Regarding the rating of the war industries board whereby shoes are to become cheaper, and none may retail for more than $12 a pair after June 1, 1919 the actual facts are that the average price of shoes will be higher this winter. Wholesale houses are announcing radical advances. The cutting of shoes in the factories under the new schedule begins Oct. 15, but these shoes will not reach the average buying public until next spring and summer. Hence while it reads fine regarding cheaper shoes in the future, that future is located about the first of next June or thereabouts.

An erroneous impression has been created, (thru advertising and other ways), that the linen being asked for is all for the Belgians, when the fact is very little of it will go there. An order came from Seattle, (our division headquarters), for a supply of linen to be gathered for our hospitals in France. A list of sheets, pillowslips, towels, bath towels, handkerchiefs and napkins, has twice been published and the drive put on, (to save time and labor), with the Belgian clothing drive and the response is very, very poor.

Boys from Medford and the surrounding country are in these hospitals and need these articles to be cared for properly. Surely there is not a family in Medford but that can afford one or more above-mentioned articles. The vacant room, corner of Main and Bartlett streets, will be open every day this week from 10 o'clock a. m. until 9 o'clock p. m. Take the price of five gallons of gasoline and buy linen for our boys' comfort—your boy, perhaps, in France.
