MAN CELEBRATES EIGHTH BIRTHDAY OF BIG STORE

Eight years ago tomorrow John C. Mann opened up a dry goods business in Medford in a small way, and from this modest beginning the business has gradually grown by enterprising and fair dealing methods and expanded into the present big exclusive store for women, and the largest store in Medford.

To commemorate the 8th birthday of the big establishment a great sale with special bargains begins Thursday. Everything in ready to wear for women and children and all piece goods and novelties are carried in the immense stocks. Incidentally it can be mentioned that there is no longer any mystery about that figure "8", which has been appearing on the Mann show windows and in the newspapers, and which has had everybody in town guessing as to its mystic meaning. The figure, of course refers to the eighth birthday anniversary of the big store and celebration sale.

Mr. Mann announces that he is greatly appreciative of the liberal patronage extended by the public these past years, and hopes by the same methods to merit a continued and increased future patronage. Another big reason for Mr. Mann's success in business is his belief in advertising and liberal use of printer's ink.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Newton D. Baker, American secretary of war, issued the following statement here tonight:

"The primary purpose of my visit to London was to arrange for further co-operation in the matter of shipping to carry on the enlarged military program upon which America has embarked. The result of the conferences on this subject appear in the transactions of the inter-allied maritime council, but I am happy to give public expression to my high appreciation of the cordial way in which the British government has worked."

"Transportation of the vast army of Americans now in France has been possible only because of the assistance rendered by British ships. The whole exploit is a fine example of international co-operation, and arrangements have been made to give a fresh illustration of the heartiness with which the allied nations are associating their means and facilities for the common cause."

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER Tells How Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard something about Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, which I tried. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and some more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.
