TOURIST SEASON AT LAKE OPENS

The Crater Lake tourist season is close at hand as is evidenced by the fact that Alfred Parkhurst, president of the Crater Lake company, which has the hotel and other concessions at the wonder resort, will arrive in Medford with the hotel and other help from Portland Sunday or Monday. After a short stay here to gather up supplies the party will proceed to the lake and open up the hotel. The party is coming from Portland on several big auto trucks.

Will G. Steele, commissioner of Crater Lake national park, will leave within a few days for park headquarters and will spend the summer there. Alex Sparrow, supervisor of the park, is expected down from the park in a day or so for supplies, and Mr. Steele will probably return with him.

GERMAN OFFENSIVE HALTED.

The Amiens front and the Scarpe river valley, near Arras, have been bombarded by the Germans.

Americans Celebrate

Between the south edge of the Villers-Cotterets forest and Chateau Thierry American troops celebrated the anniversary of the arrival of the American troops in France by repulsing violent enemy attacks to drive them from their recently won positions at Belleau wood and Bourches.

The enemy attacked after heavy bombardment but was driven back with severe losses. The Americans took prisoners and machine guns.

American airmen have joined in air work by dropping bombs on enemy baronets. On the Toul sector in aerial fighting American fighting planes have destroyed two enemy machines and driven another down out of control with the loss of one machine which landed into the German lines. British bombers have made incursions into Germany.

The German admiralty, according to advice from Holland, is about to declare the eastern coast of United States from Canada to Mexico a danger zone.

CROWDED HOUSE SEES GRADUATION EXERCISES OF '18

Before an audience which crowded the Page theater to the doors the commencement exercises of the class of 1918 of the high school were held last night. The graduating class numbers 47 members. Of the original members of the class in its freshman year 17 of the boys are now in the service of their country.

The stage was beautifully decorated and with the graduating class presented an enchanting sight. The class colors, green and white, predominating in the decorations. The footlights were banked with flowers, American flags were conspicuous at the sides of the stage, and over the stage arch in a frame work of ivy were the words of the class motto, "Over the Top," in white roses.

V. Melo Hillis, superintendent of schools, presided at the exercises, and the address was made by Dr. H. D. Sheldon of the University of Oregon. The diplomas were presented by B. J. Palmer, president of the board of education. The invocation was by Prof. A. B. Hauby and the benediction by Dr. J. Lawrence Hill. Selections by the high school orchestra, Elene French, and the high school chorus made up the remainder of the program.

Dr. Sheldon's scholarly effort on the subject "American Ideals," was different from the ordinary commencement address with incidental references to the war and comments on it.

He contended, with the convincing proof, that had it not been for the high and patriotic ideals set forth by the standard authors in the history of the country, and many of the modern ones, America would not have attained the prominent place it holds in the world.

POSTAL CHIEFS TO RECOGNIZE UNIONS

NEW YORK, June 14.—Official announcement that the Postal Telegraph-Cable company, at the request of President Wilson, had "waived its right during the war to discharge employees who joined a union," was made in a message signed by Edward Reynolds, vice-president and general manager of the company, which was sent today to division superintendents.

This message was issued after Clarence H. Mackay, president of the company, had telegraphed President Wilson, acknowledging receipt of a letter from him and asserting that "we cannot but respond to your request."

Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, who recently declined for his company to submit to the jurisdiction of the national war labor board, which sought to adjust differences between the company and those of its employees who are members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, would not state tonight whether he had received from President Wilson a letter similar to that received by Mr. Mackay.

Employees Form Association. Mr. Carlton announced tonight that the directors of the Western Union, after considering a petition from their Chicago employees, were prepared to aid in the formation of an association of its employees to give them "individual protection against petty tyrannies and the impelling voice of collective bargaining."

To this end, said Mr. Carlton, the company today issued notices to all its employees, suggesting that they organize such an association by sending electors to a convention to be held in Chicago July 10.

Not Fighting Union. "We are not fighting any union," said Mr. Carlton in a statement. "The whole question was whether or not the Western Union was right in discharging men whom we thought violated their working agreement by joining an organization which employs the strike."

"We say that they shall not join a union that employs the strike, but if they believe that that gives them some equal or better protection, without the jeopardy of the strike, and with the right of collective bargaining."

"This is not a plan for fighting any union, but an effort to give our people what they are entitled to and what they have never had."

A function of the proposed association, Mr. Carlton said, would be the administration of the pension and sick benefit fund created by the company.

"That which is beautiful, that which is art—a show with all the buoyant bloom of youth and none of the cheap vulgarities of everyday musical comedy—"Oh, Boy," is sufficient of an entertainment to even make you forget the prettiest," says Walter Bodin in the San Francisco Bulletin. The show is scheduled for the Page, Monday evening. Continuing, he says: "The offering at the Cort theater was greeted last evening with a full house, and it did not disappoint. It was quite the most agreeable surprise of the season. "Oh, Boy" is a gem of sprightliness.

No Sputtering Arcs. "There were no sputtering arcs with a blinding spot-light, but there were soft and mellow floods from overhead and the wings—revealing Youth that tripped on gilded toes and scattered the petals of romance.

"There were no kings, no merry villages, no choruses "Tomorrow, tomorrow—I, e, tomorrow you must die—e-e-e!" There were no Falstaffian fathers who pronounced failures in business upon the heads of prospective sons-in-law, no ensembles by the maids and the men with rising shouts of ribald laughter. Now that you know what not to expect, you are prepared for—

A show as light as thistle-down. Sweet and catchy tunes with a suggestion of Celtic sentiment.

Boy and girlhood love.

Smart Repartee

Repartee that smacks of Vanity Fair.

Chiffon-like gowns that float as do the fleecy clouds.

Pretty girls—all young, graceful and gay.

Joseph Santley, star, with pleasing voice, a repertoire of dance steps and a naturalness, that in many cases would save a Shakespearean revival.

Dorothy Maynard, with the vivacity of a vixen, pretty, laughter-compelling, and with a voice that corresponds to her dancing.

A supporting caste that numbers good comedians, pleasing showgirls and other apostles of mirth and music—both sexes.

"Oh, Boy" is the matinee girls' delight, or it ought to be. Santley, Miss Maynard, Miss Lavina Winn, Laurence Wheat make a combination that is unmatched in the list of light entertainers. They are glib in the arts of new language and sifted in the method of song and terpsichore. Yea, Bo!

CREEL HEARS OLD EDITORIAL READ

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Editorial articles written by him at Denver seven years ago, which members of congress have attacked as socialistic and inimical to American institutions were republished today by George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information, during the closing hours of a two-day examination before a house appropriations subcommittee. When questioned about these articles, Mr. Creel explained they were written in the heat of a campaign conducted by the newspaper on which he was employed, and that they did not now represent his views.

Members of the committee, one or two of whom having been Creel's bitter critics, indicated afterward that they were satisfied with the explanation. They are considering an estimate of $2,098,000 for the expenses of the committee on public information during the coming year. A vote has been taken, but it is expected that most of the items in the budget will be approved.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Wednesday, June 12.—(By the Associated Press)—One hundred and eight American soldiers, belonging to organizations now fighting on the Toul front, were decorated with the cross of war Tuesday afternoon.

Medford Lady Buys Liberty Bonds With Operation Money

"I have been busy saving up money for an operation for gall stones which my physician advised in my case. Since taking one bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy it looks as tho I can safely use this money to buy Liberty Bonds. I suffered for years with colic attacks and bloating." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the intestinal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All Reliable Druggists. Adv.

LEARN FACTS OF WAR AS SHOWN AT PAGE TONIGHT

Medford people will tonight hear the patriotic war lecture, "Wake Up, America," which will be delivered in this city at the Page, free.

The lecture for the most part consists of stereopticon slides and moving pictures. With each picture there is a reading slide that briefly points the moral of the picture. And strong as are the spoken words of the lecturer and the words of the reading slides, even stronger are the pictures themselves, depicting as they do, the horrors of the German methods of warfare. After hearing this lecture and viewing these pictures, one realizes as never before what it would mean to us if the war comes to this country. And afterwards one feels that no sacrifice could be too great that will insure the winning of the war "over there."

In striking and piteous contrast to American scenes of peaceful industry are shown the battle-torn fields and cities of France and Belgium. Everywhere is seen the blood-stained track of the monster, that terrific, destroying machine that spares neither man, woman, nor child, that respects neither age nor sex, that revels in lust and lynchery, that considers any agent of destruction justifiable—the Prussian army.

An understanding of the reason for the German viewpoint is given by pictures that show how for many years the German people have been educated to believe that "might makes right" and that Germany is God's favored nation. Monuments and statues of generals are shown lining the boulevards and occupying prominent places in public parks. Expensive paintings and tapestries commemorate scenes in former German battles. Everywhere the emphasis is placed on war. Germans have been taught that war is natural and desirable, providing Germany wins.

Maps show how strategically were built the railroads of Germany so as to facilitate troop movements. Then come pictures of Heligoland, the location of the Kiel canal, and pictures of the Krupp works at Essen, and pictures of the German army and navy.

Then comes the call to America to awake to her danger. There are peals of thunder and lightning flashes from back of the scenes, all in conjunction with what has preceded, quickening the heart beat and thrilling the nerves with a sense of what it all means. America awakes and gets into action with characteristic enthusiasm.

Then is shown our boys in khaki rallying to the colors. We see in moving pictures the boys of the regular army and of the Rainbow Division in France, the conscripts, state troops and those in cantonments and training schools. General Pershing and Marshal Joffre stand shoulder to shoulder. Our boys, with earnest and determined faces are seen marching down to the ships that are to take them "over there," as is Old Glory flying in the breeze and President Wilson, the man of the hour. Pictures are also shown of airplanes.

MUST OBEY ORDERS.

"All these circumstances being taken into consideration, I do not hesitate to say that it is a patriotic duty to co-operate in this all important matter with the government by the use of the instrumentality which the government has set up. I, therefore, write to ask that I may have your earnest co-operation in this matter as in all others, and that you will set an example to the other employers of the country by a prompt and cordial acquiescence."

TELLS HOW TO LICK KAISER SO HE WILL KNOW IT

Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, field representative, U. S. Food Administration is being sent to Jackson county for the first three days of next week, and will deliver addresses in several central places. Her subject is "Licking the Kaiser so he knows he's licked." Mrs. Kemp is a talented woman of exceptional ability and Uncle Sam wants everyone to hear her timely message for young and old alike. Being vice chairman of the Woman's State Council of Defense, Mrs. Kemp is well informed and will be able to give her audience some first hand information.

Arrangements are being made for a series of meetings; so far the following schedule has been announced: Sunday morning, probably 11 o'clock at Rogue River, in charge of Mrs. E. K. Earhart. Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, Methodist church, Gold Hill, in charge of Rev. Belknap. Tuesday afternoon at Phoenix and Tuesday evening at 8:30 in the chapel car, Central Point. Mrs. H. W. Davidson will have charge of the latter meeting.

Warning Is Humorous. WASHINGTON, June 14.—In view of what has been happening during the past few weeks, officials here tonight were inclined to regard as a bit of grim humor the report from Berlin, via Holland, that the German government is about to declare the eastern American coast a danger zone and to warn neutral shipping of its purpose.

Raiding submarines already have served warning of the danger in more forceful terms than Berlin could formulate in diplomatic communication. Several of the 18 vessels sunk by the raiders were neutrals, carrying no war supplies. Neutral governments are not likely to have overlooked the fact, warning or no warning.
