

6000 WOMEN IN MOTOR SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Six thousand women are now included in the personnel of the Red Cross Motor corps service.

The motor service in six of the principal cities of the country that had previously been independent in its organization, has been amalgamated with the Red Cross corps.

The original khaki uniform of this service has been discarded and replaced by a new regulation uniform of the Red Cross Oxford gray.

Commanders will wear three silver diamonds embroidered on their shoulder straps. Captains will wear two silver diamonds; first lieutenants one and second lieutenants a gilt diamond.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

D. R. Patrick was here Wednesday and had an ad put in the Daily Mail Tribune advertising a lot of hogs for sale and the next morning was called up on the phone and that day by a little after noon had sold them to Ad Helmes of Ashland. It pays to advertise in a live paper.

Among other visitors to our town Wednesday afternoon were J. L. Robinson, P. W. McCabe, Mr. Findley, the tomato raiser, Miss Ruby Haley and her mother.

S. H. Harnish has taken the contract to carry the mail from here to Medford and back the days that the train goes to Butte Falls, namely Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, leaving here promptly at 4 o'clock p. m. The mail will close about 3:30 p. m.

Thursday Joe Arnes, W. H. Crenshaw, John Johnson, Alex Mathews, and Ad Helmes of Ashland were among the callers. Mr. Helmes stopped here for dinner and hired Mr. Harnish to take him out to Frank Rhodes place to look at the pigs D. R. Patrick had advertised the day before. Joe Mooman and your Eagle Point correspondent accompanied him.

J. P. Hanford of Lewiston, Idaho, but now working in the shipyard in Marshfield, Ore., came in on the P. & E. Thursday morning and took a room at the Sunnyside. The next day he had S. H. Harnish take him up on Elk creek to look at some of the O. and C. land that had been put on the market, and the next day they went up in the Lake creek country, and up to this hour, Saturday, 1:30, has not returned. He was looking for a homestead where he could irrigate the land, and finds that such places are very scarce.

Benj. Bishop and family have gone to Huckleberry Mountain for an outing and are expected home this afternoon.

Among the business callers Thursday afternoon was Miss Sarah Singleton, Peter Young, Timmie Dugan, F. J. Avers and wife.

Word came out from Trail Thursday evening that J. B. Davison was taken with paralysis while out from home and was being carried in on a stretcher in a very critical condition, and this morning the word came that he was gradually sinking. He is one of the old citizens of the Trail country and highly respected. He is a brother of Mrs. W. D. Knighton of Eagle Point and Mrs. Al Mayfield of Ashland.

MY GOOD MAN, YOU HAVE HURT YOURSELF BADLY ON THIS ROTTEN SIDEWALK. ALLOW ME TO HELP YOU TO YOUR HOME. WHERE DO YOU LIVE?

CUCH! O, WOW! THIS IS MY HOUSE RIGHT HERE. WOW! WOW!!

NUFF CED!!

OOOOO! WOW! WOW! WOW! OOOOOOOO!!!

day evening that J. B. Davison was taken with paralysis while out from home and was being carried in on a stretcher in a very critical condition, and this morning the word came that he was gradually sinking.

Among the diners at the Sunnyside Friday noon was A. B. Cunningham of Paul's Electric store, Medford, Dr. E. E. Emerson, Charles Pennington of Butte Falls, Ralph Beiberstead, one of the prosperous farmers between here and Brownboro, Guss Nichols, Ed Tucker, D. R. Patrick of Brownboro, Dr. J. S. Holmes and G. Gasket of the Holmes Veterinary hospital, Medford, and Charles Humphrey.

W. E. Hamel, wife and his sister, Miss Dorris Minter, passed through our town Friday morning on their way to Medford.

Sam Coy, who has been working out in the Fort Klamath country for the past six weeks, was a visitor in our town Friday and so was Mr. J. L. Robinson, one of our patriotic citizens, and while here the subject of the cost of substitutes for flour came up in conversation and he remarked that when the demand was made on those who had more than a sack of flour on hand to take it to the merchant and turn it on to the United States government that he had 600 pounds on hand and that he brought it in and turned it in to T. E. Nichols and a few days ago he took to the same store and bought a sack of the same flour and in it he had to pay $8.45 for it and the substitutes and that it looked as though there was something wrong somewhere. And that brought up the subject of an article in the Oregon Journal of Thursday, August 22, in which the writer criticizes the statement of W. B. Ayer, state food administrator. The F. A. says that the farmer who raises the grain complains more than anyone else about the prices of the wheat substitutes and is the one who produces the substitutes, that he is not controlled by the food administrator as to substitutes, but the miller is. The writer then takes up the prices and shows the profit the dealer makes on some of the substitutes. He takes July 11 as the day he quotes the prices. On that date the merchant made 25 cents on a quarter of a barrel of flour and on a 50 pound sack of five flour he made $1.25 and he paid $2.75 for a barrel of barley flour and sells it for $3.48, etc., giving the prices the merchant has to pay and the profit the farmer, who raises the grain, has to pay. He also calls the attention of the food administrator to the fact that the bakers in the city are allowed to use 80 per cent white wheat flour in making bread—that is designed for the city folk, the higher up—but the farmer is cut down to 50 per cent, thus forcing the masses of the bread eaters to patronize the bakers. And the conclusion was, that while no one wishes to condemn the government officials, they did seem to think that there was something wrong somewhere.

Among the passengers on the P. & E. Saturday morning were Mrs. Oberbeck and her granddaughter, Miss Bessie Chambers, and Mr. G. W. Coleman of Butte Falls.

J. M. Willey, one of our big orchardists, was in town Saturday morning and reports that he has sold his entire crop of apples to a California buyer.

Charles Painter and W. P. Holbrook started Saturday for Portland to work in the shipyards.

Since my last report C. Painter paid up a small balance on his subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune and ordered it stopped as he goes away.
