

VALUE OF MILK AS FOOD SHOWN BY DEMONSTRATOR

To have the people of Medford understand the value of milk as a food, a dairy demonstration is being planned by Miss McCormick, the home demonstration agent. This meeting and demonstration is to be held at the Page theatre next Tuesday evening, at 8:30 p. m.

Dr. Gorham Lusk of the Cornell medical school says:

"No family of five persons should buy meat until it has bought three quarts of milk. Milk is cheap at this price compared to meat as a food."

An American Red Cross nurse in Belgium wrote back to a friend at home an account of a visit to a hospital filled with children suffering from rickets, hundreds of them, and all of them there because there wasn't enough food to go round, enough fat, milk, fruit, things that are essential to make children grow and keep well and happy. Without milk they couldn't be cured, and there was not enough milk to be had. The cows of Belgium are dry or dead or have been exported to Germany.

Unfortunately we can't share our milk with the babies of Belgium. There is danger with a few cents added to the price that we may not give our own babies enough and they may share the fate of babies in Belgium. Milk is one food we must not cut down on; in fact, there is every reason to increase our consumption in order to increase the production and that we may be able to do without other things.

If other things have to be dispensed with, milk must stay, we must use more of it rather than less. Children cannot be happy and well and made ready for the work they are to do in the world without plenty of milk, at least a quart a day for each child.

RUSSIA AND GERMANY SCRAMBLE FOR FOOD

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The food situation between Germany and Russia has reached an acute stage, according to advices received today at the state department. There is not enough food for both countries and the question as to who will get what provisions there are has reached a critical stage.

German soldiers with threshing machines are sent into the grain countries and the grain is requisitioned. The Russian peasants are allowed only such amounts as the soldiers decide they need.

The Germans also were said to be requisitioning cattle and horses in Poland and Lithuania and to be helping themselves to timber in these countries.

Information also reached the department today that the reason for the refusal of the allies diplomats at Volodga to accept the Bolshevik invitation to move to Moscow was that the soviet capital already is controlled by the German armed forces.

DIED

REAMES—Mrs. Edith T. Reames, wife of A. E. Reames, died early Saturday morning, July 27 at Portland, aged 45. She had been in poor health for the past few months and left a few weeks ago to visit relatives in the metropolis, hoping to benefit by the change in climate. Mr. Reames returned Wednesday from Portland, leaving her apparently much improved and her sudden death was a severe shock to her family and a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Reames was born in Hillsboro, the daughter of the late Congressman T. B. Tongue, and has been a resident of Jacksonville and Medford since her marriage a score of years ago. She was prominent in social and religious circles and is survived by her mother, two brothers and three sisters. Mr. Reames left at once for Portland. Funeral announcement will be made later.

two more army corps, General March explained that the divisions comprising them and other corps are assigned before leaving this country, to be mobilized as corps when their training has been completed. With this understanding he said the 53rd division national army (Major General E. F. Glenn), 89th national army (Brig. General Frank L. Winn), 37th national guard (Major General William S. Farnsworth), 29th national guard (Major General Charles G. Morton), 99th national army (Major General Henry Ballen), 92nd (negro) national army (Major General C. C. Ballou) have been assigned to the fourth corps.

General March said the 32nd national guard division, composed principally of Michigan troops and commanded by Major General Haan is now in the Vosges on a quiet sector.

Commanders of Corps

General March announced the temporary commanders of the five corps as follows: First corps, Major General Hunter Liggett; second corps, Major General Robert L. Bullard; third corps, Major General William M. Wright; fourth corps, Major General George W. Reed; fifth corps, Major General Omar Bundy.

The fifth army corps includes the sixth regular division (Major General George L. Irwin (thirty-sixth national guard, Major General William R. Smith) 79th national army (Major General Joseph E. Kuhn), 85th national army, (Major General C. W. Kennedy), 91st national army (Brigadier General Frederick S. Foltz, temporarily in command), and 76th national army (Major General Henry C. Hodges, Jr.)

Major General Ruchmann, has been assigned to command the North Atlantic coast artillery district, General March announced.

The chief of staff said it would be the policy of the department to continue organizing additional divisions as those in this country are sent abroad.

Secretary Baker told the senators that he did not believe the torpedoing of the Justicia would interfere with the transporting of American troops.

The military situation on the western front was explained in detail and was said to be favorable.

Airplane Production

Secretary Baker said that so far 743 of the Haviland-Four airplanes have been completed in this country and more than 400 shipped to France. The last report from General Pershing said that 67 had been received but he had made no report regarding the number actually now in use on the American front.

Secretary Baker said General Pershing had criticized some of the Haviland machines, suggesting structural changes.

Five thousand heavy Browning guns, Secretary Baker said, have been completed but have not yet been sent to General Pershing. Quantity production of both the heavy and light Browning, he added, is increasing.

First Four Divisions

General March also announced the composition of the first four regular army divisions, among the first to be sent to France. They follow:

First division—Sixteenth, eighteenth, twenty-sixth and twenty-eighth infantry; fifth, sixth and seventh field artillery.

Second division—Fifth and sixth marine regiments, ninth and twenty-third infantry; twelfth, fifteenth and seventeenth field artillery.

Third division—Fourth, seventh, thirtieth and thirty-eighth infantry; tenth, eighteenth, twenty-sixth field artillery.

Fourth division—thirty-ninth, forty-seventh, fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth infantry, and thirteenth, sixteenth and seventy-seventh field artillery.

AT THE RIALTO SUNDAY

"Good Night, Paul" Constance Talmadge's latest picture in which she is presented in a screen adaptation of the musical comedy success of the same name will be seen here Sunday and Monday at the Rialto theatre. It is a wholesome comedy-drama of the type this young, talented star is rapidly making her own, with the humor predominant; there is a laugh in every foot of the film, heightened now and again by a moment of suspense or a thrilling situation.

them in a pocket within the larger pocket.

Held Marne Bank

West of Port-A-Binson the Germans hold the north bank of the Marne for a considerable distance and the French apparently have struck at the angle between the German line along the river and that from the Marne toward Rheims.

Along the western side of the German salient there is no official mention of events of special importance last night.

The allied artillery is pouring a heavy fire on the German bases within the Marne salient. The entire region is within the range of the big guns, and as on the previous days, they continue to hammer the enemy unceasingly. Allied airmen have increased the intensity of their bombing operations.

From the Ourcq to the Marne and along the Marne the Germans have been cleared almost entirely from the Fere and Ris forests and the Tournele wood and now stand with their backs against the virtually empty plateau between Fere-En-Tardenois and Ville-En-Tardenois. The allied lines are within a few miles of these places and Fere, originally the most important southern base, is of no use to the enemy, allied guns dominating the town and diverging roads.

Still Withdrawing

It is believed the German crown prince continues to withdraw his men and supplies from the salient. Further fires have been seen and explosions heard within the enemy lines.

All the ground gained along the Marne in the onslaught of July 15 has been lost to the Germans except a stretch of eight miles.

The latest estimate of German prisoners taken since July 15, is 20,000.

British airmen in the past week have accounted for 91 enemy machines while losing 51. Long distance raiding was the greatest during the war. Twenty-five incursions into Germany were made and 154 tons of bombs dropped. Zebrunge and Ostend also were bombed.

BRITAIN TO DRAFT STRIKING WORKERS TO SWELL ARMY

LONDON, July 27.—Premier Lloyd George has announced in behalf of the government that all men who are wilfully absent from work on or after Monday next will be deemed to have voluntarily placed themselves on the munitions industries. Protection certificates will cease to have effect and the men will become liable to the provisions of the military service act, the premier added.

The statement pointed out that certain workers had quit their jobs in disregard of their leaders and remained idle against the advice of the union advisory committee.

"They have ceased work," the statement said, "not in pursuance of a trade dispute but in an endeavor to force the government to change a national policy essential to the prosecution of the war."

"While millions of their fellow country men hourly are facing danger and death for their country, the men on strike have been granted exemptions from these perils only because their services are considered of more value to the state in the workshop than in the army."

ies at Offenbach also came in for shelling twice.

Aerial attacks on German naval and submarine bases on the Belgian coast continued day and night. Upwards of twenty tons of explosives were dropped on Zebrunge and Ostend.

On the Italian front the air fighting resulted in the downing of 19 enemy machines without the loss of a single British aircraft.

25 RAIDS MADE INTO GERMANY BY ALLIED AIRSHIPS

LONDON, July 27.—Throughout the week the aerial fighting on the western battle front has been of a violent character. From a trustworthy source it is learned that during the week the British downed 76 enemy machines and drove down 15 out of control. Fifty-one British machines are missing.

One hundred and fifty-four tons of bombs were dropped during the week.

The week's record for long distance bombing attacks was the heaviest of the war. Twenty-five separate raids were made into German territory. Thionville was bombed four times and the famous poison gas factory and munitions works at Mannheim twice. The blast furnaces at Burbach and the railway and factor-
