THE BOHEMIAN ARMY.

THE liberty loving Czecho-Slovaks, comprising the Bohemians, Moravians and Slovaks, through their national council, have declared Bohemia independent of Austria and Czecho-Slovaks all over the world are enrolling to fight in the Czecho-Slovak legion with the allies on the western front, to secure freedom for Bohemia.

The United States has authorized the formation of a volunteer Czecho-Slovak army in America, a considerable army is already on the western front, composed of refugees and deserters from the Austrian army while an army estimated at from 60,000 to 100,000 composed of Czech-Slovaks who either joined the Russian army or deserted to it from the Austrian army, controls a large part of Siberia and is moving towards Vladivostok enroute around the world to the western front. Their seizure of the Siberian railroad was necessitated when the Bolsheviks refused them permission to cross the continent.

With the Czecho-Slovak are allied those other oppressed people of Austro-Hungary, the Jugo-Slavs, comprising Serbs, Croations, Dalmatians, Morlaks, Bosnians, Herzogovinians, Slavonians and Slovenians, people of common race and similar language. United these Slavic races form a majority of the Austrian population, but as subject peoples, are denied a voice in their government and suffer all kinds of discrimination and injustice.

Germany has undertaken the policing of Bohemia to prevent open revolution—but German oppression and frightfulness cannot stamp out the spirit of liberty and defiance. Despite centuries of cruel persecution and oppression, Bohemia is today one of the most enlightened and best educated nations in the world—and given civil and political freedom, will again lead the thought of the world.

When the war broke out it was opposed by all Bohemians—but the nation was drafted to fight against the friends of democracy and in behalf of its oppressors. Consequently whenever opportunity offered, they deserted to the enemy. The Russians interned the Czecho-Slovak prisoners in Siberian camps. Here they organized themselves into 20 regiments and were taken into the Russian army—but it was not until the Russian revolution that they gained freedom to fight to free Bohemia.

There are now 15,000 Czecho-Slovak troops in France, 22,000 more in Italy. Over 60,000 are enroute to France from Russia and it is hoped to raise an army among the Bohemians in America, who number 1,500,000. Volunteers are wanted above and below the draft age.

Czecho-Slovak troops are no longer trusted by the Austrians. They are brigaded among the German-Austrian and Magyar regiments. All officers have been reduced to the ranks and the troops are always put on the firing line in advance of Austrians, and frequently shot from the rear on suspicion. There have been wholesale executions without trial.

The call for volunteers in America is meeting with prompt response and the freedom of Bohemia is bound to be one of the allied aims at the final peace conference when Germany and Austria are vanquished.

DON'T CUT GRAIN FOR HAY REQUESTS FOOD CONTROLLER

The government expects all farm farmers and lot owners to save grains, especially wheat, and cut it for grain and not for hay. Because of the hot and dry weather much wheat and other grain is slow in filling out, and the temptation is strong among the farmers and others to cut it for hay. But every ounce of grain, especially of wheat, is badly needed for the food supply of the United States and her allies.

County Food Administrator Folger and County Agricultural Agent Cate have been busy for some time warning farmers to save their grain, but many farmers before they knew of the government's request had cut it for hay because the heads were not filling out. Should a good hard rain come most all grains would soon fill out, it is claimed.

Mr. Cate has been kept on the jump for some time past investigating reports which come into his office of farmers cutting grains for hay in various parts of the county, and in visiting those whom he has heard contemplated doing so.

Messrs. Cate and Folger went to the Rogue river section this morning to preach the wheat saving doctrine among the farmers.

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

One of a Series of Informative Articles on Dental Hygiene—No. 7

What Causes Tooth Decay?

WE know that when food is left exposed to warm air for a given time it ferments or turns acid. Food caught between the teeth ferments. And this fermentation is usually caused by very small plants called micro-organisms. Food deposits in the mouth or in between the teeth soon ferment and decompose, forming an acid, which is a solvent for the enamel of the teeth. One decayed tooth affects its neighboring tooth.

It will thus be seen that decay is due to the presence of fermenting food particles in the mouth. Remove them by means of a tooth-brush, or dental floss, or by any other way, and you will help to prevent decay of teeth.

Diseases which occur in childhood, such as tonsillitis, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and others, cause the teeth to become liable to decay more easily. This is because during sickness the teeth do not receive proper nourishment and care. Very often the six-year molars come through with defective enamel. When this happens to them, or any other teeth, it is very important that they be kept clean until they can be treated and filled by the dentist.

MOTHERS ASKED TO HELP WIN WAR BY RED CROSS WORK

To the Public: Just so sure as our children live to grow up they will some day face us with the eager question, "And what did you do to help in war times?"

Surely there must be many mothers in Medford who long to help but cannot because of the care of little ones. Why not conserve our time in this crisis of the world? Why not throw ourselves into Red Cross work just now when fresh members are so badly needed.

No cooler, pleasanter place could be found for children than our city park. They will be well cared for by mothers who cannot leave their own children. Several young girls have offered their services. There will be no lack of proper oversight and the youngsters will enjoy the change.

Bring the children to the park next Friday any time from 9 to 4, including the lunch hour. If it rains there will be indoor games and stories.

Mrs. J. E. Gribble, phone 716L, will be glad to answer any questions. MRS. FRED N. CUMMINGS, MRS. GLENN FABRICK, MRS. VAN R. PIERSON, MRS. J. E. GRIBBLE, Committee.

PLAY MIKADO AT PHOENIX GROVE THURSDAY EVENING

There is more preparation being made for the open air performance of Mikado which takes place in the Phoenix Grove tomorrow evening, Thursday, June 27th, than any entertainment produced in the valley for years.

The ladies are bringing flowers from all parts of the valley and decorating the stage. The costumes arrived from San Francisco this morning and they meet all the requirements of a magnificent production of Mikado. With the natural floral scenery and the beautiful costumes when the floodlights are turned on will make a picture that will be worth while seeing.

The entrance and highway will be well policed and the cars parked so as to avoid confusion.

The ladies of the Phoenix Red Cross unit are working very hard to make this entertainment a great success for the Red Cross, and the present indications are such that they are convinced they will not be disappointed. The grove will be well seated and no extra charge made for seats.

Tickets will be 50 cents at the gate which will cover the entire expense of the entertainment.
