

YANKS SEEM TO GROW OVER NIGHT ALL OVER FRANCE

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(Correspondence of Associated Press.) "American soldiers seem to grow in the night so that each morning there are more of them than before," writes a British soldier in France to his relatives in England.

"Their automobile trucks are on all the roads, and their columns of infantry are everywhere. We are beginning to know the songs they sing and the phrases they use."

"To many of us they were a complete mystery at first. We had heard of America only as a distant country. Then suddenly they were in France, tall, well-trained men with a genius for making friends and adapting themselves to new conditions."

"Then, before we had quite recovered from the first pleasant surprise, they were fighting,—making a reputation in a trade where the best is not easy. They came up from their villages singing, and filtered into the trenches, more and more of them each day."

"They were merry and light-hearted but underneath they are taking this business very seriously, and some of their talk shows it. That's the way to take one's fighting, you know—neither too much in earnest—which is morbid—nor too much as a joke—which is foolish."

"The peasants like them; the old French mothers mother them. They have an instinct which gives them a realization of the homesickness which most sometimes come to these men. When years have gone by, and it is possible to see the war in perspective, it may be possible to give full value to what those women have done."

"Meanwhile, as I was saying, the Americans go on arriving and spreading all over France."

DOUBLE LOAN SUBSCRIPTION TO MATCH VICTORIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Secretary McAdoo today appealed to every citizen to double his loan subscription to match the achievements of the allied armies in France.

"The brilliant victories of our British, American and French forces yesterday," said the secretary, "should impel every patriotic American immediately to double his subscription to Liberty bonds. That is the way to put the Fourth Liberty loan over quickly and that is the best way to strengthen the fighting power of our brave men who are moving with such irresistible dash and success against the Huns."

"Let our boys and our comrades in the battle line know that we are fighting with the same enthusiasm and determination here as they are over there and more than all that we appreciate, as well as glory in what they are doing, not by words, but by deeds."

TOLD GERMANS TO "GO TO HELL" WHEN SURROUNDED

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Wednesday, Oct. 9.—(By Associated Press.) The brightest spot in the heroic and amazing story of the now famous "lost battalion" which belonged to the 77th division was the climax to the fourth day of the troops' beleaguering in the Argonne forest.

"When the men were long foodless and almost wholly without ammunition and when many were weak from exhaustion, but not despairing, an American who had been taken prisoner by the Germans suddenly appeared at the little camp surrounded in the valley."

"The man had been sent blindfolded from the German headquarters with a typewritten note to Major Whittelsey, reading: "Americans, you are surrounded on all sides. Surrender in the name of humanity. You will be treated."

"Go to hell," he almost shouted. Then he read the note to those around him and his men cheered so loudly that the Germans heard them from their observation posts.

THE ALLIES' ANSWER.

(By Edmund Vance Cooke.) Your phrasing is pretty, your words are polite; But our answer goes straight, as we send it; You brought on this war in the malice of might;

But by heavens! we're going to end it. It is well for your soul that you beat on your breast; That you cast down your garment and rend it; But we're done with your cunning, your tricks and the rest; You started this war, but we'll end it. Your cause is a curse and your word is a lie; And none but a Hun could defend it. You started this war, and the devil knows why; But we—we are going to end it.

Your sins are more foul than the stench of hell; And your oath, torn to rags—can you mend it? You sounded the tocsin, but we'll sound the knell! You started this war, but we'll end it. We will listen to "peace" when your black flag is furled; And your last gun has ceased to defend it. Meanwhile, hear the word of the civilized world; You started this war, but we'll end it!

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudinous "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten days of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are contipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of "Limestone phosphate" from the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowel do.
