

PANIC IN BERLIN FROM DEFECTION OF BULGARIANS

Riotous Peace Demonstration—Bulgarian Legation Cheered—Junkers Talk of Dictator While Socialists Clamor for Government Possessing Confidence of Allies.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A peace demonstration took place in Berlin on Saturday, according to news received here today. The cheering crowds assembled in front of the Bulgarian legation at the German capital necessitating police intervention. The rioters, according to the information, got the upper hand of the authorities and committed excesses. A number of statues in the Berlin squares were destroyed.

Excitement Over Belgium

LONDON, Oct. 1.—There is the greatest excitement in Germany over the defection of Belgium, judging from special dispatches received here from Holland. On Saturday the excitement amounted to a panic. The alarm brought forth the instant demand that "something be done."

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from The Hague says the demand is for somebody possessing the confidence of the Germans and their allies to replace the present military oligarchy. All reports indicate a decided cleavage between the Junker and Conservative classes and the class represented by the socialist and radicals, who have the support of some centrists and even national liberals.

Talk of Dictator

Emperor William's belated anxiety for the people to cooperate in the government evidently will be distasteful to the Junkers, one of whose foremost newspapers, the Kreuzzeitung, declares that a dictatorship is the only possible alternative. On the other hand, the demand of the popular parties is for a popularly elective cabinet.

The effect of the resignation of Chancellor Von Hertling and Foreign Secretary Von Hintze on the public agitation is not yet reported and nothing is known as to how the terms of the Bulgarian surrender have affected the German people, if they have been permitted to know the terms.

Kaiser Shows Anxiety

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Emperor William in a message to the Fatherland party is quoted in an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph as saying: "I have the confident hope that the whole German people in these most serious times will resolutely gather around me and give their blood and wealth until the last breath for the defense of the fatherland against the shameful enemy plans."

Von Buelow "Strong Man"

Prince von Buelow, former German imperial chancellor, may be the vague personality mentioned in the advices from The Hague as the statesman who is expected to appear as the German "strong man" in the present crisis.

It has been an open secret that Germany was holding Prince von Buelow for possible use in the critical period that the making of peace would bring, and the very suggestion that comes now for a man of his type may perhaps be pointed to as indicating that Germany herself is coming to realize that the beginning of the end is at hand.

ACTRESS SUCCEEDS AS COUNTER-SPY

PARIS, Aug. 1.—At the trial of M. Malvy on the charge of treason, it became known that one of the favorite revue actresses of Paris, Mistinguett, had assisted the government in investigating the charges against him. Her work consisted of acting as a counter-spy on the actions of Malvy.

Geo. Maddox who has been touring with a Chautauqua company in the middle west, and returned home for a short visit with his parents, left Sunday night to enter the O. A. C. as a member of the Students Army Training corps.

MEDFORD HELPS PUT OREGON OVER TOP FOR BONDS

Despite the fact that the Medford district is $128,152 behind its quota of $298,152, by a quick jump of over $30,000 upwards this forenoon, the district will probably have the glory and credit of putting the state of Oregon, outside of Portland, over the top.

The state liberty loan headquarters called up County Chairman C. E. Gates this forenoon and informed him that the Medford district could raise $30,000 within the next hour if would put Oregon, outside of the state metropolises, over the top. Headquarters stated that they had been trying without success everywhere in the state to raise this sum. Could and would Medford please come thru? The mayor then asked if this district would be given the credit for putting the state over in case the money was raised and was assured that it would. He thereupon stated that he would do his best.

Bank to the Rescue

That best promise was made good. For in a half hour's time Mayor Gates reported back to state headquarters that the necessary $30,000 subscription was raised. The subscriptions which not only put the state, outside the city of Portland, over, but made a substantial and very welcome jump toward the district quota were those of the Medford National bank which subscribed for $25,000, and Mrs. Abbie J. Champlin of Foote's creek who subscribed $5,000.

With these subscriptions and the $5,000 subscribed Monday the Medford district total to this noon amounted to $170,000.

Outside of the two big subscriptions of today which were the largest and second largest so far received during the local campaign, subscriptions have been coming in woefully slow and small.

Shy of Solicitors

Not only that but the committee is shy of solicitors and makes an earnest appeal for patriotic and public spirited men to volunteer their services at once for this work. Last week there were forty solicitors, this week so far only four or five men have shown up for duty. The committee is grateful to those who have helped out in the campaign so far, but appeals that they continue to help out.

Ten men were to have reported for soliciting duty this morning but only four showed up, the others being prevented by business duties and other causes. The call is urgent for all men who can possibly spare the time to take up this work.

There are indications that the committee is growing tired of pussy-footing and gentle methods, and will adopt drastic publicity measures to drive forward those persons who are well known to be financially able to subscribe large amounts, but who have either not subscribed at all or have made pitiable subscriptions in comparison to their means.

W. A. Hanna, local agent of the Associated Oil company, today informed County Chairman Gates that he had received word from headquarters of the company at San Francisco that the company was going to make a $3000 subscription to be divided up among the districts of Jackson county. The Medford district will receive a substantial share of this subscription.

The following subscribed yesterday:

SERBS DEFEAT BULGAR FORCES

LONDON, Oct. 1.—In the region east of Veles Serbian troops Sunday severely defeated the Bulgarians near Charevo, six miles from the Bulgarian frontier. The Serbian official statement of Monday reports that the Bulgarian forces were cut into two parts.

The inhabitants of Serbia say the Bulgarian soldiers killed their officers who tried to stop them in their flight. Uskub was occupied by French cavalry on Sunday.

their way through the enemy to each objective. Banteux was stormed and the enemy driven back to the line of the canal.

Some German machine gunners have fought with the greatest gallantry, pouring a heavy fire into the advancing British until silenced by complete annihilation.

There was hard fighting for Proville, west of Cambrai, before it finally fell. The British lines have been drawn still closer at Cambrai and the British hold the junction of the Cambrai-Arras and Cambrai-Bapaume roads.

Cambrai on Fire

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Under the threat of its speedy capture by the British, the city of Cambrai has been set on fire by the Germans. Field Marshal Haig reported this morning.

British troops last night continued their closing-in movement on Cambrai. They captured Proville, to the west of the city, and Tilloy, close by on the northwest.

North of St. Quentin the British wedge has been thrust still further into German-held territory and the town of Levergies has been captured.

Farther south on the front between Cambrai and St. Quentin the town of Vendhuile has been taken possession of by the British.

The battle was resumed this morning in the Cambrai-St. Quentin sector.

GERMAN LINE UNTENABLE.

In the last ten days the western battlefront has seen great changes as the allies have forced their way through the Hindenburg line. From Neuport the allied line today ran south to Dixmude, southeast to Roulers, south and west to near Armentieres, which is virtually surrounded and thence on an arc to near La Basse. Thence it runs south through the western outskirts of Lens to Gavrelle, where it swings southeast to Blecourt, three miles north of Cambrai. Around Cambrai the British line is less than a mile from the center of the city. South of Cambrai the St. Quentin canal forms the line until the region southwest of Le Catele is reached. Between here and St. Quentin the British have driven in a sharp salient with its apex at Lovorgis. St. Quentin is surrounded north, west and south, whence the French hold an irregular line southward to La Fere. Running along the west edge of the forest of St. Gobain the line strikes Rilette at Knizy and then runs southeast across the Chemin-des-Dames and along the Oise-Aisne canal to the Vesle at Jonchery. Thence to St. Maie-a-Py, past Rheims the line runs east. West of Suippe there is a salient, with its apex at Monthois. Crossing the Argonne south of Grandpre the line then runs northward to the Meuse at Briailles. From the Meuse to the Swiss border there has been little change.
