HUNS DESTROY MUNITION DUMP

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTH OF THE VESLE, Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press). Violent explosions were heard along the line this morning. Observers reported that they believed the Germans were destroying their ammunition dumps.

An aviator reported a terrific explosion at 9 o'clock at Villers-En-Prayeres, on south bank of the river Aisne, directly north of Fumes. Other explosions took place in the same region during the morning.

Bazooche and Fismette were occupied by the Americans during the night. These towns had been evacuated by the Germans, only two or three wounded men who had been abandoned being found.

A group of "Red" army men, sailors, workmen and civilians refused to allow the departure of the copper until they were satisfied it would not fall into the hands of the Germans. They unloaded the copper and deposited it on the quay, and for a time resisted all attempts to reload the metal until they were assured of its destination.

GERMAN COPPER FAST DISAPPEARING

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 4.—A copper-less Germany will in all probability soon be a reality. Copper, one of the most necessary metals in the manufacture of munitions, is disappearing. The authorities have been reduced to desperate straits to make up the deficiency. Kitchen utensils having any copper in them have been requisitioned. This has also applied to all occupied territories, especially Russia.

Naturally this has aroused a lot of hard feeling, and this was given vent in Petrograd, where an attempt was made to ship 112 tons of copper to Sweden.

A group of "Red" army men, sailors, workmen and civilians refused to allow the departure of the copper until they were satisfied it would not fall into the hands of the Germans. They unloaded the copper and deposited it on the quay, and for a time resisted all attempts to reload the metal until they were assured of its destination.

Always the New Things Eirst at the MAY CO. Additional Proof of Which is Given by These

No scarcity here of silks or dress goods—as yet. Our assortments, everything considered, were never bigger or finer, or more diversified. Yet we strongly urge shoppers to supply their needs early—for three excellent reasons: First, because our stocks are at their newest and fullest. Second, because garments made from these fabrics now insure a full season's wear for their owner. Third, because difficulties in the way of replacement will be great unless a change for the better comes before our present stocks are exhausted. And, if a fourth reason were necessary, prices will hardly be so low later on.

Here are lovely new silks and rich new dress fabrics of every description in every weave, pattern and coloring that the fashion has adopted for Fall and Winter. Just a hint of our assortments.
