

GENERAL LIGGETT WINS HIGH POST UPON HIS MERITS

(By George B. Newland.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Here in the hub of big affairs where generals and admirals are as numerous as adjectives in a graduation essay, where celebrities go outdoors for elbow room—in this dazzling dictionary of military brains and achievement the name of Major General Hunter Liggett remains in black face type.

The man who has just been chosen to command the first American army corps in France—next to Pershing's the biggest job in our war game—isn't readily forgotten. He has not been stationed in Washington for three years, but the memory of him is fresh.

The announcement of his elevation to actual fighting leadership at the front was not, therefore, a surprise to those who have followed the development of the army.

Never Gives Up The first conspicuous thing heard of him was during the early days of the Philippine insurrection. He was major of the Third Battalion, Thirty-first infantry. On the way over from San Francisco the vessel carrying the troops, of whom he was in command, troops, of whom he was in command, the old tub "Immanence," as different from modern troopships as a decrepit wooden coach is from a steel Pullman.

After two days and nights of frantic searching the companion ship came upon the "Immanence." She was half full of water. Soldiers standing waist-deep in brine, were pumping and bailing like fiends. And in the middle of the mess, himself soaked and bedraggled, was Liggett. They had wanted to quit, would have quit through sheer fatigue greater than fear of death itself. But Liggett wouldn't let 'em.

Two years in the hysterical islands and then it was back to America as adjutant to General Carter. He was made a lieutenant-colonel and then colonel.

Student of Technic A little later Liggett showed up at the war college here, where he created a reputation as prodigious student of the technic of war. He was especially keen for the great battles of the Civil war. He entered the college in 1909 as a student officer. A year later he was director and in his third year he became president.

Still no one knew him beyond the shadow of the war college cupola. That was why the newspapers wondered a bit when, following the dispatch of Admiral Fletcher to Vera Cruz, Liggett—with a "brigadier general" fronting his name—was sent to the border. He did so well there that when he was transferred to command the western department it was as major general. And that's all of Liggett's titular ascent up to now.

He stands six feet and is as erect as a lance. He has the makings of a first rate diplomat with his cordiality and broad knowledge. But, primarily, an ex-subordinate said: "He's all soldier!"

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Last Saturday evening Frank Haseton and Richard Muskoff were here for supper. Frank is one of our town boys who has enlisted in the service of his country and is here recuperating. He has been at Fort Columbia and has been on the sick list for some time. Mr. Muskoff is from Prospect, later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Lee Steers, Miss Abie Steers, Mr. and Mrs. Godding and two sons, Jack and Rex, were here for supper. They were returning from a trip to Crater Lake. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Buckler of Medford were with us also. They were also returning from Crater Lake.

During the past week there has been quite a lot of travel over the Crater Lake road going both ways. Generally when they go through from here to the lake they keep on and go out by Fort Klamath, Klamath Falls, Ashland and Medford. Among the tourists passing through here there is quite a number from the east; as far east as Texas, and quite a number from Idaho and Washington, all anxious to see the eighth wonder of the world—Crater lake.

The Red Cross dance here Saturday night was not so well attended as some of the others have been, but those in attendance report that they had a very pleasant time, if anything, better than the last, as there was not the jam or the unruly conduct that has been here on other occasions. There were 78 tickets sold and the receipts from the sale of humbugs amounted to $18. After deducting the expenses the R. C. S. realized about $50.

Sunday morning we had no Sunday school as the arrangement was to have all who could, go to Reese creek and take part in the "all day exercises" in connection with that and other schools. From what I can learn they had a very pleasant and profitable time.

I am requested to announce that Bro. William Driver and wife, who spent last Sunday in Butte Falls, will be here next Sunday, August 4, and that Mr. Driver will preach for us both morning and evening. If the reader of this notice wishes to hear a good old fashioned gospel sermon the can likely hear it at that time.

Last Sunday we didn't have the usual number here for dinner we have been having, owing largely to the fact that all off the young men of military age have gone into the army, except a very few who have not passed the examination and the most of them are off at work in the different places where help is required. But Sunday morning Mrs. E. Cook and her daughter Miss E. V. Cook, and Mrs. J. F. Bothrock of Medford arrived and shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Earnest McKee, their daughter, Miss Jeanette, Mrs. C. M. Delin, Misses Florence and Helen Reddy, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Platt and J. W. Cunningham of Medford arrived and after partaking of a "chicken dinner" Mr. McKee left the ladies here to visit the family and he motored up to the W. C. Daley ranch to see Mr. Ivan Daley on business, but failed to find him, but the ladies seem to have enjoyed themselves and they remained for supper.

Monday was one of our "blue Mondays" and there seemed to be but very few people visiting our town and it was so warm that those of us who exist here were so warm that we didn't stir around any more than we had to.

Tuesday the Grieson Bros. shipped ten sacks of wool.

Tuesday the P. & E. made its regular trip to Butte Falls and back, and from the length of the train seemed to be doing some business. They had in the train seven log cars, two wood cars, two lumber cars, a box car and the passenger coach. Among the passengers were Mrs. Emma Ellison and daughter of Portland, on her way to Butte Falls to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Langate, Miss Edith Lewis, formerly of Persist, but now of Medford, on her way to visit friends in Derby.

C. W. Scott, the business manager of the manganese mine on L. C. came out and brought Mr. Carl McDonald, who was on his way to join the colors.

Among the diners here Tuesday were William Warner, Mrs. M. Stien, Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher, Mr. P. S. Anderson, his two daughters, Misses Helen and Phena and L. A. Fifer, all of Medford, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bernice of San Francisco, Cal., and Mr. H. Tasher of Portland, called for supper. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce at the time the tract of land on the north and east of Big Butte known as "the unsurveyed" country, was settled by a number of people from Pennsylvania, were among those who located claims and Mr. Bruce went to work as a timber cruiser for the S. P. R. R. Co., and has been and still is in the employ of the company. After eating their supper they went on up to visit some of their old neighbors, the Kelsons on Big Butte.

M. S. Wood, one of our veterans of the civil war, made a business trip to Medford Wednesday morning in the Lewis jitney; there were two ladies in the car, passengers also.

Mrs. Florence Walker and family passed through Eagle Point Wednesday morning. They were just returning from a two weeks outing in the hills, in addition to his family, he had his father, who is now in his 95th year. Mrs. Walker said that he was considerable worried during the trip. Mrs. Thomas Smith, a married daughter, whose husband, is among the drafted soldiers, was with them.

Since my last report Frank Lewis has renewed his subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune.

Jud Ediss, Butte Falls, has subscribed for the Daily Mail Tribune. He paid up a short time ago and stopped his paper, but found that he missed it so that he subscribed again.

The following list of names were among those who subscribed to the Red Cross fund. The first two parties you omitted altogether, the rest have been mis-spelled and have been considered slackers while still being subscribers. Please make correction in this issue. The names are Richard Beeson, 50c; Welborn Beeson and family, $5; Thalina Seoson $1 instead of 50c. The name Earckuff should be Carduff; the name Dave Davis should be Dale Davis; the name H. B. Haven is H. B. Hazen; the name J. L. Mason should be J. C. Mason; the name William Richard should be William Packard; the name Albert Winter is Albert Painter; the name William Schriber should be William Schenier; Mr. and Miss J. Silva should be Mr. and Mrs. J. Silva.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Foss are spending a week or so at Crescent City, having taken the trip in their auto.

Mrs. J. H. Fuller returned Friday from Ashland where she had been during Chautauqua week.

The piece-work quilt presented to the Red Cross by Mrs. Mattison is on exhibition at Mr. Brown's store. This quilt has been placed there by the Red Cross and some two hundred shares have been placed in it at 10c a share. Don't fail to purchase a share before they are all taken.

Mrs. Blin Coleman and daughter Miss Dolpha of Jacksonville, motored up Wagner creek Sunday and were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brown and small daughter are guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Withrow. Mr. Brown and family arrived Sunday from Imperial Valley, Calif.

John Calvin and family were guests of Mr. Marion Tryer and family Sunday, Mrs. Calvin and children leaving on the evening train for Castle Rock, Wash., where they will visit her parents. Mr. Calvin expects to leave in a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ager were guests in town from Jacksonville one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Eaton, Mrs. Roads and two daughters of Ashland, were guests at the Vogell home Tuesday.

Charlie Holdridge and family motored to Grants Pass and spent Sunday on Rogue river.

Mr. Earl Scott left Tuesday for Klamath Falls. He expects to get work in the hay fields.

Miss Edythe Anderson will leave Saturday for Portland for a visit with her parents.

H. S. Gleims left Tuesday to attend the funeral of his brother who died Saturday in Texas.

J. H. Fuller of Oakmont Farm, has recently sold to F. C. Hollibaugh of the Valley View district a fine herd of registered Jerseys. Mr. Hollibaugh has now the largest herd of pure-bred stock in the valley. Mr. Fuller has still some young stock at Oakmont Farm which he will dispose of.

Rev. Black, who is on a visit in Medford from California, was a guest at Mr. Estes' home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Denham and family spent Tuesday on Rogue river. F. G. Barnes transacted business in Medford Saturday.

Miss McCormick will give a singing and drying demonstration in the domestic science room at the school house on Aug. 9th. A notice of the hour will be posted at the post office. Watch for it. Every one is invited to be present.

A joint meeting of the Woman's Missionary society and the Ladies' Aid will be held next Thursday afternoon in the Ashland park. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Church services as usual next Sunday.

Mrs. Wesley Vogel left on the early train Thursday morning for Portland. She will stop at Eugene for a visit with relatives before going to Portland where she will visit her daughter, Miss Callie who is attending Behnke Walker business college. Mrs. Vogel will visit at The Dalles, Seattle and Ocean Park before returning home the last of August. Miss Callie will return with her husband.

Too Weak to Fight The "Come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition because of overwork, lack of exercise, improper eating and living demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength. GOLD MEDAL Haarem Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful. Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it; whether his trouble comes from uric acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailments that beset the over-tired American. Don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. Accept no substitutes. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box, three sizes. They are the pure, original, imported Haarem Oil Capsules.
