THE FUNSTON DOUBLE-TRACK

By Willard Watten. (On the way to Funston when troop trains pass, the men going in different directions reach out and slap hands.)

The trains that come from Funston Go rushing to the east. Across the greening corn land Where harvesting has ceased.

"You'll like it, boy, you'll like it," The lads in khaki shout; "Hey, bo, where are you going?"

DOUGHNUTS FOR DOUGHBOYS.

Patriots of Jackson county will soon be called upon to subscribe funds for the war work conducted by the Salvation Army.

The Salvationists have "huts" all along the line where the soldiers can get refreshments and entertainment—places that serve as reading and writing rooms—doing work also done by the Y. M. C. A.

Every person who has visited the front returns enthusiastic over the war work of the Salvation Army. Concerning the work, the "Stars and Stripes," the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary forces says:

"Well, we are all homeless over here, and every American soldier will take back with him a new affection and a new respect for the Salvation Army."

General G. B. Duncan, staff officer to General Pershing, says: "The Salvation Army has stepped very closely into the hearts of the men. Its efforts have the honest support of our chaplains."

Major General Leonard Wood remarks: "I have seen the work of the Salvation Army in France and consider it very helpful and valuable. It is a good work and should be encouraged."

A Rude Awakening

(From the New York Times.) At the end of four years of war the New-Yorker Staats-Zeitung, in an article, which does credit to the judgment, to the hearts, and to the Americanism of its owners and editors, casts up the account between Germany and the powers with which the empire is at war, and incidentally between the autocratic government of Germany and the people upon whom it has imposed dreadful burdens and sacrifice.

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Each Time Told Operation Would Be Her Only Hope

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Chas. Peden, residing at 550 Mill street, Huntsville, Alabama.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds and never felt better in my life."

"I had no appetite scarcely at all, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head."

"I had fallen off until I was almost 'skin and bones' and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and the knife."

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking Tanlac and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes fit me."

"As I have said before, I now weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds and none of my clothes are big enough for me, and I will have to make them over again."

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may if you wish, tell other women suffering as I was to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them about my case."
