Notice to Subscribers—The United States War Industries Board has issued the following mandatory order, among others regulating the newspaper business during the period of the war.

1.—End of secret diplomacy. 2.—Freedom of the seas. 3.—Removal of trade barriers.

4.—Reduction of armaments. 5.—Settlement of colonial claims in accordance with the interests of the populations.

6.—Evacuation of and freedom of Russia. 7.—Restoration of Belgium.

8.—Evacuation of France and return of Alsace and Lorraine. 9.—Return of Italia Irredenta.

10.—Self-rule for nations held subject by Austria-Hungary. (This has been followed by the American recognition of Czechoslovakia as an independent state.)

11.—Restoration of the Balkan states. 12.—Self-rule for subject states of Turkey.

13.—Polish independence. 14.—A league of nations to prevent future aggression.

These terms have never been formally accepted by the allies but show what would be necessary before peace could be discussed by the United States.

The kaiser, pressed by necessity, is willing to say he accepts these terms to save his army today, but tomorrow he would probably repudiate them if occasion offered.

The president could not make peace or grant an armistice if he desired, and the German purpose in availing solely to the president is to create divisions among the allies.

For the allies desire to promote the re-establishment of peace. The best means of assuring it is to deprive Germany of her army—in fact it is the only way to secure permanent peace.

A. J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs; Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer and Lord Robert Cecil, assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, were at the foreign office early.

Discussion of the meaning of the German terms used in the reply to President Wilson is heard everywhere. Two leading questions are whether the allies will embark upon a commission to arrange for an evacuation of allied territory still in German hands, and how far German assumption that all the allies will stand together on President Wilson's platform is warranted.

The submarine warfare and the disposition of Germany's colonies are details of peace which seem to interest the British public most.

In the meantime the much-advertised democratization of Germany keeps pace with the great retreat of the German armies. The Prussian house of lords has accepted franchise concessions which it appeared to have set its face against a few weeks ago.

Empire William, say later reports, has instructed the imperial chancellor to pardon political prisoners, particularly those jailed for street demonstrations. These are said to number nearly 1,000.

A German newspaper says Prince Charles of Saxe, the so-called unannounced king of England, has decided to refuse the throne if it is not offered to him unconditionally. This means he will never wear the crown.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. Unaffected by proposals of peace by Germany, the American people today set themselves to subscribe at least three billion dollars in the next six days to the Fourth Liberty Loan—the greatest financial task ever attempted before the nation.

Reports to the treasury today based on information received from each of the 12 federal reserve districts showed that total subscriptions received to date amount to only 3,000,000,000.

NO ARMISTICE PROBABLE.

WHEN the Germans had the French army surrounded at Sedan in 1870, they refused to grant an armistice to the French.

"Germany desires to promote the re-establishment of peace. The best means of assuring it is to deprive France of her army," said Bismarck.

The allied army is gradually destroying the German army, and a greater disaster than Sedan was for France looms before Germany. Hence the feverish desire of the kaiser to secure an armistice and thereby preserve the German army and his own throne.

There is no more reason why an armistice should be granted Germany now than there was for Germany's granting it to France at Sedan—not as much, for Germany was then on French soil and Germany was the aggressor in a trumped-up war of spoilation, just as Germany is today. If the German armies were before Paris, there would be no armistice and there should be none now.

President Wilson's terms of peace as outlined January 8, 1918, are as follows:

- 1.—End of secret diplomacy. 2.—Freedom of the seas. 3.—Removal of trade barriers. 4.—Reduction of armaments. 5.—Settlement of colonial claims in accordance with the interests of the populations. 6.—Evacuation of and freedom of Russia. 7.—Restoration of Belgium. 8.—Evacuation of France and return of Alsace and Lorraine. 9.—Return of Italia Irredenta. 10.—Self-rule for nations held subject by Austria-Hungary. (This has been followed by the American recognition of Czechoslovakia as an independent state.)

These terms have never been formally accepted by the allies but show what would be necessary before peace could be discussed by the United States.

The kaiser, pressed by necessity, is willing to say he accepts these terms to save his army today, but tomorrow he would probably repudiate them if occasion offered. Nothing that the German government says or does is binding upon it. No treaty or agreement it makes is worth the paper written upon, and the president has repeatedly so stated and will probably again state it in his reply to Germany.

The president could not make peace or grant an armistice if he desired, and the German purpose in availing solely to the president is to create divisions among the allies—and until Germany puts up the necessary guarantees to insure unconditional surrender, we may rest assured there will be no armistice and no peace.

For the allies desire to promote the re-establishment of peace. The best means of assuring it is to deprive Germany of her army—in fact it is the only way to secure permanent peace.

GERMANS REACH BRUNHILDE LINE TO MAKE STAND

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Germans have reached what is known as the Hindenburg or Brunhilde line. This position while much less formidable, as far as known, than the Hindenburg system, is still strong enough to resist pursuit by the allies, and perhaps hold for some time.

The Hindenburg line runs from Antwerp to Ghent and thence to Tournai, Conde, Valenciennes, Solesmes, Guise, Rehel, Vouziers, Dun-sur-Meuse, and then down the base of the St. Mihiel salient to the Moselle, where it joins the old front running thru Lorraine and the Vosges to the Swiss frontier.

French and British forces have virtually reached this line east of Cambrai and St. Quentin. British units are reported at Solesmes, while the French, further south, are within four miles of Guise.

Burton Suffered Twenty Years Before Finding the Right Medicine

In speaking of the marvelous way in which Tanlac has relieved him of a long-standing case of rheumatism, B. E. Burton, head salesman in the wholesale fruit and vegetable department at Lutey Bros., Butte, Mont., living at 662 South Montana street, recently said:

"It is simply astonishing that just a few bottles of Tanlac should fix me up in almost no time, after I had spent almost every dollar I earned in the last twenty years trying to get relief from that awful rheumatism."

Before coming to Butte Mr. Burton lived ten years in Spokane, Wash., where he was salesman for the Imperial Trading company of that city.

"I tell you what," he continued, "I have gone through all stages of rheumatism, and the agonies I have had to endure simply cannot be described. The trouble first came on me about twenty years ago. My shoulders, knees and ankles gave me the most worry and ached so at times that I hardly had any use for myself. About three years ago it got so bad that I was laid up in bed for six long months, and when I got up again I had to go about on crutches for three months, and till recently I never did get it out of my system, altho I have spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get straightened out. I went to Hot Springs, Arkansas, but without result and then I tried the mud baths nearer home, but got no benefit from that treatment either. A little while ago I felt it coming on pretty bad again. My appetite left me, nothing tasted right, I was constipated and suffered from awful headaches every few days. The pain in my shoulders and knees was so agonizing that I could hardly sleep and I would wake up six or seven times during the night racked with pain. Why, at the time I started taking Tanlac I couldn't raise my arms as high as my shoulders to save my life and was unable to put on my coat without somebody helping me, and my knees were so stiff and hurt so bad I could hardly walk."

"After reading so much about Tanlac I decided to try it and I hadn't finished my first bottle before the stiffness began to leave my joints, and now I never suffer a bit of pain or inconvenience. My second bottle gave me a whacking big appetite, that constipation is relieved and I never have a headache. I sleep like a log all night, and am lucky if I wake up in time for breakfast before going to work. I certainly am glad to endorse Tanlac and only hope my experience with this wonderful medicine will help someone else who may be going through what I did."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Flowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by J. J. McNair.

Berthelot is less than five miles from Rehel, while further east General Gouraud has taken Vouziers, but has not penetrated much north of that place. Americans fighting in the Argonne are thru the Kriemhilde line, but their progress there is very slow.

Study of the tactics followed by the Germans during the past week has shown that they are following the methods of retreat used in the Marne and Somme salients in July and August. They have held their flanks fairly secure and have withdrawn their center. They have thus apparently escaped disaster around Laon, where military experts have said the Germans had delayed their retirement too long for their own safety.

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear. A little zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions and makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

There Are No Two Ways About It

EITHER you must cut out luxuries and down on necessities—or each succeeding request the Government makes for money—will be harder to comply with.

Then, too, necessary industries must be kept going—and that takes money also.

When the Skin Seems Ablaze With Itching and Burning

There's just one thing to do. If your skin seems ablaze with the fiery burning and itching of Eczema, relief and lasting relief can only come from treatment that goes below the surface—that reaches down to the very source of the trouble. So-called skin-diseases come from a disordered condition of the blood, and search far and near, and you cannot find a blood remedy that approaches S. S. S. for real efficiency.
