"THE GREAT LOVE" PAGE TONIGHT ONLY

D. W. Griffith's latest picture, "The Great Love," which is a love story of the world war, with a cast of players including Lillian Gish, Robert Harron, Henry B. Walthall and George Fawcett and which also presents some of England's famous women, including the queen-mother, ex-Premier Asquith's daughter and Lady Diana Manners, will be shown at the Page for the last time tonight.

An English city, infested with German spies and dynamite plots, accompanied by constant visitations of the Zeppelin raiders, provides the background for Griffith's poignant tale of romance. He takes Jim Young, of Youngstown, Pa., and Susie Broadplains, a little girl of an English village, and weaves about them love's old sweet story. This romance is full of the delightfully fascinating touches that is a Griffith art.

NEW, M. E. PASTOR PREACHES SUNDAY

Rev. C. R. Carlos and wife have arrived in the city and are stopping at the Hotel Holland. Dr. Carlos has been assigned to the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal church and will be in the pulpit tomorrow for the first time. No doubt but that he will be greeted by a large congregation tomorrow.

Coughed So He Couldn't Sleep. Bronchial coughs, tickling in throat and asthmatic spasms break one's rest and weaken one so that the system is run-down and serious sickness may result. Ecos Halbert, Paoli, Ind., writes: "I had a severe cold this fall and coughed continually at night; could hardly sleep. The first bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me, entirely curing my cough." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. THE STATE ELECTION.

WE ARE reminded that this is election year and that a general election is approaching by the presence in the city of Walter N. Pierce of La Grande, democratic candidate for governor, and by the czar-like attempt of that petty partisan habitual tax-eater, County Clerk Clerk Gardner, to keep the democratic nominee for sheriff off the ticket.

Generally speaking politics is adjourned. The war is absorbing our interests and our efforts to finance the Liberty loans and various war funds, and make both ends meet, leaves but little time or inclination to discuss politics. Nationally, we believe in supporting those who will best support the administration in making the war a success.

In state and local affairs, the conditions are different. National issues do not govern and it becomes merely a question of personality and efficiency in administration.

Mr. Pierce has the advantage over Governor Withycombe in that he is of admittedly gubernatorial size. For many years he has been prominent in state affairs. He is known as careful and conservative, a man of poise and judgment, a plain commonsense man of the people.

Governor Withycombe, personally a most affable old gentleman, is badly handicapped by his record. His conduct of the state prison, for which he is personally responsible, has been a continuous record of scandal. Abolishing the excellent system his predecessor installed, he instituted a regime of oppression and cruelty resulting in mutiny and murder. Then he went to the other extreme in leniency, with resulting demoralization. His flax experiment proved a costly failure to the taxpayers.

Generally speaking, Governor Withycombe's administration has been the most expensive the state has known. The emergency board is frequently in session to provide additional revenues over the appropriations and something over half a million dollars deficiency exists.

No appointments ever made by an executive of Oregon have aroused greater protest than those by Governor Withycombe. He has constantly played politics, even with the supreme court,—his latest being to appoint a police court judge to the supreme bench because the latter conducted his personal press bureau in his campaign for re-election. In other words, he has used the supreme court to pay off political debts regardless of the fitness of appointees—and the same pernicious principles have governed all of his distribution of patronage.

As to the claim that he deserves re-election because he happened to be governor when war was declared, and is therefore a "war governor" it can be said that he has had no part or parcel in the conduct of the war. He has of course been loyal, as have the other governors, but he has inaugurated no regime that has materially helped the people of Oregon in war preparations. His sole creation, the military police, is an effort to supplant civil authority by an especially created military branch.

There has been a painful lack of administration ability, business efficiency and common sense economy in Governor Withycombe's regime that militates against his candidacy and precludes defeat—in spite of the general apathy of the public towards politics.

SENATOR AND BOY STIR AUDIENCES

Senator Walter M. Pierce delivered two stirring patriotic addresses as a Four Minute speaker at the Rialto and Page theaters last night in furtherance of the liberty bond campaign. Following his address at the Page theater, Prince Knox, the boy wonder orator, also made a patriotic address, which he repeated this afternoon and will deliver at tonight's performance.

The senator's appeal for the public to purchase liberty bonds and general patriotic remarks were very effective. He warned against a too early and ill advised peace. "An unconditional surrender is the only thing we can accept," he shouted, which aroused much applause. In his closing remarks he said: "We've got Bulgaria and we're going to have Turkey for Thanksgiving." When little six year old Knox Price in a military uniform walked on the stage and faced the audience he looked too cute for anything, and he had't talked a moment until everyone felt like hugging him. In a childish voice which when he soared to the heights of oratory at times almost sounded shrill he bumbled

LUXEMBURG TALKS OF DETHRONEMENT OF GRAND DUCHESS

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Dethronement of Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide of Luxembourg and the establishment in the grand duchy of a democracy like that of France, was demanded in resolutions adopted here recently at a mass meeting of subjects of Luxembourg residing in Paris. The meeting was called principally to protest against the announced engagement of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and Princess Antoinette, youngest sister of the grand duchess. Prince Rupprecht has been commander of the German forces along the northern part of the western front in France. Recently it was reported that he had been displaced but later restored to his command.

The grand duchess was characterized by several speakers as being entirely Germanophile, one declaring that when Luxembourg was entered by the Germans, she telegraphed to the Emperor William, "I pray God every day that our army may be successful and soon bring back to Germany a heavy harvest of laurels."

Another speaker declared that she went twice to Longwy personally to congratulate the German Crown Prince Frederick on having captured it. The first time, he said, she was too early and had to hurry back under French fire. The second time, she presented the crown prince with a bouquet in the streets of Longwy.

Funk Britano, the historian, presided at the meeting and made the principal speech, expressing indignation at the engagement of Prince Rupprecht and Princess Antoinette, and declaring it a political affair, "devised by Berlin and readily accepted by the grand duchess to please the Germans."

"There can be no question of love in such a marriage," he declared. The princess is but nineteen, while the Bavarian crown prince, whose wife died of sorrow at his conduct towards her, is fifty and looks like a man of sixty."

What the Ammeter Tells

How much current does your battery give? How much does it get? The answer to both these questions is revealed in the swing of the little ammeter needle. Its motion is the only thing that can tell you how your electrical system behaves on the road. We'll gladly show you how you can read the ammeter's message. Ask us, while you're here, for the booklet, "A Mark with a Meaning for You." It tells what the Willard Mark stands for.

GREAT PIANIST GODOWSKY TO PLAY HERE NOVEMBER 12

Negotiations are under way for the appearance of this famous artist at the Page theater on the evening of November 12th.

Mr. Godowsky as a pianist stands alone today. He has gradually forced his way to the top until he is now known to the musical world as the "wizard of the key-board." He is, without a doubt, the greatest master of the pianoforte since the days of Franz Liszt.

It will certainly be a great treat to the citizens of the Rogue River valley to have the opportunity of hearing the greatest pianist in the world right here in Medford at the Page theater.

The engagement will be under the direction of Mr. George Andrews, who has arranged with Mr. Godowsky to play here at popular prices. A sale of tickets will be made next week.

BRIGHT LIGHT MEANS BRISK BUSINESS The dingy store can never hope to do more than a "dinky" business. Proper lighting is as essential to the success of the modern retail store as is the stock of merchandise on its shelves. The Well-Lighted Store Gets the Business Everybody wants to trade in the well-lighted shop—where they may readily see just what they are getting and where an air of bright prosperity prevails. Take an accounting of your store lighting today. Ask yourself if it is as good as it could be. Ask yourself if modern Electric Lighting fixtures wouldn't remove some of the present shadows and put you on a new and certain road to business success. They have done this for others—they will do it for you. Telephone 168 now. We will appreciate an opportunity to serve you. California-Oregon Power Company MEDFORD, OREGON
