Miss Hazel Lowe, recent graduate of the normal school at Chico, will be principal of schools the forthcoming year at Glenn, Calif.

Quietly and without any disturbance perceptible, marked the government's assumption of control over the telephone and telegraph wires of the country as represented in the local units of the respective lines. In the meantime the service in general is under control of the postoffice department. In a circular letter received by Warren Williams, manager of the local exchange of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, Theo. N. Vail, the veteran president of the Bell Telephone colossus dwells upon the fine sense of obligation and loyalty which has heretofore characterized the personnel of telephone employes throughout the nation, praises all who have been identified with the service, and asks that the same loyalty, fidelity and devotion be extended the government in its supervision under the new order of things. All phases of prompt and efficient service will continue as heretofore. "Ring 'em up!" but avoid the experience of the maiden lady who upon being asked by a niece if she ever entertained an offer of marriage, replied that the opportunity presented itself only once, and in that instance the proposal was over the phone, but alas, the gentleman got the wrong number.

Archie Million, of Sacramento, is here looking after property interests. He is in the employ of a big corporation in the capital city.

Born, Aug. 5, to Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Ruatton, whose home is on Walker avenue, twins, a fine sturdy boy and beautiful little girl. The mother is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. York.

J. C. Brainard, rancher and pedagogue, last year principal of the Eagle Point schools, is at Weed in the employ of lumber industry. He and his wife may visit other portions of California later on.

The entire net proceeds of the round-up will be turned over to the Red Cross. This means at Pendleton next month.

George Cyester, efficient clerk at the roundhouse in local depot yards, will about the middle of the month move from the present home, 74 Granite street, to the Calkins home on Laurel street.

Word from the Frohbach family at Three Forks, Montana, relates how they took pleasure in meeting the contingent of Ashland soldier boys who went east via Spokane instead of thru this terminal. Their greetings was not confined merely to words, but assumed the phase of a "shower" in the way of substantial courtesies.

Mrs. Clara Deisman, having returned from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Portland, has purchased the Charles Rogts place on lower Oak street, the premises of one and one-half acres including a slightly new bungalow.

Literal coils of fire have been heaped upon the head of an Ashland resident, inasmuch as a local paper reports that "the roof of Lee Porter," on Coolidge street, caught fire on Sunday afternoon.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The ship on which I sailed has arrived safely overseas" in the welcome news received lately from Andy McClellan, well-known Ashland boy, who is captain of Co. L, 363d Infantry. Word came thru the familiar Y. M. C. A. red triangle channels. Vernon Doran is at Fort McArthur, San Pedro, Cal. Alri Irwin of the marines is with the cruiser Helena in Asiatic waters, and his brother Lewis is at Camp Lewis. Glenn Young, of the engineer forestry division, is recuperating in hospital in France from effects of shell wound in knee. Carroll Wagner is at the officers training school, Portress Monroe, Va. Homer Payne is with the 52d aerod squad, Hemstead Plain, Long Island, New York. Fred Taylor, former business man here where he conducted the "Temple of Trade," died last Sunday at Camp Fremont, Cal. He was in the government service as a Y. M. C. A. worker. His remains will be brought to Ashland and buried by the side of his wife, who met her death several years ago as the result of an automobile accident near Corning, Cal.

July weather was on the warm order, with a maximum temperature of 94 on the 28th and 29th; minimum, 41 on the 27th. Precipitation .02. Clear days, 25. The precipitation for the seven months of 1918 has been 9.10, about 3 1/2 inches less by comparison with the mean rainfall during the same period for the past 38 years, which has been 12.85 inches for the months of January to July inclusive.

F. D. Swingle and family have returned from a month's stay in Klamath and Lake counties, mingling business with pleasure.

Rev. H. A. Carnahan is away on a visit to Modesto, and other California points.

Hal Emery, assistant cashier of the First National bank, is with his family, passing the customary fortnight's vacation with relatives and friends in Portland.

Miss Hazel Lowe, recent graduate of the normal school at Chico, will be principal of schools the forthcoming year at Glenn, Calif.

Quietly and without any disturbance perceptible, marked the government's assumption of control over the telephone and telegraph wires of the country as represented in the local units of the respective lines. In the meantime the service in general is under control of the postoffice department. In a circular letter received by Warren Williams, manager ally will be held at the Nazarene church on Wednesday afternoon and evening, Aug. 7, conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. D. Edwards, assisted by Mrs. Elva A. Hobart, pastor of the Free Methodist church. Testimony, song and praise features will be incorporated in the services.

Fred Hollibaugh, one of the progressive ranchers near Talent, who is making the raising of fine stock a specialty, has recently purchased from J. H. Fuller, of the same vicinity, five head of registered Jerseys, supplementing his notable herd of prize animals.

Mrs. M. H. Flock, of Sacramento, is visiting friends here, pending the absence of husband and sons in Canada where they have landed interests. The family formerly resided in Ashland, where Mr. Flock was in Southern Pacific employ as passenger conductor.

An old-fashioned camp meeting, held under Nazarene church auspices, will be held in local parks during the period from Aug. 23 to Sept. 8.

Health conditions in the big army camps is exemplified by statements of soldiers passing thru here. Citing Camp Lewis, for example, last week 27 men were reported ill out of the total number of 28,348 stationed there. Frequenters of the depot section during train time note with satisfaction the universal favorable statements which the soldiers make in connection with the care which the government exercises regarding their physical condition. They sometimes chafe under restrictions, but all agree that it is "for the good of the service."

Miss Marion Huntley has resigned the position as bookkeeper for the local office of the Oregon Gas & Electric company.
