dumps of ammunition which they left behind last spring and which the Germans had not touched. They also have taken immense stores of German material.

Advance Four Miles

LONDON, Aug. 28.—British forces fighting east of Arras have reached the outskirts of Haucourt, Remy and Boiry Notre Dame, north of the Arras-Cambrai road, according to the official statement issued by the war office today.

The British line in the Flanders battle area has been advanced on a front of four miles astride the Neuf Berguin-Estaires road.

South of the Somme the British have taken Foucaourt, while north of the Somme they have attacked and taken the greater part of Trones wood.

French Advance Rapid

LONDON, Aug. 28, 4:45 p. m.—French troops have taken Pont L'Evêque on the north side of the Oise and about a mile from Noyon and have captured Chavigny, three miles north of Soissons, according to reports reaching here this afternoon. The French are said to be on the outskirts of Juvigny, a mile and a half northeast of Chavigny.

The French line in the Somme region begins at Marchelepot and runs as follows:

Licourt, Potte, Mesnil-Le-Petit, west of Nesle, Salente, west of Avricourt, Dives, Divette, west of Bois de la Reserve, Dive-Le-France and Passey. The French have advanced to a depth of six miles on a wide front, leaving the Germans in an awkward salient around Noyon.

ENEMY IN RETREAT.

They are approaching Combes after overpowering the Germans around Montauban and in the woods of the neighborhood and are east of Marcourt, which gives them possession of the high ground north of the river. Dompierre, south of the river and six miles west of Peronne, has fallen to General Rawlinson's men.

The intervening terrain toward Peronne is fairly level and open, but the Germans are struggling to hold the British in check.

Great French Advance

"French troops have moved eastward in the Roye sector an average of nearly two miles on a front of 12 1/2 miles. Roye, one of the principal points of the German defense south of the Somme, apparently fell to the French because of the pressure north and south of it. General Deney now is moving toward Nesle, whose capture is reported.

Allied artillery, tanks and airplanes are giving the infantry valiant help and are inflicting heavy losses on the Germans. The number of prisoners has been increased still further and great quantities of war material have been taken. Around Bapaume the British have recaptured ammunition dumps left behind in the March retreat. The supplies were found fit for use and the Germans suffered accordingly.

BATTLE RAGES ALONG BORDER WITH MEXICANS

and shouting across International avenue, the principal street of the twin towns and which forms the boundary line.

American soldiers on patrol duty returned the fire and an appeal for reinforcements was sent to Camp Stephen Little nearby. Lieutenant Colonel Herman responded at the head of four companies of infantry and two troops of negro cavalry. As Lieutenant Colonel Herman reached the boundary line he fell with a bullet wound in the right knee, but after receiving first aid treatment in the office of a nearby physician, he returned to the firing line and directed his troops.

Captain Is Killed

The first American military unit to cross the line was a troop of negro cavalry under command of Captain Hangerford, only 23 years old. Captain Hangerford was shot dead at the head of his command. His mother and sister are in Nogales.

The infantry followed the negro cavalrymen, who after dismounting on the Mexican side of the boundary line, rushed forward singing "Hail, hail, the gang's all here."

The cavalry men scattered into the brush, while the infantry, fighting in the open, were subjected to a withering fire from the Mexican rifles.

Several machine guns which were placed on the hills on the American side inflicted heavy casualties on the Mexicans, the machine gun bullets plowing through houses in all parts of the Mexican town.

After an hour and a half of steady fighting, the Mexicans ran up a white flag on top of the Mexican custom house and American Consul E. M. Lawton, who was in the consulate in the Mexican town, went into consultation with Captain A. J. Abasolo, commanding the Mexican federal troops.

Armistice Agreed Upon

At this meeting it was agreed to cease firing on both sides until 8 o'clock this morning, but desultory firing continued for more than an hour after this agreement was entered into owing to the difficulty of getting orders to civilian snipers and others who were widely scattered among the hills and upon the roofs of buildings.

The armistice agreement provided that American military and civil officials should meet this morning with the Mexican authorities to investigate the trouble and arrange a permanent agreement.

Among the severely wounded on the American side is Gaston Reddoch, a nephew of County Recorder Reddoch. Young Reddoch picked up a rifle of a wounded infantryman and joined in the fighting. He was shot through the neck and is in a critical condition.

The American town was guarded closely throughout the night by soldiers and hundreds of armed civilians.

Boundary Closed

The international boundary was closed to all traffic throughout the night.

On the Mexican side of the line, the residents of Nogales, Sonora, worked throughout the night clearing the streets of their city, listing the dead and caring for the wounded. Six dead were taken from one Mexican house.

Many horses were shot down in the streets, and wagons, automobiles and buildings were riddled with bullets. Mayor Panalaza of Nogales, Sonora, was killed while standing in front of the railway station in the Mexican town.

Pershing's Tribute to Troops

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, Aug. 27—(By the Associated Press). General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American army in France, has issued the following order:

"It fills me with pride to record in general orders a tribute to the service achievements of the first and third corps, comprising the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirty-second and Forty-second divisions of the American expeditionary forces.

"You came to this battlefield at a crucial hour for the allied cause. For almost four years the most formidable army the world has yet seen had pressed its invasion of France and stood threatening its capital. At no time has that army been more powerful and menacing than when, on July 15, it struck again to destroy in one great battle the brave men opposed to it, and to enforce its brutal will upon the world and civilization.

"Three days later, in conjunction with our allies, you counter-attacked. The allied armies gained a brilliant victory that marks the turning point of the war. You did more than to give the allies the support to which as a nation our faith was pledged. You proved that our altruism, our pacific spirit and our sense of justice have not blinded our virility, or our courage.

"You have shown that American initiative and energy are as fit for the tasks of war as for the pursuits of peace. You have justly won unstinted praise from our allies and the eternal gratitude of our countrymen.

"We have paid for our success with the lives of many of our brave comrades. We shall cherish their memory always and claim for our history and literature their bravery, achievement and sacrifice.

"This order will be read to all organizations at the first assembly, following its receipt. (Signed) "PERSHING."

EDISON MARSHALL ESCAPES LIGHTNING BOLT

Edison Marshall, the Medford author who is serving in the ordnance department of the army and is stationed at a camp near Augusta, Ga., had a close call from being struck by lightning one day last week. As it was he was shocked and knocked down.

He was seated in front of his tent during a thunder shower when all of a sudden there was a flash of lightning and he was knocked to the ground from his seat. When he arose he saw badly shocked soldiers being carried from his row of tents to waiting ambulances. It seems that the lightning bolt only struck along this row. One soldier was killed, but the others were only shocked.

A peculiar feature of the episode was that a soldier was standing leaning against a telegraph pole with his bare arm about the pole when the lightning struck a tree across the company street and left a perfect image of the tree imbedded upon his arm.

Hammond is crippled from a stroke of paralysis received in infancy, and is known to be feeble minded. Because of his tendency to purloin articles and cause trouble other ways he has been the subject of investigations by the police and prosecutor in times past. Over a year ago he was committed to the state institution for feeble minded, but was not taken there because ever since the institution has been crowded to capacity, and is that now. What to do with Hammond is now puzzling the juvenile court.

METAL PRODUCTION BILL INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Government production of metals and minerals needed for the war is proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Henderson of Nevada after conferences with Secretary Lane and Chairman Baruch of the war industries board. It is said to have the approval of President Wilson.

Under the measure the president would be authorized to regulate and take over undeveloped or insufficiently developed prospects, mines or smelters and operate them during the war under government direction either under a lease or other agreement.

A revolving fund of $50,000,000 would be provided and any number of corporations would be formed to carry out the purposes of the bill.

GERMAN GUNS TEACH PHOSPHORUS LESSON

LONDON, Aug. 28.—It was believed in the British munitions factories that sulphur and phosphorus must be removed from all steel used in making munitions. Analysis of German shells, however, shows large percentages of these elements, and it is now accepted that their action tends to harden steel. The British have profited by this secret.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Medford Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't go comfortably at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit. Medford readers will find convincing proof in the following testimony:

Daniel Flaten, C street, Jacksonville, Ore., says: "It is some six or seven years ago since I used Doan's Kidney Pills but I cannot forget how much good they did me. I suffered from weakness of the kidneys and other disorders that go with kidney complaint. I pained and ached all over. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and received benefit from the very first. Soon they had me straightened up in good shape."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Flaten had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.
