THRESHERMEN MUST REPORT ON GRAIN THRESHED

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Under the authority of the 1907 control act, the bureau of markets of the United States department of agriculture is to require from all the threshermen in the country periodic reports on the number of bushels of wheat threshed by them and the average from which the grain was produced. A list of threshermen is being compiled from all available sources by the bureau of crop estimates, which is co-operating in the undertaking, and the bureau of markets is having printed a supply of blank forms for threshing reports, together with a pocket memorandum book for daily records. Reports will begin with the opening in June of the winter wheat harvesting season. The county agents will assist in distributing the blank forms and memorandum books and will also assist in assembling the reports. The results are to be made available for the use of the United States food administration, the federal trade commission and other branches of the government. They are expected to provide a complete and accurate check on the advance wheat figures of the bureau of crop estimates in the same way that the cotton ginning reports, compiled by the bureau of the census, check the cotton estimates.

TIME TO TRAP CODDLING MOTHS ON FRUIT TREES

The time has come in the Rogue River valley to supplement the arsenate of lead sprays for Codling Moth with other methods of Codling Moth control. A very effective supplement to spraying is found in the Burlap bands. These burlap bands may be used in two ways: First—Burlap bands placed around the trunks of trees and these examined every few days during July and August and all the existing larvae destroyed. Second—Burlap bands enclosed with strips of window screen have been used in other localities and found to be more effective and no work is necessary for examination after these bands are placed on the trees. The young larvae after leaving the fruit in mid-summer will crawl along the trunk of the tree and force their way thru the screen and then cocoon up in the burlap bands and when they emerge as moths they cannot escape thru the screen. Of course, not all of the worms will be caught in this manner, but a great many will be trapped and it will assist greatly in reducing infection from the second brood of moths. Where the burlap bands are used without the screen it is always necessary to examine the bands and destroy the worms before they emerge as moths. Orchardists with old orchards are urged to adopt this means at this time as a supplement to their spraying operations. For further particulars, see County Pathologist.

Secretary Shortt said the government had found that Germany was in touch with Ireland and that not only were messages going to Ireland from a German source but that they were going from Irish sources to Germany.

THEATERS OFFERED FOR MASS MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

Final arrangements for two big patriotic mass meetings at 8 o'clock Friday evening to celebrate the successful completion of the War Saving Stamp campaign will be announced by the Medford school board tonight. Mass meetings will be held simultaneously at the Rialto and Page theatres.

Attendance Divided The school board has decided to take advantage of the generous offers of both theatre managements to use the local play houses for the big event, thus making it possible to accommodate the largest crowd ever turned out in Medford for any war activity celebration. Residents west of the Southern Pacific railroad track will be admitted to the Rialto theatre while all residents east of the tracks will attend the meeting at the Page.

The names of the chairmen for the respective meetings will be announced tonight and the school board promises live wire chairmen, no long-winded speeches and unlimited pep for both meetings. There will be no charge for admission to the meetings but in case the hour is not too late the theatres will put on their regular pictures after the mass meetings have been dismissed.

Local headquarters received reports of War Stamp sales last night amounting to $7200 for the first day's canvass. To this an additional thousand was reported this morning to be added to yesterday's total.

MUST DEPEND ON LOCAL LABOR TO HARVEST CROPS

Jackson county farmers should give up any hope of getting help from the outside, and must depend on local labor and their own efforts to harvest their crops, according to M. O. Evans who is in charge of the farm labor department of the department of agriculture for eleven western states which he covers every two months. Mr. Evans whose headquarters are in Portland left Monday evening for Berkeley, Calif., after a day's visit in Medford.

In his observations in eleven states Mr. Evans says that every community will have to furnish its own labor, and that if present conditions continue it may be necessary for the labor department to take men from the offices and stores for work on farms and put the clerical and similar work entirely in the hands of women.

One striking feature noticed by Mr. Evans is the immense amount of work being done by girls and women in the various sections he visits.

On account of inroads of various kinds on crops this season Mr. Evans states that the demand for labor will not be as great as expected some time ago. In all his territory he finds no serious shortage of labor has developed, and says it will be almost impossible for the farmers of this section to secure outside help, as such help available is so badly needed in other places. He says that requests for outside labor are being filled mostly where the transportation is least and that the districts near Portland will absorb most of the labor of that city. Efficient work has been done, according to Mr. Evans, this season by J. W. Brewer, state farm specialist, of Portland, who has supplied 200 boys and girls for picking strawberries and cherries at Hood River and The Dalles, and on June 24, 45 grade teachers of Portland will commence work in the loganberry fields of Gervais.

RADOVAN TO BUILD PROMISED EVAPORATOR

F. M. Radovan, who recently agreed to erect a drying and evaporating plant at Medford, will make good his promise, despite the almost total failure of the peach crop and the very light apple crop. In a letter to J. C. Barnes, he states:

"As to evaporation: I am going to build regardless of light apple crop. I want to do as I promised the growers to do. Next week I am going to San Francisco, thence to Medford. If everything is O. K. I shall be in Medford July 2d or 3d."

SING MIKADO IN PHOENIX GROVE THURSDAY EVENING

Preparations for the outdoor performance of Mikado are nearing completion. A large stage has been built, and decorations and scenic effects are in process of construction. The mechanics are wiring the grove today for the beautiful lighting effects, and everything will be completed Thursday morning so that there will be no hitch in carrying out the well laid plans for a splendid presentation of the Mikado.

There will be a general rehearsal at Phoenix tonight of the entire company, and a dress rehearsal on the stage in the grove Wednesday which will insure smoothness in the public performance Thursday evening.

Arrangements have been made for the interurban cars to make regular trips from Medford to the grove on Thursday evening, the first car leaving the park in Medford at 7:15 and running about twenty minutes apart until 8:30. The price charged will be 15 cents—25 cents round trip. These cars will also leave after the performance for Medford and other points.
