

HEALTH PROBLEM AS RELATED TO RELIGIOUS LIFE

"Religion and Health" will be the theme discussed in the First Methodist church Sunday night in which a number of the churches will unite in a union service. This will be the opening of the series of Chautauqua health lectures which have been presented by J. C. Elliott in many churches of the nation. With the masses the problem of health has been a sadly neglected problem. Dr. C. J. Hallas is deeply interested in the problem of health as related to the problems of religion, and has previously held similar health campaigns in churches he has served. The problem of health as related to the problems of religion has become a vital issue in most of the great churches of the nation at the present time. A sick man is never at his best in highest endeavor.

Health a National Asset.

The United States government recognizes health as one of her greatest assets. Never in her history has she recognized this more than at the present. She is extending billions at the present time for training in health the young men who are offering their service in defense of liberty, freedom and the principles of democracy. She has laid her hands on practically every physical director of note in the nation for training her soldiers for health and better efficiency. Thomas Y. M. C. A. physical directors in connection with the religious work of the association have been the pioneers in teaching man's moral and religious obligation to care for and develop his physical life. Bible Sunday said in his great meeting now in progress in Los Angeles in which already over 20,000 have hit the sweetest trail: "I would not take a million dollars for what I learned as a young man in the Y. M. C. A. concerning the care of my health and my body. I could never have done the work I am doing without this knowledge."

Wastage of Neglect.

Few recognize the fearful perils of neglecting to care for the physical form. This is being stressed today as never before in the history of the nation. Sixty per cent of our manhood between the ages of 21 and 31 have been adjudged unfit for military service in their country's cause because of ill-health and undeveloped bodies. This is an appalling record as furnished by our extension boards. These figures are furnished by Representative Kahn of California. This means that six out of every ten young men of our nation have been neglected in the development of their physical life that an army of our present needs them as fit physically for service in defense of their country. High school records show that their graduates are a year older than they were twenty years ago. These records also show that the young man who graduates from our high school today in two weeks shorter than the graduate of twenty years ago. The health problem is the problem of the age. Link this with the problem of the religious life and you have the greatest problems of the world's age that ever dawned on humanity.

Problems of Health.

One of the mightiest problems of a twentieth century civilization is the development of the physical life of the masses. We are marshaling for war the flower of the young manhood of our nation. We are training them for physical development. What about the 50 per cent that is left behind? They must be trained for higher physical development. Thousands of them may be developed into strong manhood, if the current of their lives is turned into proper channels. Physical training must not only become a part of our church life. It must have its place in a large measure in all our public schools. It must become a part of the training in our home life. The man and the woman at 40 must train for health or become a physical and nervous wreck before they reach the half-century mark. These problems will be discussed in a sermon-lecture Sunday night by J. C. Elliott and in subsequent lectures.

Worth Their Weight in Gold.

No man can do his best when suffering from backache, rheumatic pains, swollen joints, sore muscles or other symptoms of kidney trouble. B. H. Stone, 318 N. 7th St., Reading, Pa., writes: "I contracted a most severe case of kidney trouble. I gradually grew worse and for months was unable to attend to business. I began to use Foley's Kidney Pills and soon found the pain was gone and I have had no aches since. They have been worth their weight in gold to me." Sold everywhere.

GRANGE LEADERS APPEAL TO FARMERS FOR LIBERTY BONDS

To the Farmers of Oregon:

As one who is engaged in agriculture, you know that out of the soil comes the basic wealth of the nation. The men who produce food and buy liberty bonds are the men who will help the boys in the trenches win this war. The farmer won the war of independence. He was the bulwark of the country in Lincoln's time. By the farmer is meant every man who is engaged in agricultural pursuits.

A large part of the money derived from this liberty loan will go directly back to farmers and agricultural interests in payment for supplies for the armies of our country and for sale to the allied governments. All the loans made by our government to the allies are for the purpose of enabling them to pay for produce of the soil and manufactures produced in this country.

This is a direct appeal to the agricultural interests of Oregon. We ask you to subscribe to the full extent of your ability, persuade your employees and help them to do the same, and actively advocate the sale of the bonds. If it should happen that you are at present unable for each, go to your banker and he will assist you to any extent. Your business is giving you a liberal return, and it is nothing less than your duty to assist the government that supplies the land from which you largely profit. Get busy, as this is short and the allotment expires on October 27.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC APPORTIONS BONDS

Of the Southern Pacific second subscription of five million dollars to the Liberty loan two and one-half million dollars has been allotted to the Pacific system. President William Spruille announced today. That amount will be pre-arranged to the various states as follows: California $1,670,000; Oregon, $250,000; Nevada, $270,000; Utah, $50,000; Arizona, $250,000; New Mexico, $50,000. Total $2,500,000.

As was the case with the first Liberty loan, this method apparently will be of material assistance in aiding the various states traversed by the company's lines to make their appropriations prescribed by the treasury department. The subdivision of these amounts to the counties and towns will be announced later. Subscriptions by the employees of the company are rolling into the general office at 45 Market street and today approximate $150,000 with every indication that the final total will compare favorably with the first subscription by the employees of $1,800,000.

FRUIT GROWERS ARE REBUKED FOR SEEKING EXEMPTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Resolutions adopted recently by the California fruit exchange, setting forth that the farmers are handicapped by shortage of labor and proposing a national movement to convince President Wilson of the necessity of exempting farmers as a class from the army draft, have drawn a sharp reply from the food administration.

Mr. Sullivan Replies.

The reply, made public today, was written by J. W. Sullivan, head of the administration's division of interests of labor and the consumer, and addressed to J. L. Nagle, general manager of the fruit exchange, who had forwarded a copy of the resolutions. Mr. Sullivan wrote:

"Why the California fruit exchange should be among the first to send to Washington complaint of alleged hardship thru the draft is not made clear. The produce handled by your organization is not essential war food. Feasible fresh fruits are not to be classed with wheat, corn and meat.

"No body of men should mislead the public or claim an undue privilege. And it is to be said to the credit of the farmers as a class that they are not complainants. They are doing their duty practically. They are not holding mass meetings of protest or passing resolutions not based on precisely stated facts or thoughtful deliberation.

Origin Is Questioned.

"It would be interesting to know the origin of the resolutions passed by your organization. In two other cases coming under observation resolutions expressed in somewhat similar language, petitioning for exemption of farmers, have attracted the attention of the department of justice. Pacifism and pro-Germanism may be looked for as operating behind the scenes in unexpected quarters and misleading loyal, innocent victims of conspiracy.

"As to exemption by class, the principle is opposed by the common labor advisory committee, council of national defense, if farmers were exempted the industrial wage workers could make the same claim on equally good grounds, should in any degree their work relate to the war. In such circumstances, where would the country get its soldiers?"

BOYS IN FRANCE BUY LIBERTY BONDS

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Oct. 20.—By the Associated Press.—Subscriptions of several million dollars to the Liberty loan have been made by the American soldiers during the loan campaign which has been in progress more than two weeks. The total will be announced in Washington after the close of the day.

General Pershing made a stirring patriotic appeal on behalf of the loan, and the keenest rivalry has developed among the regiments, companies and even squads. The heavy artillery is leading today with a total of nearly $200,000. Many of the batteries have not yet been heard from. In some companies of infantry every officer and man has made a subscription to be met by installments from his pay. In one field battery 23 men subscribed for a total of $22,000.

TEACHERS ASKED TO ASSIST PLEDGE CARD CAMPAIGN

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, has issued the following circular letter to the public schools:

To the Schools of Oregon:

I most earnestly urge that every teacher in the state shall so familiarize herself immediately with the message contained in the enclosed pamphlet, that in the next two weeks she shall radiate the facts and appeal of it into every home into which her influence reaches. Our first duty now is to our country—to win the war. Other things can wait, if need be.

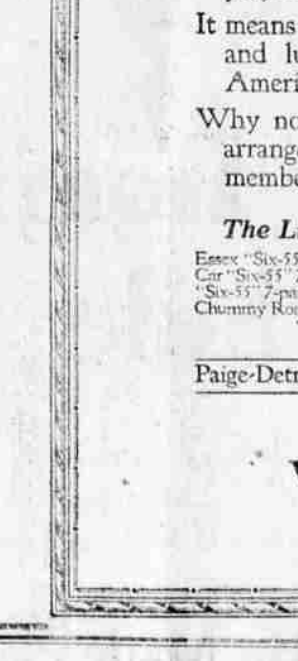

I had pledged to the Oregon pledge card campaign committee that the schools, if given the chance to do their bit, could and would obtain the signing of the pledges described in this pamphlet in a very large part of the homes of the state. Representatives of Mr. Hoover who came from Washington a few days ago for a conference on this subject, feared, while the children could take the cards home and probably in most cases obtain the signature, that the parents in many instances would not be sufficiently impressed by the importance of the work nor obtain an adequate understanding of its meaning. And, of course, the mere signing of this card is of no value if people forget to observe it. That will not save wheat and beef and sugar and butter.

Notwithstanding these fears, the Oregon state executive committee have decided to trust the schools and the children. They believe we can carry the message home to the hearts of the people. We must not fail. Helped by the publicity that will be given thru the women's organizations and press, platform and pulpit, we must make the state vibrant with this movement by October 21. Every teacher becomes the captain of a company, marshaled for a definite part in the war.

With the utmost confidence in the result,

J. A. CHURCHILL,
State Superintendent of Schools,
Salem, Oregon, October 19, 1917.
