

HUN SUBMARINES WAGING WAR ON NORWEGIAN SHIPS

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, May 21.—(By the Associated Press.) German submarines again have started unrestricted warfare on Norwegian fishing boats in the Arctic ocean north and east of the Norwegian coast.

Shell Without Warning The U-boats are said to shell vessels without warning and, according to the survivors, direct a fire against life boats.

Russian fishing boats and a Russian mail steamer, Varcoe, eastward bound and overcrowded with passengers, also were shelled. Eight persons, among them a postmaster and his assistants, were killed on the deck of the steamer. Many others were hurt after taking to the boats.

When the commander of one German submarine was advised that Russia was at peace with Germany, he answered that he acted the way it suited him. The U-boat measured 180 feet in length and surprise is caused in shipping circles that it can carry enough oil for a cruiser so far up the Norwegian coast.

Norwegians Resist Acts Great bitterness has been caused among the Norwegian population by the action of the submarines, as Germany gets a large part of the fish caught around these places. The newspapers suggest that fishermen stop selling their catch to Germany.

RUSSIANS ASK HUNS TO HALE TURKEY

LONDON, May 21.—The Russian commissioner for foreign affairs, it was made known today, sent the following wireless message April 12 to the German foreign office:

"In the Turkish advance in the Caucasus, the people population; including women and children, is being cut down ruthlessly by the thousands. The treaty we were forced to sign at Brest-Litovsk provided that the populations at Ardahan, Kars and Batum should have full freedom and the right to control their destiny in their own way. The events in these regions show that the policy of extermination which has been followed for the past ten years is being pursued. Responsibility for the atrocities among the Armenian people in the regions at present occupied by Turkey devolves on the German government, whose direct assistance makes it possible for Turkey to exercise its will in these regions.

"The people's commissioner vigorously protests against the betrayal of the right of the populations of Ardahan, Kars and Batum to dispose of themselves. The commissioner insists upon the necessity of speedy and decisive intervention on the part of Germany in the Caucasus to prevent the continuation of the massacre and extermination of the peaceful population, which is taking place at Ardahan."

GENERAL KORNILOFF DIES ONCE MORE

MOSCOW, Friday, May 17.—(By the Associated Press.) General Korniloff, the former Russian commander-in-chief, has been killed in battle with the soviet troops near Yekaterinodar. His army of 10,000 men has been defeated, and is retreating.

The belief is expressed in government circles that this ends armed opposition to the Bolsheviks in the south, as the remaining rebel chief, Filimonoff, is a small menace with his little army of 2000 men.

The reported revival of the Kaleidines movement, the first step of which was the capture of the city of Novo Tcherkassk, capital of the territory of the Don Cossacks, failed. The soviet troops regained the city on the day after these rebels had taken it and scattered armed bands in the city.

The death of General L. G. Korniloff has been reported many times since the war began. A London dispatch, dated April 24, said that on April 17 Korniloff's detachment had been routed near Yekaterinodar. The dispatch added that, according to prisoners, Korniloff was wounded seriously and later died. On May 2 a dispatch was received from Peking that Korniloff had been killed.

WILSON SEVERS AIRCRAFT BOARD FROM THE ARMY

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Reorganization of the army air service was completed today by President Wilson as his first act under the new law permitting him to readjust government departments for the war. In an executive order, he directed that the air service be wholly divorced from the signal corps and also that the functions of producing and operating aircraft of all kinds in the military service be separated.

The order formally creates a bureau of aircraft production, described as an executive agency, "which shall exercise full, complete and exclusive jurisdiction and control over the production of airplanes, air engines and aircraft equipment for the use of the army," under a director of aircraft production, who shall also be chairman of the aircraft board. This gives full legal status and power to John D. Ryan, recently appointed director of aircraft production and chairman of the aircraft board, and the order transfers to him all funds, lands, buildings and personnel of the signal corps having to do with aircraft production.

Similarly the position of director of military aeronautics, now held by Major General William L. Kenly, is formally established and all funds, duties, equipment and personnel of the signal corps connected with the operation of aircraft and balloons and with the training of aviators, placed under his direction.

The signal corps reverts to its old functions, having to do only with army signaling and the transmission of military information.

Major General George R. Squier, chief signal officer, remains in that post, but without connection with the air service, except as an ex-officio member of the aircraft board.

In connection with the reorganization, Secretary Baker directed that Colonels R. L. Montgomery, E. A. Deeds and S. D. Waldon of the signal corps, be detached from all other duties and assigned to assist the attorney general in his inquiry relating to the aircraft program.

BOYS AT THE FRONT SERVING UNCLE SAM

George Holmes, sergeant in charge of a bunch of motor repair men down on the border, writes as follows, having rather overdone the allotment stunt, to his own embarrassment: Camp Cody, Deming, N. M., May 7.

Dear Sister: I am surprised that you had not received my last letter by May 2nd. I wrote to mother the day I left the hospital. I have no kick whatever about the mumps. If the doctor hadn't caught me for a day or two more, I wouldn't have gone to the hospital at all. Twenty-one days, tho, is army regulations for the mumps, sick or no sick.

INDIAN CHORUS TO BE HEARD AT RIALTO THEATER TONIGHT

The young women of St. Mary's Academy will present a program of music founded on American Indian folk songs at the Rialto tonight. This will be an interesting performance and a large attendance is expected.

I believe I hold the record in the army for wages drawn in the last six months—187 days—one pay day of one dollar and ninety cents—one and three one hundredths and eighty-sevenths of a cent per day. My, what a spendthrift I have been in this army!

Well, I am sergeant (if you please) anyhow; and the next payday I will get $20, and that darned ball-and-alotment will be broken and either you or I will get it. If it comes my way I will send it home.

It is quite probable we are stuck here in Camp Cody for the rest of time. No France for mine, unless I can shake the Q. M. corps. I have tried to transfer to every other kind of organization in the army, but the C. O. always refuses to sanction the transfer. You know, there is such a thing as being too popular with the C. O.

Say, the next time you write, give me a hint on how to start a paragraph without the letter "I." It seems that every time I try to say anything I am bang up against it for a starter. Until I started to write letters, I never supposed there were so many (alphabetical) "I's" in the English language.

This is certainly a fine country down here. It rains for about ten minutes every spring, whether they need rain or not, and it is actually so dry that the toads have horns, so they can puncture the cactus for moisture. The cattle are all dying here, on account of the drought. There is not enough water for the poor things to drink, let alone to raise feed for them. You certainly ought to get plenty of spring rains in Oregon this year, for it has to rain some place to get rid of the surplus moisture in the air, and this country has been missed. There will be no crop of any kind in this country this year; nothing but wind and sand and sun. The prophets prophesy no mosquitoes, for where would they hatch?—no water.

I suppose you are wise to the way I camouflage the words that I am not sure whether the letters are double or single. I never could spell, and I haven't seen Webster's for about a year. And there have been some great changes in the English language in that time. Don't forget I-like cherries, and that I don't care for hot cakes of any description any more. One solid year of hot cakes and oatmeal mush for breakfast has got my number. 'Twill be taboo when I get to be a civilian once more. And beans! Well, they look nice in the field, but I will never be able to go thru the garden again without "making a face." Dried prunes and dried peaches don't rouse my enthusiasm. And if anyone even looks like he wanted to mention beef stew, he will start a row 'round here. And even if the onions are getting so they taste like they smell. O. Well, why kick? It may go on like this for years to come, and a person can eat anything if he is hungry.

I would apply for a job as cook, myself, but I am afraid someone would get hurt if they "ragged" me as they do our cook. But, poor devil, he can't help it. Uncle Sam made him a cook; gave him four days' training, the first cooking he ever did in his life, and wished him off on us. What was it Sherman said about war?

Well, so long, Mary. Your loving brother, GEORGE.

War Worries Upset Health. It is agreed by medical authorities that worry affects the digestive organs. When the digestion is out of order, it throws the whole physical being out of gear. B. B. Hayward, Unadilla, Ga., writes: "Foley Cathartic Tablets give me quicker relief than anything I have ever tried."

They relieve biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas, indigestion and constipation. No griping or nausea. Sold everywhere.

For Itching Torture There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any drug can supply you with zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads, in most cases gives way to zemo. Frequently minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 35c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

On Wednesday evening after I had written my letter for the Medford Mail Tribune, Judge William M. Colvig, his daughter, Mrs. Helen Gale and grandson Windsor Gale, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Emmen, all of Medford came in for late supper and after satisfying themselves in that line spent a while visiting our family. That is the first time the judge has honored us in that way for some time. He tells us that he has come to Medford to make his home and expects to be with us more frequently.

There were three cases of fish came in Thursday to be taken to the Elk creek fish hatchery to be used to feed the little fish on, that are hatched out. There is quite an art, a knowing how to handle the fish hatching business; and from what I can learn, we have the right men in the two hatcheries in this county—the Elk creek and Bute Falls hatcheries.

Among the callers at the Sunside hotel Thursday were Mr. W. Wagner of Elk Creek, Grant Wertz and Mr. A. H. Sunderman of Rogue river, insurance men, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fleming of Chicago, and Mr. J. Draper of Seattle, Wash., who came out on Monday on the P. & E. motor and went to Trail to look over the country, and returned that day and started from here for Medford, intending to go to Roseburg that night. They are in some way connected with the land business. Prof. J. C. Barnard, the principal of our school, were also among the diners Thursday.

D. N. Cochrane of Portland, C. S. Webster and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smith and Peter Betts were here Friday.

F. J. Ayers, one of our bustling farmers, took out two loads of hogs to Mrs. Charles Pratt about the middle of the week.

Prof. J. C. Barnard went to Central Point to see his wife, who has been spending a few days in Ashland.

Mr. Combs, who has been living in the T. H. Doherty house, Eagle Point, has moved into the Joe Rader place to work for W. D. Roberts.

Our election passed off very quietly. There were but about one-half of the registered voters who voted, and there seemed to be but little interest manifested. The friends of Chauncey Fiorey and George Gardner seemed to be the most active.

John Spitzer of Pendleton, Ore., and Gus Ditsworth of Prospect spent the night with us Friday.

J. V. McIntyre, our banker, and family started for Los Angeles, Cal., in their car Saturday morning, to be gone a couple of weeks.

Henry M. Parks, director of Oregon bureau of mines, was here Saturday on his way up to the manganese mines. I see that the Tacoma Metal company, the company who are operating the manganese mine on Lost creek, are hauling out quite a quantity of the ore to our depot ready for shipment.

Our daughter Hattie, started Saturday morning for Portland, where she will spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. G. H. Shaw, and Monday join the rest of the delegates to the grand lodge of the Rebekahs from Jackson county and go to Seaside to participate in the work of that convention.

B. E. Henry of Medford and Mr.

F. A. Coffman of Portland, called on your correspondent Saturday afternoon, trying to learn of some one who had had suitable and would like to raise canteloupes simply for the seed. He wants to contract for a large quantity of canteloupe seed.

Miss Alma Gould, who is teaching in the Agate school, and Mrs. Herman Meer, Jr., were here Saturday afternoon getting dishes from Roy Asplope, our hardware and dish merchant, for the picnic dinner to be given at the beautiful home of L. C. Charley, near Brownsboro on Sunday, the 19th, under the auspices of the L. C. R. C. society.

Gus Ditsworth brought out a load of potatoes for Gus Brown and sons Friday evening.

Among the business callers Saturday were W. P. Houston, wife and daughter, and while he renewed his subscription to the Medford Mail Tribune W. E. Hammond also renewed his subscription to the Medford Mail Tribune, and Mrs. R. A. Weidman had her Weekly Mail Tribune discontinued and subscribed for the Daily Mail Tribune.

Other visitors to our town were Thomas Ramey, Henry French, Harvey Stanley and Charley Clark.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corn dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you eat a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at the cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.
