

ARMY LIEUTENANT WEDS MOTOR GIRL AT SAN FRANCISCO

many friends of Lieutenant McCurdy were much surprised of his marriage Monday evening at San Francisco to Miss Jean Bertheau, a member of the motor division of the Red Cross. The San Francisco Examiner contains the following account of the wedding: Married Monday Evening Miss Jeanette Bertheau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Bertheau, and Lieutenant Ralph McCurdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McCurdy of Medford, were married last night at Trinity chapel, the Rev. Hanson reading the ceremony in the presence of the relatives and a few friends. Today Lieutenant and Mrs. McCurdy leave for Madison, Wis., where he is to be an army instructor. They will reside there until he is ordered elsewhere. The church was simply adorned in flags and palms and on the altar were white lilies. At home, where a wedding supper was served to several score guests, the decorations were white and yellow chrysanthemums. The bride was attended by Mrs. Paul Fagan and Miss Elise Bertheau, with Miss Marie Louise Winslow as bridesmaid. The bride wore the usual wedding gown of white satin and real lace with a tulle veil forming a train and carried lilies of the valley and butterfly orchids. The three girls who accompanied her to the altar all wore pale-pink georgette and carried pink roses. P. Lee Menefee was best man and Lieutenant Claude Leffler and Clinton McCurdy were the ushers.

The exhibits will be in place by noon Thursday and will be open for exhibition in the afternoon. An admission fee of 15c will be charged for adults to cover expenses; children will be admitted free. The children from all the school districts have been preparing the exhibits for months and they will be well worth a visit. There will be hogs, sheep, chickens, rabbits, canning and school exhibits of all kinds, also canning contests by girl teams from over the county, also bicycle, running and other races.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Scholars from the Valleyview district, north of town, in which locality the school has been discontinued for the time being at least, are daily being brought to Ashland by jitney service, Chauffeur Cook being master of transportation, and the return trip is made just after school hours. The long haul ends in the vicinity of the Werth ranch. About a dozen pupils use this conveyance, three of whom attend high school and the remainder the grade units. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murphy have lately received two letters from their son Ray, written on board ship with the coast line of France in dim perspective. Later advices in general thru government channels indicate that the American contingent with which Ray was connected had arrived safely overseas. Mrs. Don Whitney is in San Francisco, visiting her husband who holds a position in connection with the railroad employees grievance committee. The Liberty Loan special is headed this way. In addition to able speakers, a feature will be an exhibit of notable trophies captured by American forces on the war front. The train is being assembled in Spokane this week, and after reaching Oregon will visit practically all railroad towns thruout the state, within the boundaries of which it will continue a busy itinerary until Oct. 1. The equipment will embrace a Pullman and baggage car, also two large flats loaded with trophies. A band will also be in attendance to herald the approach of the Liberty evangelists who preach the gospel of war loan investments. This special ought to be tooling its horns in southern Oregon localities next week. Watch for its appearance. Mrs. F. J. Shinn and daughter Allie leave this week for an extended visit in northern localities, including Portland, Bellingham, Wash., and other points. They will also inspect the big military post at Camp Lewis, where their son and brother Neil Shinn is stationed. Oscar Hanson, employed on the Ralph Billings ranch and who attends high school, secured a fine five-prong buck last Friday, while hunting near his father's ranch in the Antelope country. E. D. Wagner, local representative of food administration, is home with his family from Lake of the Woods. Mrs. Rebecca R. Shafer, former resident here, and whose son, Prof. Harry M. Shafer, was at one time head of the normal school in Ashland died in Los Angeles recently. Her remains were taken to Peoria, Ill., for interment. J. R. Wick is expected home this week, after a stay in Pennsylvania for over a year. Mrs. Beulah Lankin Murphy has gone to San Jose, Cal., to attend the normal school there. Her little son Charley accompanied her, the move being in a measure due to a change of climate in behalf of the boy's health. Alterations on the frontage and interior of the Payne block, near Ch-

izens bank, are now under way, conformably to lease the premises to H. G. Enders, under sub-lease from whom W. H. Hodgkinson will occupy the rooms, which formerly housed the Vienna bakery, with his jewelry stock, he expecting to move this week. The rooms which Hodgkinson vacates will be merged into the hardware unit of the big department store. It is also the intention of Mr. Enders to install arched passage ways between the several units of the establishment, adding to the expedition handling of stock and the convenience of the small army of employees. When these improvements are completed the establishment will rank as the largest and best appointed emporium of its kind between Portland and Sacramento. Annual meeting of stockholders representing the Granite City Hospital Co., will be held at E. D. Briggs' office, this city, on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 2 p. m. Miss Agnes Hedberg is employed in Southern Pacific offices at Dunsmuir. H. E. Oaks, of the Ford garage, and H. H. Milligan, foreman of the Tidings office, are having a fortnight's vacation in the coast sections of Curry county. Ralph Billings and J. R. McCracken, enterprising ranchers and stockraisers of this locality, have recently purchased from the fine herds of G. G. Hewitt, of Monmouth, two Jersey calves. The animals are registered and descended from high grade pedigree stock which has secured notable records. Other fine stock lately imported here includes a score of first-class registered ewes and a Merino buck, imported by Fred Herrin from California. Among officers chosen at the annual reunion of the old Soldiers and Sailors association, held at Grants Pass last week, appears the name of Mrs. Isabel Spencer, of Ashland, as chaplain. The presence here of Mrs. Mary Dunn, pioneer of this locality, surrounded by children and grandchildren and the familiar old surroundings indicates a family reunion among the near relatives of those well known people. Son and daughters of Mrs. Dunn, either residing here or visiting Ashland from other sections, included Geo. W. Dunn and Mrs. Elizabeth Van Sant of this vicinity; Mrs. Caldwell of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Rice of Portland. James Weaver, of Talent, will remove his family here, having joined the clerking force in Enders store. Miss Kathleen Silver has a position in the Roosevelt schools. An admonition comes from Eugene that all women who contemplate entering the state university the current term, will be required to register with the dean of women, Mrs. Louise Ehrmann, before making definite plans as to board and lodging accommodations. A number of men and mules passed thru here lately on the way to work on the Gold Hill irrigation project, coming from the vicinity of Sacramento. An appeal from there is for more workers. Rev. G. O. Oliver, pastor of the Methodist church at Klamath Falls, has been appointed a member of the war council's religious workers in France. He will leave his parsonage soon, inasmuch as he is due in the foreign field by Oct. 1. G. S. Butler is manipulating a brand new Overland car, purchased recently of the local agency, represented by George Millaer.

Mrs. L. B. Pierce returned to her home in Medford after spending a week visiting with friends at Trail. Trail school opened Monday with Veda Lynch as teacher. Mrs. R. E. Foellera and son Charles went to Medford Saturday to see a doctor about the latter's hand; he had it bruised while cutting wood and it kept getting worse until blood poison started. He is much better at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Olson spent the week end with the latter's mother, Mrs. M. E. Middlebush. The Messrs. Eula and Lucy Foeller who have been employed at the hotel at Crater Lake all summer, returned home Sunday to attend school for the winter. There will be a dance for the Red Cross at the Trail hall, Saturday night, Sept. 21st. Medford music, and a good time guaranteed for all.
