ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The patriotic fund drive began Wednesday morning this week, with 20 teams in the field, the entire town to be thoroughly canvassed, also Talent and Phoenix, which are in the Ashland district. Rev. C. A. Edwards is campaign manager, and F. E. Watson office secretary. Official headquarters will be the same as those used for the Liberty loan campaign, and workers will be served with luncheon by the ladies, who will supervise dining appointments in Auxiliary hall. Beyond raising the quota for Red Cross, no fixed amount has been set for the patriotic fund war chest, but it is the aim to make this replenishing feature as large as possible in view of the numerous demands which will be made upon it. The Red Cross quota is $5000. Donations may be specifically designated, but unless so stipulated they will be covered into the general war chest. It is planned to expedite this work without going over the territory repeatedly, consequently the open purse will speed up the canvassing machinery. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Norwood, having sold their property here, have gone south in search of a new location. The first unit of a motor tour will be in the direction of San Francisco. Mr. Norwood for several years was linotype operator in the Tidings office. The auto park supply store will be conducted this summer by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Foster. E. D. Briggs of this city and Mayor C. E. Gates of Medford will be representatives of Hillah temple, Mystic Shrine, at the imperial council of the order which meets in Atlantic City, N. J., June 4-6. They will act as substitutes for Hal McNair and Walter Newcombe, both of Ashland, who are unable to attend. Mr. Briggs is already in the east, having left some time ago with members of his family for an extensive tour of the central west and Atlantic coast section.
