Warning From Dr. Porter

An intensely interesting letter was received by the Mail Tribune today from Dr. E. H. Porter, who is at Worcester, Mass., describing the epidemic in the east, the symptoms and effects of the disease, preventative measures, etc., and advising that Medford take precautions. The letter follows:

Your issue of September 28 contains an editorial on the subject of Spanish influenza, and from its tone will lead your readers to believe that the disease is not a serious one.

The onset of the disease is very similar to that of an ordinary attack of grip, but much more sudden and severe. Many cases begin as a pneumonia, while others are sick several days before pneumonia symptoms appear.

The advance in the Champagne now has reached a depth of nearly 15 miles since the Franco-American offensive was started on this front September 26, hardly more than two weeks ago.

Boston Has 80,000 Cases

The disease appeared in Boston early in September and on the 14th there were 27 deaths. From that date to noon October 5, there had been 2270 deaths with over 80,000 cases.

German answer to President Wilson's note of inquiry is ready and believes that it was handed to the Swiss government today.

The newspaper understands that "the answer will make far-reaching advances and it is hoped that the discussion between Germany and President Wilson will bring forth a durable peace for the whole world."

"During the past ten days I have been doing my bit at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston. That large institution has closed its doors to all but accident cases and influenza patients and it is more than I have been through several epidemics of cholera, small pox, fever and bubonic plague and in all the attendants could protect themselves but in this epidemic the attendants have suffered severely and the only protection possible is to wear masks of gauze over the face.

Germany apparently is hurrying to appear to be a democratic state. Political amnesty will be announced and a new governor will be appointed for Alsace-Lorraine.

AMSTERDAM, Friday, Oct. 11.—While the German junker organs bewail the demise and burial of glorious old Prussia, and make dramatic appeals to the shade of Bismarck, Berlin bankers today notified their correspondents here that President Wilson's first condition, the evacuation of occupied territories, is considered "not acceptable."

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Vice Admiral Sims, speaking yesterday at Lord Northcliffe's luncheon for visiting American editors, said that the average number of enemy submarines operating against merchant ships and transports across the Atlantic was about eight or nine but that sometimes it ran up to 12 or 13.

The Posen Neneszte Nachrichten editorially remarks: "The new chancellor has directly approached President Wilson, which be resumed as soon as the guns and the transports catch up with the advanced elements, for a powerful push at the improvised German positions.

Meanwhile the British sweep on the more northerly front has resulted in an extremely close approach to the city of Douai. Closing in on the south, west and northwest, the British are hardly more than a mile and a half from the center of the place through their capture of Chiny and the announcement of Douai's fall at any hour would not be surprising.

Equally sweeping advances are being made by the French in Champagne. The German front here seems to have lost its power of successful resistance and General Ptain's troops have made a quick advance of from three to four miles.

The advance in the Champagne now has reached a depth of nearly 15 miles since the Franco-American offensive was started on this front September 26, hardly more than two weeks ago.

Aiding markedly in the success of this operation and striking at even more vital German positions is the continued American attack in the Argonne and eastward in the Meuse district. The American first army fought its way northward yesterday to the vicinity of Landriest-et-St. Georges which apparently marks at least a mile and a half's progress beyond the famous Kriehilde line.

Today the Americans were again attacking, against such a determined resistance as to indicate plainly the realization of the Germans that they are facing here a menace to the safety of their entire position in northern France through the threat to their vital communicating lines in the Montmedy area.

may seem surprising. The president has always been held up to desecration in the German press as a fanatical war maniac. The veil now is being lifted and it is clearly proved President Wilson is not a war maniac but an idealist whose aim is to establish a world peace founded on a league of nations."

U-BOAT WARFARE OF FOE FIZZLES

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Vice Admiral Sims, speaking yesterday at Lord Northcliffe's luncheon for visiting American editors, said that the average number of enemy submarines operating against merchant ships and transports across the Atlantic was about eight or nine but that sometimes it ran up to 12 or 13. That was all the submarines the enemy could get out at a time, he declared. Around the British Isles, Vice Admiral Sims said there were about 3-
