

GERMANS CLAIM 15,000 PRISONERS IN LATEST DRIVE

BERLIN, May 28, via London.—The full text of the official statement from German headquarters today follows:

"On the Kemmel and Lys battle fields and on both sides of the Somme and the Avre, the artillery duels increased in intensity yesterday. Between Voormezele and Loere, we penetrated the French lines and brought back more than 300 prisoners.

"The attack of the German crown prince to the south of Laon led to complete success. We completely defeated the French and English divisions stationed there.

Taken by Storm.

"The army of General Boehm took the Chemin des Dames by storm. The long ridge, against which the great attempts of the French to break through in the spring of 1917, and which we evacuated in the autumn of last year for strategic purposes, is again in our hands.

"After tremendous artillery preparation, our infantry at daybreak found their way across the Ailette river, between Vauxaillon and Craonne, and penetrated the English lines farther east between Corbeny and the Aisne. Completely taken by surprise the occupants of the first enemy lines generally offered only slight resistance.

"In the early hours of the morning, Pinon, Chavignon, Fort Malmaison, Courtecon, Cerny, the Winterberg and Craonne, the Villerberg and fortified works near and to the north of Berry-au-Bac, were taken by our troops by storm.

"We reached the Aisne between Ailly and Berry-au-Bac. Ailly was taken. The crater field of last year's spring and autumn fighting was thus captured in uninterrupted attacking pressure.

Drive Enemy Back.

"In the afternoon the attack continued. Between Vauxillon and Vailly, we are in the heights near Neuville and Laffaux and north of Conde. Between Berry-au-Bac and Brionmont, we crossed the Aisne and carried the battle into an area which had remained untouched by the war since 1914. The enemy was again driven from the fortified wooded heights on the southern bank of the river. Between Vailly and Burieux, we reached the heights due north of the Vesle river.

"The army of General von Below threw the enemy out of strong positions between Saigneville and Brionmont back across the Aisne—Marne canal, and the western bank of the canal, and took by storm Cornicy, Cauroy and Doivre.

Up to present, 15,000 prisoners are reported. "Between the Meuse and the Moselle, on the Lorraine frontier, the fighting activity revived. Advances into the enemy lines resulted in the bringing in of more than 150 prisoners here belonging to French and American regiments."

YANKEES REPEL GERMANS.

Lieutenant George E. Butler, formerly an attorney in Indianapolis, who was slightly wounded in the leg, said that going over the top was like a maneuver in the training camp back home. The men were eager for it, he said, and some of them remained up in the trenches all night talking about the approaching adventure with cheerful anticipations.

Town Only Ruins.

"When we reached Cantigny," he added, "it was only a pile of bricks and stones. Our artillery had leveled the town. The German machine gun bullets were buzzing about like humble bees, but our fellows didn't pay any more attention to them than if they had been confetti.

"It was the finest example of team work I ever saw. There was not a hitch anywhere. The men cracked jokes and sang but they were business in their work."

Lieutenant Albert E. Billings of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was also slightly wounded, was brought to the hospital and placed on a cot adjoining that of Lieutenant Butler. As soon as their eyes met they clasped hands and greeted each other like long lost brothers.

"It was a great show, wasn't it?" Billings said. "George, I wish the folks at home could have seen it. I wouldn't have missed it for the world."

LINCOLN, Neb., May 29.—Testimony tending to show that six professors of the University of Nebraska have been loyal in their attitude toward the war was given today at the hearing instituted by the university's board of regents, after the council of defense had charged that some of the school's instructors were not aggressively American.

BERLIN PRESS TOLD TO CHECK FERVOR

LONDON, May 29.—Berlin newspapers apparently have been given orders to tone down their war enthusiasm, says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Express, regarding the German newspaper comment on the recent fighting along the Aisne. The Cologne Volks Zeitung says of the fighting:

"Our new success shows us again how justified in our confidence in our leaders. It would be premature to draw final conclusions but it is enough for the German people to know that its confidence in the spirit of the troops can never be disappointed.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

On Friday evening this week the Nat will be the scene of the customary May festival, given under auspices of the Auxiliary club. This spring carnival will be a dancing party, the best of music having been engaged for the event. Proceeds will go toward replenishing the treasury of the Auxiliary club, an enterprising organization of young ladies who are ever ready to lend a helping hand to further social and benevolent work.

Funeral was held Wednesday at the Dunkard church in Talent and interment was in that vicinity. The young man came north some time ago to try the benefit of a change of climate amid the old home surroundings. His parents, also a brother who is in the military service, were here at the time of his death.
