

WAR LABOR BOARD PREVENTS STRIKE OF OVER 100,000 MEN

(By Gilson Gardner.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—No less than 100,000 men are now at work, instead of being out on strike, as a result of the first 60 days' service of the War Labor Board.

W. H. Taft and Frank Walsh, joint chairmen of the board, feel that this is a pretty good beginning. Their job is to keep war industries going, and to do this labor and capital must live in peace.

The board has been called "labor's supreme court." But it is more than a court. It is an investigating and conciliatory agency. It has agents who go to the locality and inquire into actual conditions on the ground.

Then there are the judicial functions where the board meets and hears arguments, facts and pleas.

Personnel of the Board

The board is made up, in addition to Walsh and Taft, of five representatives each of employes and employers. Those representing labor are Frank J. Hayes, W. L. Hutcheson, Thomas J. Savage, Victor A. Olshaker and T. A. Rickert.

Up to date about 60 cases have been brought to the attention of the War Labor Board. Some have been brought by the men and some by the employers, but in most cases the board has intervened to prevent a strike in a war industry.

In most of the cases both men and employers have agreed to resume work and to abide by the award of the war board. In a few instances, however, the employers have refused to agree to submit to arbitration.

The Western Union refused, as did the Bethlehem Steel company.

What will happen to those who refuse will be seen in due time. If they are war industries they may be dealt with under adequate powers possessed by the court.

Both Sides Represented

The notable thing about the War Labor Board's activities up to date is the confidence extended the board by both employer and employed. The presence on the board of men like Taft, Osborne and Worden arouses the confidence of the big employers, while the average laboring man is quite content to leave his grievance with men like Walsh and Orander. It is the exception when even an employer like the Bethlehem company refuses to trust to the award of this tribunal.

So far the activities of the labor court have had to do with conciliating. There have been much investigation, much hearing of complaints, much bringing of the two parties together in the same room and mutual adjustment of differences on a half-and-half basis.

But soon there will be decisions. It is expected that the last week of June will be spent by the board in the preparation of opinions on the cases pending. These will be the first opinions to be handed down by labor's supreme court.

Portland Appeal

The War Labor Board has lately been appealed to by a large number of street railway companies, Chicago, Portland, Ore., and Newark are a few of these.

A traction company is a war industry. People must be carried to war factories. The traction companies have been losing their men to the munitions industries. The traction companies pay about 30 cents an hour while munitions pay 60. The conductors and motormen say they are not getting living wages and will have to strike. The traction companies say any substantial increase in wages will bankrupt the companies.

So Taft and Walsh will have to figure out what is a living wage for a street car man, and how much wage can be paid without putting the traction company on the scrapheap.

Steel Trust Adjustment

The biggest job in prospect for the board is the adjustment of the steel corporations to the demands of their men. The Bethlehem company and the Midvale company are both deeply engaged in government ordnance work. One of the fundamentals of the war trade board is that government work must be done on the eight-hour basis, and that men may magnify it if they desire. But these companies, as well as United States Steel and the affiliated Pennsylvania Railroad interests, have always fought the unions and the eight hour day are still doing so.

The government can shut off raw material from concerns that will not live in peace with their employees. Or the government can take over the industry and run the plants.

BOYS AT THE FRONT SERVING UNCLE SAM

(The Mail Tribune will publish in this column each week interesting letters from our soldiers and sailors and news items concerning their movements. The Association of Mothers, Wives and Next of Kin requests that items for publication be furnished to Mrs. M. C. Barber, chairman of the press committee, not later than Thursday of each week.)

Somewhere in France, May 12, 1918.

Dear Folks:—I had quite a letter a few days ago, receiving three letters from you dated April 15, 23, and 28, and how nice it seemed no one can tell. No, I haven't seen a home paper for a long time, and I sure would like to. There are three of us boys in the band and we would all enjoy them. I don't think there would be any harm in sending them to us once a week, especially the Saturday Medford Mail, and a few ones having some real good home news in them.

I am sure glad to hear of the immense amount of spring gardening going on there and I do hope the fruit weathers the frost. We are quartered right next to a truck garden and the peas are in bloom now; great large onions and strawberry vines blossoming out and everything as green as a lawn in spring.

I am as healthy and robust as I was when you last saw me. Of course we are not permitted to say much, but you folks at home cannot comprehend the magnitude of this, our undertaking, and we certainly are working things in a very well and thorough machine like manner. We are having a thunder shower today, but it is real pleasant. It has been rather warm until today.

Georgia, you spoke about taking a civil service job. Do it if you can. Uncle Sam is a mighty fine fellow to work for and you don't have to worry about your job if you do your part.

We took a trip over to another of our detachments near by and you can guess my surprise when I went up to my old battery and found the package of birthday cake, bananas and walnuts you had sent to Fort Stevens in February. Of course you can imagine the condition it was in. I was able to eat a little of the frosting and the nuts. We had an excellent time, some all day. We just returned. We left early this morning, and played a concert and for a big parade and for church services.

The people and our boys treated us fine. The day was rather rainy and squally but we enjoyed it nevertheless. We have sure been having some swell weather the last three days, and it makes a fellow feel pretty full of pep. I have been swimming twice. I saw some of the boys from home and I had quite a little chat with them. Well, you folks, I presume, understand that we are not allowed to give our location nor any particulars as to the exact nature of our occupations, but I can say that we are having rehearsals every day for from three to four hours and every evening we give a concert. And believe me, we are sure playing some real class music. I never realized what classical music was until I got into this band. We have a whole stack of musical comedies, descriptive pieces, fantasies, waltzes, marches and others too numerous to mention. I surely have learned a whole lot of music and cornet and the big part of the story is I haven't hardly started. If surely has been working me pretty hard to keep up and I have just been able to keep on. I'm still playing first cornet in the band, so you can see what I am up against. We got paid yesterday in French money. It sure is a circus to go and buy anything. The people here can speak some English and with what we know of French, we manage to make our wants known. The French money is based on the franc in the same way that our money is based on the dollar. The value of one franc is approximately 18 cents in our money, although it fluctuates a little one way or another. Their one-half franc or 50 centime piece resembles our dime in size. The franc is about as large as the American quarter. The next smaller coin is a 25 centime piece, about the size of an American quarter with a hole out in the center. Then they have two copper pennies, one 10 centime piece and a five centime piece. The five centime piece is a little smaller than our quarter and the 10 centime piece is about the size of a half dollar. They have notes for 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 500 francs, and local banks have currency for one franc and also one-half franc or 50 centime piece. Of course you can see that a pocket full of small change doesn't represent much money. A five centime piece is less than an American penny. Oh, I wish you could just drop into France for a while and see how beautiful the country is. Where we are there is nothing but rolling hills and they are absolutely green and they just look like great lawns and terraces. And good roads! We've surely got some work ahead of us in the United States to have roads like these in France.

Well, dear ones, there is nothing more I can tell you, so will close with love to you all.

Your devoted son and brother, LEO WILLIAMS, 65th Art.

We would like to see France some time but would we be given a caddy to carry our cash. Or do they wear them like beads?

The following was recently received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams of Central Point from their son, Bud, who is in the naval radio, who sailed about the first of May:

Dear Folks:—How are you? Hope you are all feeling fine. Can say I never felt better in all my life, and I have arrived at my foreign destination so far. I enjoyed the trip across very much. The first three days out the ocean was smooth as could be, but when we got out about mid-ocean, we had some pretty rough weather for a day or two. I had a very nice train ride over here and there is no question but what this is a fine looking country here although it isn't as well improved as it might be, but talk about the grass growing, it sure does here. Everything is nice and green, as could be asked for and they don't seem to have any real mountains here, just some hills of fairly good size, with no timber on them and they let a little row of brush grow that looks as though it is supposed to be a fence and all of the country is divided in small squares by these strips of brush, and off a long way it looks like a painting done by some of the old ancient men who didn't have a very good taste for art. It looks very good, only queer. Did you get those papers I mailed you from Philadelphia? Hope that you did. They had some very good news in them. You know we used to talk about the land of the midnight sun, and in some parts of this country one can't help but think of it. One night I noticed that the sun set about 9:30, and I can't say what time it comes up, it beats me out. But from what little time it is 'come I think that it just makes a circle around the north pole. It is alright while it is making circles around the north pole, but when it begins to circle the south pole, it will be good night.

Well, I think this is about all I have to say for this time, but will try and do better in my next letter.

U. S. N. F. Barraclack, Base G. Care As. N. E. your son.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The parade committee is entertaining proposals for men to represent Washington and Lincoln at the celebration on July 4. They have already secured an understanding of President Wilson. Any party may personate the Kaiser, provided that he does so at his own peril. Three bands will be here in addition to a jazz aggregation, which will appear at the park, afternoon and evening during the celebration period. Medford and Grants Pass will merge with the local band in a grand blow-out. A Seattle outfit will work the fireworks stunt on the evening of the Fourth on a scale more spectacular than ever. The big parade will be on a major scale, and merchants are offering prizes for decorations and descriptive effects specially meritorious. A matrimonial prize in the housekeeping line awards the couple who will marry in public the ceremony to be performed on the float occupied by the goddess of liberty and her retinue. Watch the announcements of marriage licenses.

Mrs. George Kramer and son Foss have returned from a visit with relatives living in the vicinity of Turin, Alberta. Weather conditions in that region are extremely dry and the dust storms are a fright. Mrs. Kramer states that her brother, Lars Edinson, has been called to army service and will report either at Portland, or Shelby, Montana.

Clarence Lane was summoned to Klamath Hot Springs several days ago owing to the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Wilmer Hill, a well known resident of the northern portion of Siskiyou county.

Miss Frances McWilliams and her sister, Mrs. J. E. Peck, are due here this week from southern California, for a vacation stay with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McWilliams.

Another Ashland family is grief stricken over the loss of an only son. Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Putnam have received word of the death by drowning of their son Clifford. The tragedy happened on Saturday at Astoria, whether he had come only a few days ago to work in the fishing industry, Clifford was a bright and active young fellow of about 16 years. Full particulars of the accident were not available at last accounts. For some time past the father has been

REESE CREEK RIPELETS

Mr. Britton preached at Reese creek last Sunday forenoon, his text being "Beloved now are we the sons of God, and it cometh not yet appear when we shall see him, but we know that when He shall appear we shall be like Him for we shall see Him as He is."

Mr. Stille not having left was to have preached at the same place in the afternoon, but his car was out of commission and living so far away he phoned he could not be there. It was quite a disappointment, but as most every one had brought their lunch expecting to remain for the afternoon they stayed and had a good prayer service.

The Junior Red Cross meets each Friday afternoon at the school house to sew. The following is a list of the articles that was made and sent to headquarters last month: Five waists, seven pair of pants, seven skirts, six dresses, six pair mittens, sixteen wash rag, one shirt, two quilts, six joke books and four thousand and eight hundred gun wipes.

Just now they are making up old material. The ladies in the neighborhood who do not attend are invited to come and help in the good work of relieving suffering, and help win the war in this way. If any have employed in logging camps near Bulle Falls.

The Nazarine church will introduce the evangelistic agencies of an old-fashioned camp meeting to be held here in September. A South American missionary, Rev. K. H. Jackson, will conduct services for this congregation on Sunday, July 7.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taverner died in this city on Thursday. The deceased was the wife of George Taverner. She was a native of Denonshire, England, and was 65 years of age. Funeral services were held at the family home on the boulevard on Saturday, interment being in Mountain View cemetery. Mrs. Taverner is survived by her husband and two daughters.

A quartet of women, residents of Douglas county in the vicinity of Roseburg and Drain, among them being Mrs. L. Applegate, mother of D. A. Applegate, Wells-Pargo agent here, are domiciled temporarily at the Goodyear home on Church street. Their visit here is for the specific purpose of testing the virtues of mineral water, and incidentally to attend Chautauqua.

Reports of extortion are current in regard to prices charged by depot restaurants for supplies furnished the soldiers. The local food administration will investigate and curb this phase of profiteering.

four sacks they can give or old garments not too badly worn that can be worked over, that will be appreciated.

Most of the farmers are busy in the hay fields with women as first aides. It is not an uncommon sight to see women running mowers, hay rakes and driving spray wagons, etc. The women are quite heroic in their efforts to conserve the crops.

Charles J. Jacobs, of Hornbrook, died at a local hospital last Friday. Undertaker Will Dodge accompanied the body to that town on Sunday where the burial took place.

The stated meeting of the Civic Improvement club, set for Saturday, June 22, has been postponed until June 29, when the gathering will occur at Auxiliary hall on the Chautauque grounds.

Mrs. Finnelly, of Albany, was here last Saturday to meet her mother, a resident of Rogue river, who has been in Arizona for sometime past trying a change of climate, without material benefit, and returns home with health impaired. Mr. Finnelly is connected with the Albany schools.

The rate at which snow is disappearing on Mt. Ashland is a reminder of the early enforcement of irrigation rules.

Miss Mary Freeman, sister of Mr. Frank Dickney, is among the new teachers slated for appointment here, her assignment being in the Hawthorne schools.

Frank Jordan is now working in Portland shipyards. He and his wife were called to Albany recently by the death of Mr. Jordan's father. Their address in Portland is Harrison Court Apartments, 394 Fifth street.

By virtue of seniority in service and being dean of the directorate, George Eubanks succeeds to the championship of the school board. H. F. Poland has been re-elected clerk. Both appointments are the reward of merit for faithful and efficient service.

Children's day, June 23, was observed locally, notably at the Methodist church in an ideal program, incorporating a score of literary and musical numbers.

The Perfect Baby Of The Future

Asnap's Method That Has a Wonderful Influence Upon The Future Infant.

Perce the arrival of baby knowing mother or over her a century ago and you will realize the time-honored preparation Mother's Friend.

Here is a most wonderful application for the abdomen and breasts, it penetrates the muscles, ligaments and tissues, rendering them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion.

By its use the anxious weeks of pregnancy are made comfortable. The usual wrenching strains, backache and stretching pains are counteracted. The system is prepared for the coming event, and its use brings life and interest to Mother's Friend during the period the muscles expand easier when baby arrives, and naturally the pain and danger of the crisis is less.

Mother's Friend is prepared after the formula of a noted family doctor by the Brad Smith Co., 123 Lamar Bldg., Astoria, Ore. It is for external use only; it is absolutely and entirely safe and wonderfully effective. Write them for their interesting and interesting "Mother's Book." There is a wealth of instruction and information to be derived in reading this little book. It is a handy writer that what ever woman wants to know and will be a splendid little text book of guidance, not only for mother but will make you helpful to others and in the meantime obtain a lot of Mother's Friend from the druggist, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Your townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Medford citizen.

D. R. Andrus, 510 South Fir street, says: "I was bothered considerably by my kidneys and bladder. I had trouble in retaining the kidney secretions and I also had a dull ache across my kidneys. I got quick relief from Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys acted more regularly and I didn't have that trouble in my back. This has convinced me that Doan's Kidney Pills are a medicine of merit and are worth recommending to others."
