UNDERWORLD SHOWN AT RIALTO Picturesque scenes and thrilling incidents of New York's great underworld are set forth vividly and realistically in the photoplay feature which is to be presented at the Rialto tonight and tomorrow matinee and night. The picture is entitled "A Romance of the Underworld" and stars Catherine Calvert, known as "The Lady Beautiful of the Screen." Miss Calvert was the wife of the late Paul Armstrong, one of America's most famous playwrights. The picture is an adaptation of his most popular drama, "A Romance of the Underworld," in which she was featured. In the picture she is supported by an all star cast, including David Powell, Eugene O'Brien, Edwin Forberg and Sybil Carmen. This thrilling six-reeler is in reality an expose of the drug and opium traffic. It tells a gripping story of love, crime and intrigue. It shows conditions in their true light, so that popular sentiment may be aroused against them. It is an all-New-York picture and offers a wonderful opportunity of instruction for those unfamiliar with the characters and scenes of the underworld of the great metropolis. DOUBLE BILL AT PAGE TONIGHT Any person who has traveled throughout this country, will at once recognize the hotel life in certain localities where the jack-of-all-trades man of the hotel is the dominant spirit, as shown in Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle's newest comedy, "The Bell Boy," which will be presented at the Page theater today and Saturday. It remains for Mr. Arbuckle, the chief funmaker in this enjoyable Paramount-Arbuckle comedy, to portray some of the laughable characteristics of a combination bell boy, waiter, barber, elevator operator, general utility man and sunny other things usually encountered in such an environment. On the same bill is Billie Burke in "Let's Get a Divorce." The story of this splendid picture play has to do with a convent girl in southern France, whose romantic soul prompts her to indulge in harmless flirtations. She weds a student, but when he settles down to a humdrum marital existence, the romance in her nature again asserts itself. She meets another man whom she thinks she loves and begs her husband to divorce her in order that she may wed again. This provokes numerous complications, and in the scenes that ensue, comedy, pathos and heart appealing moments, are blended with highly satisfactory results. Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life." —Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1316 S. Orchard St., Urbana, Ill. Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches and "the blues," should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
