EM-TEES

By Amelia Josephine Burr of The Vigilantes. Out of wild seas of blood arose the star, Glorious France, that lights our sky today.

The pledge that the road be stern and far. No child of Liberty shall lose the way. She has known all and suffered all—and now

She stands a holy sign in all men's sight. With God's own glory on her bleeding brow. Her victory is won in hell's despite. Weary to death, but always firm of soul.

She struggled onward thru her red morass— And now her children, at her dream's great goal. Cry to all ages, "Evil shall not pass!"

Russia, remember France—take heart—beware The only fatal enemy . . . despair!

YE FRIENDS OF PEACE

(A song for Basile d'Ally in France.) Ye friends of France, allied in battle, Now sound again your clarion call: Men shall not be as Kaiser's cattle, But freedom shall be shared by all! Yea, freedom shall be shared by all And all shall realize its glory.

We do not share the bloody fight For any mean or narrow right, But all for all shall be our story! For all! for all! ye brave, Whose eyes and swords are wet! March on! march on! march on to save!

For Right shall triumph yet.

Ye friends of France now joined together, Whose hands are linked across the sea,

Who stand the stress of war's wild weather, And proudly hold your banners free! Yea, proudly hold your banners free On every field and tower and steep.

Their flame shall brighten all the sky And earth remain, where they shall fly.

A heritage for all the people! For all! for all! ye brave! Ye high of heart and mind! March on! march on! march on to save!

For France and all our kind!

The Dear!

Louise—Turn your face this way, Louise—You'll kiss me if I do. Louise—No, I won't. Louise—Then what's the use?

A MEDFORD MAN'S EXPERIENCE

Can you doubt the evidence of this Medford citizen? You can verify Medford endorsement. Read this:

Edwin J. White, proprietor dairy, 222 East Main street, says: "I was nearly laid up with an attack of lumbago. It came on without any warning and I thought my back was broken. I couldn't straighten up and went about all bent over. A friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and soon I was able to get about. It required only one box to fix me up in fine shape and since then I have never had any trouble with my back and kidneys."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. White had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A LONG WAY TO NOWHERE.

SENATOR OWEN, in discussing the five by four supreme court decision invalidating the child-labor law, makes that branch of government out to be worse than useless.

"Cases are decided by the dozen in which there is a majority of the supreme justices on one side and a minority on the other. Every time the majority thus decides a case, there is also a judicial ascertainment by the court of the fallibility of each member of the minority."

Certainly, and in about nine decisions out of ten the court stands self-confessed that it doesn't know constitutionality when it sees it, because every justice will, in one decision or another, have been declared wrong by the majority of his fellows. Yet, this court is the body which, practically determines what our government shall be. Law is not law until five of these nine fallible lawyers, say so. It is an expensive body and one most embarrassing to justice, since justice must be prompt lest its virtue decay. And our plan of getting into that court with the laws we want is silly.

After many months of editorializing by the press, ratification in committee halls, and lobbying at the capital, a plan for the child labor was agreed upon. The United States supreme court was right next door while this fuss was going on. Then came hours and hours of oratorical fireworks on the floors of the house and senate and a vote on the plan, with the United States supreme court next door. Then the president carefully studied and signed the plan, with the United States supreme court next door to him. Then the plan went into operation where especially intended. And, after all this, the United States supreme court says the plan is no good. We were just like fool chicken raisers putting eggs into the incubator, without knowing that they were impregnated.

Common sense, justice, democracy and every other consideration requires a change in our governing court of fallible lawyers. We might cut the number of judges to one, and submit plans to him before we go through the work and expense of enacting them into what we think are laws; or, we might require a unanimous decision of the court, else laws stand as enacted by congress. As things go, we can't get what we want, even when near half of that fallible court is with us.

DOMINIONS GIVEN VOICE IN WORDING TERMS OF PEACE

LONDON, July 15.—The governments of British dominions will have a voice in determining the terms of peace, according to Mr. Lloyd George.

The prime minister made this statement in a speech at a dinner given in honor of the Canadian editors who are visiting England, at which Lord Beaverbrook was the host.

"This is a war in which we engaged the empire," said the premier, "when we had no time to consult the dominions as to policy and it is perfectly true that the policy which we adopted to protect small nations in Europe was a policy embarked upon without any consultation with the dominions. But you approve it. Henceforth you have the right to be consulted as to the policy before hand, and this is the change which has been effected as a result of the war."

"The contributions which you have made to enforce these treaties have given you the undeniable right to a voice in the fashioning of the policy which may commit you, and, for that reason, an imperial war cabinet is a reality."

"Another point in which you have a voice is in the settlement of the conditions of peace. We have in this war aims and the conditions under which we are prepared to make peace at the war cabinet. We arrived at an agreement on the subject last year with the representatives of the dominions, and we shall reconsider the same problems in the light of events, which have occurred since—and we shall reconsider the whole of these problems, I have no doubt, in the course of the next few weeks."

"There must be no lugger-mugger peace. It must be a real peace. We are not waging war for the sake of killing or being killed, but for the sake of establishing a just and durable peace for the world. You cannot make peace unless it is both just and likely to endure."

3000 .45 CALIBER PISTOLS MADE DAILY

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Quadrupled requirements of pistols by the expeditionary army has forced the ordnance department to increase its output of .45 caliber pistols. Factories are being organized for this purpose. Daily production is now about 3000 and is still growing.

POLISH NEWSPAPERS CEASE PUBLICATION

STOCKHOLM, July 15.—Polish newspapers in Warsaw have been compelled to cease publication owing to a strike of printers, supported by the editorial staffs. Trouble with the German military authorities as to the news published is the cause.

LAST VESTIGES OF GERMAN TRADE IN ENGLAND GONE

LONDON, July 15.—The last vestiges of the once formidable German trade in England are fast disappearing.

Under the trading with the enemy act, passed in 1916, England paved the way for purging herself from all Teutonic trade influences after the war. The intricate systems by which the Germans obtained control of many of the industries in the islands have either been abolished or taken over by the government.

In February, 1916, committee was appointed under the leadership of Ernest Moon, counsel to the speaker of the house of commons, to investigate conditions relative to businesses which appeared, by reason of the enemy nationality of the persons conducting them, to be carried on for the benefit of German subjects.

Since then the committee has had under investigation more than 900 cases, of which 507 were forced to discontinue business and 190 were placed in charge of the government. The rest are being carefully watched. Many concerns operating under English names and charters were found to be controlled by enemy aliens, with the intent of hiding their identity from the public.

Throughout the country steps are now being taken to prevent the Teutonic trade powers from obtaining control of certain trades after the war.

HEAVIER TAX ON WAR PROFITEERS

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Draft the war profits. Put a heavier tax on profiteers. These are the ideas which will guide the democratic members of the ways and means committee in framing a new $3,000,000,000 revenue bill.

The recent report made by the federal trade commission has thrown a flood of light on the sources of possible revenue. There were suspicious before that certain people might be profiteering, but it remained for the commission to show in figures exactly what had been happening.

Price fixing, according to the commission, has not curbed profiteering. The administration has been aware of the fact, but has had two objects in mind. The first was to stimulate production.

Now the time has come to carry out the second part of the program, which is to tax a large share of the profit of the big fellows into the public treasury.

EASTERN FRONT TO BE RESTORED IF FINLAND JOINS WAR

LONDON, July 15.—America and the allies are about to face another enemy—the pro-German government of Finland.

Intervention by the allies in Russia is likely to come, not through a Japanese agent at Vladivostok, but through an American, French and British force in Arctic Russia and Finland.

It will probably result in the restoration of the eastern battle front and ultimately occupation of Petrograd by the allies—unless the Germans and their Finnish dupes get there first.

These are the outstanding features of the somewhat jumbled situation in northeastern Russia.

The "White Guard" government of Finland is reported in one dispatch already to have declared war on the entente. Whether this is true or not, it is only a question of time when the Finnish government, under German pressure, will come out openly against the allies.

Further German Project

The government of President Svinhufvud will declare that Finland seeks to realize the Finnish "national aspirations" in the annexation of the Russian province of Karelia and parts of the province of Archangel, which contains many Finns.

But in reality the purpose of the Finnish aggression in Russia is to further the German project of an all-Russian route from Kola, the only Russian Arctic port which is ice free the year round, to Baghdad and India.

This has been the underlying purpose of the whole scheme of German domination in Finland. It probably includes the occupation of Petrograd and Moscow by the Germans.

Even before the Finnish White Guards, or pro-German troops, had retrieved Helsingfors, their capital, from the Red Guards, they had sent an expedition to the White Sea at Kola, 150 miles east of the Finnish frontier. This army sought to occupy the Murman railroad, running from Petrograd to Kola, and cut the Russians off from their open port.

Germans Advance on Road

This effort was defeated by local Polish or Red Guards, aided by British and French marines, who are guarding the railroad.

Since then the Germans have taken control of the Finnish army and have sent from 40,000 to 75,000 German troops into Finland to resume the attempt to capture the Murman railroad. General Mannerheim, who commanded the Finnish White Guard, has been supplanted by the German General Von Der Goltz.

This German-Finnish army is now again advancing along the railroad toward the north, and it is this situation which gives the allies cause for the greatest alarm.

Great stores of munitions and supplies from the factories of America and the allies, sent to Russia before her collapse, have accumulated at Kola, Archangel and other points in this territory. It would be a serious matter if these fell into the hands of the Germans.

It is, therefore, of vital importance for the allies to keep the Murman railroad clear and keep the White Guards and Germans out of Russian territory along the White Sea.

A force of American, British and French marines has been at Kola for several months. How large this force is only the war offices of the allies know. I fop war breaks out between Finland and the entente, however, it will undoubtedly have to be reinforced by infantry and artillery regiments.

Would Occupy Petrograd

This army would advance southward along the railroad and drive the Germans and White Guards back across the border. To keep the line protected it would probably be necessary to restore the eastern battle front, but it would be far to the north of the old front along the border of East Prussia.

It would probably include the occupation of Petrograd. Thus the question of allied intervention in Russia, on which the allied war council is said to have reached a decision, will cease to become a question and will become a fact of an immediate necessity for a "drive" from the Murman coast southward.

The country the allied troops have

BULGARIA MAY BE FIRST TO QUIT CENTRAL POWERS

LONDON, July 15.—Bulgaria, facing starvation and ruin, may be the first of the central powers' alliance to desert Kaiser Wilhelm and his war.

Recent dispatches show that internal conditions in Bulgaria are rapidly approaching a state similar to those in Germany and Austria—particularly Austria.

Hundreds of people are dying from starvation and disease. Outbreaks have been repressed by barbarous methods. Both the army and the people of Bulgaria are clamoring for peace.

Boys Sent to Front

The army has been so weakened by deaths and desertions that the class of 1918 has been sent into the first line trenches.

With conditions such as these facing him at home, Czar Ferdinand, who is with one exception Europe's most despicable and unprincipled ruler, is demanding so much in the way of territorial concessions in the Balkans that the Kaiser is having trouble to keep him in the war.

Turkey and Bulgaria have never been able to settle their fringes over the spoils of the Balkan war of 1912. Bulgaria's extravagant demands cannot be satisfied except at the expense of Turkey.

The Kaiser's Problem

Therefore the Kaiser and his minions are face to face with the task of pacifying both their Balkan allies.

Kaiser Wilhelm has so far favored his dear friend and fellow despoiler, Czar Ferdinand, and there is reason to believe that he has secretly promised Ferdinand to help him realize his ambition to become emperor of the Balkans.

But if he makes good his promise, Wilhelm will have Turkey's new Sultan and a big Turkish army on his neck. Turkey controls the destinies of more people than Bulgaria, and it also controls the southern end of the Kaiser's "Berlin-to-Bagdad" aspirations.

So if it came to a real clash between Turkey and Bulgaria, which is now threatening, the chances are the Kaiser would stand by Turkey and let Bulgaria go hand, in which case Czar Ferdinand would drop out of the war.

LOGGERS WANTED FOR SPRUCE WORK

PORTLAND, July 15.—A call for 175 men skilled in logging and saw-mill work must be filled by volunteers from Oregon by July 25, or enough men will be drafted from special and limited service men in class 1 to fill the quota.

The skilled workmen required are as follows: 70 chokermen, 50 head buckers, 24 doggers, 6 general saw mill foremen and 25 planer trimmermen.

Volunteers of this service must be of draft age, and are particularly desired from classes II, III, and IV. Those who volunteer for the work will be sent to Vancouver, Wash., for engagement in producing spruce for airplanes, which is one of the most important branches of the whole service just now.

"These are exceptional opportunities for energetic and ambitious men," says the war department circular calling for the men. "The men inducted under these calls will be engaged in producing spruce for airplanes in the great northwest woods."

to traverse is not entirely hostile, for its civilian population is intensely anti-German. Leaders of the people along the Murman coast have already appealed to the allied consuls at Kola for protection. Latest reports say that the entire population of this district have taken matters into their own hands, broken with Russia and joined the entente through its local commune.

If the allies take aggressive action in Murmansk, haste will be the chief requirement, for the advent of winter will seriously interfere with the shipment of troops and supplies.

FRUIT SYRUPS REQUIRE NO SUGAR BUT REPLACE IT

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Sweet fruit syrups require no sugar in the making and may be used in place of sugar in several ways in general cooking, according to specialists of the United States department of agriculture. Apple sirup is especially good for cakes, hot biscuits, candies and seasoning.

To make it add 5 ounces of powdered calcium carbonate to 7 gallons of apple cider. Powdered calcium carbonate (carbonate of lime) or, to give it its common name, precipitated chalk, is low-priced and harmless.

Boil the mixture in a kettle or vat vigorously for five minutes. Pour the liquid into vessels, preferably glass jars or pitchers; allow to stand six or eight hours, or until perfectly clear. Pour the clear liquid into a preserving kettle. Do not allow sediment at bottom to enter. Add to the clear liquid one level teaspoonful of lime carbonate and stir thoroughly. The process is completed by boiling down rapidly to a clear liquid. Use density gauge or candy thermometer and bring the temperature up to 220 degrees F. If a thermometer is not available, boil until bulk is reduced to one-seventh of the original volume. To determine whether the sirup is cooked enough test as for candy—by pouring a little into cold water.

If soiled enough it should have the consistency of maple sirup. It should not be cooked long enough to harden like candy when tested. When the test shows that the sirup has been cooked enough, pour it into fruit jars, pitchers, etc., and allow it to cool slowly. Slow cooling is important, as otherwise the suspended matter will not settle properly and the sirup will be cloudy.

A good way to insure slow cooling is to stand the vessels, full of sirup, in a bucket or a wash boiler of hot water or to place them in a fireless cooker. The white sediment which settles out during cooking is called "maltate of lime" and is a harmless compound of lime with the natural acid of the apple. When the sirup is cooled, it should be stored in fruit jars, bottles, or jugs and corks. Place the rubber and cap or cotton stopper in position and tighten. Place the container in boiling hot water and sterilize for the length of time given below for the particular type of outfit used:

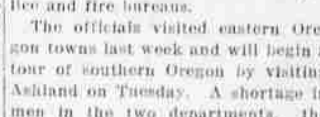

Minutes. Water bath, homemade or commercial 15; Water seal, 214 degrees 10; 5 pounds steam pressure 8; 10 pounds steam pressure 5; Remove jars and tighten covers. Invert to cool, and test the joints. Store for future use. This recipe is for making sirup primarily for home consumption. If the product is to be sold, legal requirements as to labeling should be ascertained and complied with.

PORTLAND SEEKS POLICEMEN HERE

Two Portland officials, Chief of Police N. F. Johnson and Secretary of the Civil Service Board O. C. Hertzmeier will visit Medford Wednesday for the purpose of recruiting men for service in the Portland police and fire bureaus.

The officials visited eastern Oregon towns last week and will begin a tour of southern Oregon by visiting Ashland on Tuesday. A shortage in men in the two departments, the necessity of keeping both bureaus fully recruited and the inability to secure men suitable in Portland, is the reason for the present tour throughout the state.

You Can't Rub It Away; Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain. You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all traces of the disease from their system.
