The Jackson county draft board has received notification from the war department that hereafter men are not to be deferred after their call into the service. Heretofore in a number of cases men have been deferred to a later date on account of crops to be taken care of, but the new order does away entirely with this. The ruling, however, does not affect those men who have already had their induction into military service deferred to a later date.

of the Somme. More than 1,000 prisoners were taken in this operation which eliminates the bend in the line.

Field Marshal Haig's forces also are reported to have taken Boyelles and Boiry Bacquerelles and to be still pushing forward. They are piling up prisoners and guns.

The British have reached Gomme-court, which is considered to be the chief point of the German defense positions.

South of Gomme-court the British were attacking and pushing forward all along the line.

Greatest of War

The battle seems to be one of the greatest of the war.

The town of Meaulte, south of Albert, fell early in the British drive. The British troops pressing on here are crossing the Bray-Albert road.

Happy Valley to the north of Bray, was taken by Field Marshal Haig's troops after hard fighting.

Three German battalion headquarters have been taken in the locality of Happy Valley. Additional guns also have fallen into the hands of the British.

A number of new German divisions have been identified. They were rushed up in the hope of saving something from the disaster which threatens the whole German army on this front.

The latest report from the battle line says that the British are reaching out in the direction of Tara Hill, which is a thousand yards beyond Albert.

South of the Somme

South of the Somme the British have extended their line on a front of more than five miles, pushing into the German defenses, at the greatest depth for about two miles.

Details of the fighting north of the Somme, which continues, show that Albert actually was stormed by the British who crossed the river to the south and struck, anticipating the probable German intention of withdrawal.

The Germans now are fighting desperately to retain Gomme-court.

South of there the British are also pushing forward.

Reports from all points say that the battle is being on victoriously for the British.

Field Marshal Haig's men are killing great numbers of Germans and are making steady progress everywhere in spite of resistance from the enemy, who, if he retreats acknowledges that he is beaten, and if he stays and fights it out he is bound to suffer the heaviest casualties.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—A battle is being fought on the line of Libonne, to the Cojeul river south of Arras, a front of more than 25 miles, according to the official statement issued at the war office today.

The British troops are making progress at a number of points, the statement says, and adds that two enemy attacks each of Beaumont were repulsed during the night.

On the Lys front, the statement says, the British line was slightly advanced east of Le Tourret, northwest of Neuf Berquin and east of Outtersteen.

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKA, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. JOSEPHINE KIMBLE, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.
