LIBERTY LOAN LAGS IN NATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The overnight increase in Liberty Loan subscriptions reported to the treasury today was $82,334,959, raising the total to $1,406,951,000.

Subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty loan must average more than $425,000,000 daily if the total six billion dollars is to be raised by the close of the campaign, October 19. Eleven working days of the campaign yet remain.

Campaign officials today reiterated the warning against allowing the German peace proposals to lessen the efforts of the workers or the ardor of the public. At no other time, it was said, should the American people show more plainly their full-hearted support of the war. In a message flashed by order of Secretary Daniels today to every ship and to every naval station, Vice Admiral Sims called upon the men of the navy to subscribe to the loan.

This rather poor showing is attributed partly to the increasing interference of the influenza epidemic with campaign plans. In many parts of the country mass meetings and movie theaters have been closed by health authorities, thus depriving the workers of one of their most effective methods of rounding up subscriptions.

The answer of the Chicago district to peace talk is a greatly increased subscription with a total of $98,000,000.

From San Francisco come reports that subscriptions throughout the district now are above $130,000,000. San Francisco has obtained $33,000,000; Idaho, $0,864,000; Oregon, $18,162,000 with 90,000 subscribers.

The Laundry Owners' National Association meeting in Chicago has subscribed more than $100,000 "to help clean up the Kaiser," according to a telegram today to headquarters.

ROGER HITCHCOCK AMONG THE MISSING

Among the missing in Monday's casualty list is the name of Lieut. Roger W. Hitchcock of Los Angeles. Lieutenant Hitchcock is well known in Medford having resided here for several years. In 1916 he purchased a ranch at Eagle Point and for some time operated it. He was a member of the University club and Country club and prominent in social circles. His father, a well known author, died a year ago in New York. After leaving here he moved to Los Angeles and married there.

At the outbreak of the war, Lieutenant Hitchcock enlisted in the aviation service and has for some time been in France with the American expeditionary forces.

Took Out Dreadful Soreness

When the kidneys are weakened or overworked so that they fail to filter and throw all impurities out of the blood, the poison remains in the system and backache, soreness, lameness and rheumatic pains are likely to develop. Mrs. David Henry, 65 1/2 Lincoln Ave., Washington, N. J., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills are doing me much good, both my kidneys and the rheumatism. They took all the dreadful soreness out of my limbs. AN "HONORABLE" PEACE.

"I HAVE decided, in accord with my allies once again to offer peace to the enemy, but it will be only an honorable peace for which we extend our hand," proclaims the Kaiser to his army.

There can be no honorable peace with the Kaiser that will not be dishonorable to the allies.

There can be no honorable peace with those who are without honor.

There can be no honorable peace with those who believe might is right and act accordingly.

Civilization is fighting to abolish the German feudal system which for self aggrandizement has bred a nation of maniacs imbued with the hallucination that they are a race of supermen above the law of God or man, whose mission is to enslave and exploit humanity and which has plunged the world into a maelstrom of murder and misery to realize its illusions. An negotiated peace but perpetuates the system.

Germany has attempted to enforce upon the world with blood and iron "kultur" a new morality or rather a revival of dark age immorality, the morality of war; a new idealism, the glory of the German; a new religion, the divine mission of the German to rule the earth. As Munsterberg declared, "The German oneness of mind is symbolized in the Kaiser" and his shining sword—symbol of the "all-highest." Defeat will cure the deceased German mind and restore it to the normal—correct the perverted vision. Peace now will perpetuate the dementia.

Germany has violated every rule of civilized warfare and now as defeat menaces, brazenly seeks the treatment accorded civilized belligerents from those she has betrayed. Having woutonly revived the frightfulness of the barbarian, destroying, pillaging, slaughtering and enslaving neighbor nations, she shows the yellow streak existent in all bullies in clamoring for the consideration her brutal might denied her victims.

Germany began the war by looting and burning Belgian cities and murdering Belgian citizenry. She is seeking to end the war by systematic destruction and pillage of Belgian cities and enslaving the population. The German system is unchanged and only armed might of opponents can change it. For civilization to make peace with the German system is for it to commit hari-kari.

From the ashes of storied Louvain to the still burning columns of Cambrai, of St. Quentin, of Laon, runs the story of German frightfulness, with its mutilated children, its crucified victims, its defiled womanhood, and its maimed prisoners; its poison gas and its poisoned wells, its liquid fire and its still more ghastly firing of inhabited cities; its bombing of hospitals and its torpedoing of hospital ships; its Zeppelin raids upon unfortified cities and its long range shelling of Paris; its dynamiting of historic cathedrals and its obscene pillaging of the living and dead; its wake of ruin, desolation and desert in once fertile fields; and its enslavement and starving of millions with their untold agony of suffering and sorrow.

To avenge the brutality of the beast and make such scenes impossible in the future, is the purpose for which America entered the war and to talk peace with the Hun would be to postpone for a future day the final reckoning. Peace would perpetuate the horror of the Hun through a world in which militarism would be the main occupation of man.

To talk peace with the Hun would be to break faith with those who lie in Flanders field—to throw down the torch extended by the dead, who will have died in vain; make us false to ourselves and to those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place, and in the sky The larks still bravely singing fly, Scarce heard amidst the guns below. We are the dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders fields."

Take up our quarrel with the foe, To you from falling hands we throw The torch—be yours to hold it high; If ye break faith with us who die, We shall not sleep the poppies grow In Flanders fields."

MYSTERIOUS EPIDEMIC ALARMS ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Monday, Oct. 7.—The national medical department is alarmed by the persistent spread of an unidentified epidemic among children in Catamarca province. In a month 109 children have died of a total population of 10,000. The disease resembles dysentery and is highly contagious.

Government doctors report that no improvement in the situation can be observed. Spain and France have diplomatically notified Argentina and Uruguay that there is no cholera in those two countries and protest against the designation of their ports as "susceptible" in recent joint measures by the two republics. All vessels from France, Portugal, Spain and Italy now are carefully quarantined.

ADMIRAL PERRY OF SMUDGE POT VISITS HOME PORT

With the unmistakable walk of a sea going gentleman and air of confidence such as persons wear with money in their pockets a handsome young man sauntered into Emil Mohr's hostelry Monday and wrote the name "Arthur Perry" on the register. Then he looked up and said, "How do?"

Yes, it was the same former distinguished Medfordite who used to while away his time, mostly while away gathering pieces for the local newspapers, and when particularly suffering with brain storms and empy ran a column in the Sunday Sun under heading "Smudge Pot."

Many a Medford man took his first drink after reading the "Smudge Pot." But a year ago last April while awfully inebriated at the Kaiser and following the loss of three rummy games in succession his patriotism reached the limit and he hurriedly enlisted in the naval reserve, and in that service he has stuck as close as glue to Uncle Sam ever since, especially on pay days. He was stationed at Portland for several months and then was transferred to the Bremerton navy yard where he has since been. Mr. Perry is now home enjoying his first furlough since entering service.

In an interesting interview today he unambiguously approved the manner in which Secretary Daniels is running the navy with but one exception, and that was that pay days are too infrequent in the navy. Mr. Perry admitted that there was not much pep in the navy until after he had joined it and got things going right.

"I can't help but note the great changes that have taken place in Medford since I went to war," said Mr. Perry. While there are fewer rummy players at the card joints, I observe that what they lack in numbers they make up in quality. I first set eyes on your new Rialto theater today, and I must say it is a bird and well worthy of this fine city."

Asked if he was going to return to Medford to live he emphatically replied that he would never think of such a thing until Germany was exterminably licked. Then he had it all planned out that he would return to the city and set up a settlement here.

Mr. Perry was the guest of honor of Mr. Court Hall at the Elks club for dinner today.

Thought Man Was Crazy

"I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble for years; the last two years people have been calling me crazy. The doctors could not do anything for me. The awful bloating of gas seemed to press against my brain and I could not think clearly. Three months ago a friend advised taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has worked wonders in my case. All my bloating and suffering is gone and I feel as though newly born." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. FARMERS ASKED TO INCREASE WHEAT YIELD 75 PERCENT

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 8.—Every Oregon farmer is asked to add at least one-fourth to his winter wheat acreage, if he farms in winter wheat districts. Since it is evident that some of them may not be able to do this those who can go still higher are urged by the government and the agricultural college to do so.

"Cultivated fields such as corn, beans, potatoes offer a splendid opportunity for making up a large part of the increased acreage," says Prof. G. R. Hyslop, the college farm crops specialist. "In many parts of the Willamette valley and western Oregon the beans have been harvested, the corn gathered and the potatoes are being dug. The ground is generally in good condition for seeding right now."

"Many farmers lose 5 to 15 bushels per acre by planting in the spring instead of fall. This possible addition to the wheat supply in 1919 is needed to form a reserve if the crops are good, and to insure a sufficient supply if the crop is poor. In either event it will be profitable to the farmer."

"Owing to the shortage of vetch seed thousands of acres normally planted to vetch can be seeded to winter wheat."

"Much land normally seeded to oats may be planted with winter wheat."
