

MEMORIAL DAY DESIGNATED FOR VICTORY PRAYERS

WASHINGTON, May 14.—National Memorial day, Thursday, May 30, is designated by President Wilson in a proclamation issued today as a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting.

The proclamation, issued in response to a resolution by congress, follows: "By the president of the United States,

"A proclamation: "Whereas, the congress of the United States, on the second day of April, last, passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, by the senate, (the house of representatives concurring), that, it being a duty peculiarly incumbent in a time of war, humbly and devoutly to acknowledge our dependence on Almighty God and to implore His aid and protection, the president of the United States be, and hereby is respectfully requested to recommend a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, to be observed by the people of the United States with religious solemnity and the offering of fervent supplications to Almighty God for the safety and welfare of our cause, His blessings on our arms, and a speedy restoration of an honorable and lasting peace to the nations of the earth;

"And, whereas, it has always been the reverend habit of the people of the United States to turn in humble appeal to Almighty God for His guidance in the affairs of their common life,"

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the thirtieth day of May, a day always freighted with sacred and stimulating memories, a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, and do exhort my fellow citizens of all faiths and creeds to assemble on that day in their several places of worship and there, as well as in their homes, to pray Almighty God that He may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things that are just and right and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in conformity with His will; beseeching Him that He will give victory to our armies as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true, bringing us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest because it is founded on mercy, justice and good will.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia this eleventh day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighteen, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-second.

"WOODROW WILSON, "By the president, "ROBERT LANSING, "Secretary of State."

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

The last time that I wrote for the Medford Mail Tribune I was at the home of my old friend, Mr. M. C. Davis of Wolf creek, and in that letter told something of what he and his brother-in-law were doing in the way of mining and promised in my next to tell something more about the mine and of my trip to Coy creek.

After visiting the mine on Saturday afternoon and looking over the work they had done on Sunday morning we started, that is, Mr. Davis and his daughter Miss Esther, and I, for a school house about eight miles above Glenzie on Coy creek, passing over the noted Coy creek hill, that used to be such a terror in early days to teamsters—the sixties, but now is one of the finest roads in the country.

The route has been changed so that after reaching the summit of the hill going from Wolf creek, the road turns off to the left and runs along the side of the mountain in a northwesterly direction, making a detour of about five miles, so as to take in the city of Glendale, but it is a lively grade, eliminating a long steep hill that in the days of teaming from Roseburg to Jacksonville, it used to take sometimes three or four hours to climb. Passing on over the fine road through some of the finest farms in southern Oregon, we stopped at the little school house and in a short time the children and other members of the Sunday school collected and after an interesting session of Sunday school Brother Davis preached one of his good old fashioned gospel sermons. There we met quite a number of our friends, and among them was Mr. O. P. McGee. Going to his home we met all the rest of his family, except his oldest daughter, Mabel, who is living with her husband at the Dalles. Mr. McGee for several years was a resident of Eagle Point and Medford, and the family have a number of very warm friends living in this section. He and his boys have bought what used to be known as the Levens stage station, one of the best farms in the Cow creek valley, and they are turning their attention to the dairy business, as they now have 21 pure bred Holstein cows and three jersey, and something like 200 head of hogs, 97 head now about ready for market, beside other stock. After dinner Mr. Davis returned home and I remained with the family until Tuesday evening when Mr. Davis and family came over to make a visit and take me to his home with them, reaching there about 11 o'clock p. m.

In my last I spoke of the amount of dirt they moved in the mine and of the manner of taking care of the rock, etc. But the most interesting part is the cleaning up the "bed rock." The debris is all washed up into piles, as before stated, and then the bed rock is left bare with the exception of a little dirt and what gold naturally settles in the crevices of the rock. Then the hydraulic men turns the pipe onto that and all of the remaining dirt is washed into the lowest part of the channel and carefully gathered up and put into the flume; and then the tedious part of the work begins. For every foot if not every inch of that bed rock has to be gone over with a steel scraper and pick, and often they have to go down as much as a foot where they find a soft place, where the gold accumulates and all has to be gone over with a brush specially prepared for the work until they can find no gold. This is attended to after the water falls so that they cannot clean off the surface, but in this mine it seems to pay, but how well remains to be seen. Friday morning after bidding the family adieu, Mr. Davis started posthaste to catch the S. P. train and when we reached the depot, found that it was one and one-half hours late, but finally we started, and I could but notice the effect the fine rain had had on the growing crops, and the nearer we came to Medford, the brighter the prospect and the more noticeable the improvement in the crops.

On reaching Medford I went to a cafe, procured my dinner and was soon in company with Charley Terrill, Jr., of Brownboro, son of one of the prominent republican candidates for sheriff, on my way home. Reaching home found that Rev. Driver was still there with his chapel car holding services, and that W. L. Melizer was advertised to lecture that night, on the "Background of the Present War." Mr. Melizer had delivered his lecture on Mexico some four weeks ago and some of the hearers, because he gave the historical facts about our deal, as a nation, with that country, connected with the war of forty-six, threw cold water on the move, accusing him of being pro-German, but by the time he got through with his lecture last night, I think everyone was convinced that he is strictly loyal to the old blue stocking stripe. The commencement was a prayer by Rev. Mr. Driver, the Baptist evangelist, and a song by Mrs. R. A. Wideman, "Is a Long Way to Tipperary," the marching anthem on the battlefields of Europe, and she sang it as no one but an English lady could sing it, giving the regular English accent, and reading a poem by Prof. T. C. Barnard. In the lecture Mr. M. took us back to the days of the formation of the several small states that was moulded into the German empire, and showed the cause of the rivalry between England, Russia and Germany. But his lecture must be heard to be appreciated, but every one I have talked to on the subject speak in the highest terms of it. The receipts of the evening were turned over to the Junior Red Cross society of Eagle Point. The Antelope R. C. S. have sent a nice large box of gun wipers and wash cloths to the Eagle Point Junior Red Cross society through Mrs. B. A. Wideman, their school clerk, for the use of the soldiers.

Mrs. Jeanette Montgomery has moved to Kerby, Josephine county, and has sent her subscription for the Medford Mail Tribune, as she wants to hear the news from home.

Among the passengers on the P. & E. train Saturday morning was J. N. Fleishner, fish and game commissioner; Carl D. Shoemaker, state game warden of Portland, and George Putnam, the editor of the Medford Mail Tribune. They were on their way to visit the Butte Falls fish hatchery. W. S. Baker and Charles Beale were also passengers on the P. & E.

Mr. B. R. Berelson and L. M. Wilson of L. C. came in on the P. & E. and took passage on the E. P.-L. C. stage for home.

Sam Courtney and wife were here Saturday morning. Mrs. Courtney had come in to get 100 little chicks she had ordered by express from Petaluma, Calif. Sam has just got through painting Mr. Baker's, the bankers house, in Butte Falls.

William Nickle of L. C. brought in a fine lot of hens for Mrs. Howlett Saturday morning.

Saturday among the guests at the S. S. for dinner (lunch), were: William Nickle, M. J. Moran, John Bell of the Nash hotel, Medford, Bert E. Harney and A. J. Maren of the Rialto theater, Medford.

Miss Katie Sutter and Welthy Bradford of Medford were the guests of Mrs. Van Scoy of Eagle Point.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.
