locked in the city prison. This forenoon they were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Taylor and pleaded not guilty to the charge of unlawfully fishing with a seine net. Their hearing was set for late this afternoon, and they were held in bail of $250 each.

Rippey has a poaching record from previous years, and early this last summer was arrested for violating the fish laws and was sentenced to twenty-five days in jail. He served this sentence, and while in jail made threats that when he got out he was going to wipe out Deputy Game Warden Walker, Justice Taylor, Prosecutor Roberts and the entire editorial staff of the Mail Tribune for printing the news.

It was because of these threats that the deputy wardens in arresting Rippey and Ferguson last night took no chances, but made the arrests with drawn revolvers.

Ferguson, who refused to give his first name, lives in the Ray Gold-Tolo neighborhood. It is probable that if at their hearing this afternoon the two men escape conviction, County Prosecutor Roberts will prefer two other charges against them.

Rippey and Ferguson made a special request of the arresting officers and Justice Taylor that nothing about the arrest be allowed to leak out in the newspapers.

ANOTHER CHANGE IN POLICE FORCE

Medford's police force is again up in the air because of another one of those kaleidoscopic changes that have been so numerous this summer.

Tuesday afternoon Charles Zimmerman, who has been taking Night Officer Timothy's place while the latter is acting chief in the absence of Chief Hittson for several weeks in eastern Oregon, resigned to take effect at once. He only recently came in from a ranch on Ross Lane to take the police job and was a candidate for the permanent appointment to fill the place made vacant by the recent resignation of Night Officer Eugene Amman. He now returns to the orchard, his employers having raised his wages from $60 to $85 a month.

Perl Davis, of Siskiyou highway fame, went on duty late yesterday afternoon in Zimmerman's place and will hold down the job until October 1, when Mayor Gates is expected to permanently fill the vacancy.

The only candidate now for the vacancy is J. O. Gerking, who has been temporarily filling the job since Amman's resignation.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who arrived here last night, went to Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., today for a whirlwind inspection of the army cantonment there. He has set aside one hour and a half for a visit to the army camp during which he is to inspect the buildings and make a speech to the 18,000 men now quartered at the new barracks. He will return to Chicago in time to make an address tonight at the stockyards.

LIBRARY FUND GETS WELL UNDER WAY

The library war fund campaign is getting well under way in Medford and word has come from outside of town that work is being done there. Tuesday, approaching $60 had been turned in.

The ladies of the Seventh company auxiliary have been among the first in the field and are meeting with good response. Subscription blanks are being circulated by committees and members of other clubs and reports will be made in the paper as the funds come in.

The Library War Fund Week campaign is for money—a fund of one million dollars; it is not for a campaign of books. Donors to this fund are urged to realize that cash alone will provide the buildings, expert librarians, indexing systems, new books and current periodicals necessary to the soldiers. For this reason books cannot be counted as money value toward the million dollar fund. The question the library war council has to solve is, not what the million dollars shall be spent for, but how far it can be made to go. Every day demands on the fund become larger. The million dollars is needed in actual cash. Contributions of books can be looked on only as supplementary to the million dollar cash fund.

RAID PAVING CAMPS BUT FIND NO BOOZE

R. C. Porter, special liquor investigating officer for the county, with several assistants, yesterday raided two camps in the Siskiyou of employees engaged in work on the Pacific highway. The raid was without result as far as finding any liquor concealed in the camps. A number of foreigners, mostly Italians, are employed on the highway work, and the authorities have known for some time of their having liquor. In fact, there have been several disturbances in the camps because of drinking.

Those familiar with the camps laughed when they heard that the raiders could find no liquor. They said the drinkers were too intelligent to keep their booze in camp, but had it cached on the mountain sides.

EXTRA GUARD ON SISKIYOU FROM COMPANY "C" OFF

Because of the heavy movement of drafted troops northward was practically over, Captain Crossley of C company last night pulled in forty-five members of the company who had been on extra duty for a week reinforcing the regular guard details of the company on duty in the Siskiyou and in the Leland-Wolf Creek district.

From the Siskiyou to Wolf Creek during the week members of C company kept up a continuous patrol over the 100 miles of territory.

There was not a single accident or disturbance in this long stretch while the many trains bearing the 10,000 soldiers were passing over it. Captain Crossley regards the record as remarkable, especially in view of the fact that the soldiers on the trains, young men from all walks of life, traveled without any restraint or discipline whatever.

Whenever a military train reached the Siskiyou either Captain Crossley or Lieutenant Alexander would get on board and ride on it the 100 miles to the end of C company's guard territory, and this was the only time that the soldiers on the trains saw or heard of an army officer over this long stretch.

The only trouble heard of during the week between San Francisco and Portland was a row near Sacramento in one of the coaches between several soldiers in which one of them was stabbed with a knife. The wound was not serious.

C company picked up about a dozen or more of the drafted soldiers who by accident got left at train stops between the Siskiyou and Leland, and the officers of the company saw that the soldiers were put on other trains bound for American Lake, Wash. The Southern Pacific railroad co-operated in seeing that these boys got to American Lake, as their fares had been paid at the starting point by the government.

TRADE CRITICISMS
NEW YORK TIMES:
"All the thrills of 'Within the Law' preserved in the film."
NEW YORK AMERICAN:
"There is a thrill in every scene, and in many cases stronger emphasis of the situations has been achieved in the picture than in the play."
NEW YORK WORLD
"Bayard Veiller's melodrama, which was exciting enough on the stage, is even more exciting on the screen."
NEW YORK GLOBE:
"Enthusiasm of audience recalled the reception the drama received on the stage when it was first presented. The drama is even more exciting on the screen. Alice Joyce does the finest acting she has done for the camera. Harry Morey is excellent."
