

REGISTRANTS FOR DRAFT EXAMINED DURING WEEK

All the men of class one between the ages of 19 and 26 inclusive, who registered on September 12, except those whose claims for exemption have been filed before the district board, have been called by the draft board for physical examination this week.

Not only will the 100 each day be examined, but they will also be addressed by the advisory committee of the draft board and be given their first taste of military drill. This morning after the men had been addressed by Captain W. Y. Crowson, Rev. L. Myron Bozzer and Dr. E. H. French, the first named giving a general military talk.

The board has received orders calling off of all entrainments of draft contingents set for this week because of the Spanish influenza epidemic at the various cantonments.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The merged parent-teacher associations of the junior high and Hawthorne schools will meet in the former building on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 15, at 4 o'clock. Among other numbers on a varied program, Rev. C. A. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist church, will give an address on "The Training of the School in the World of Tomorrow."

The local railroad yards are reported industriously employed on a monthly $40,000 payroll basis, which is going some under federal control, even if not under actual government ownership.

At the meeting of the Southern Oregon Presbytery recently held at Glendale, Mayor Lamkin was elected layman commissioner to the general assembly at Atlantic City next spring with an alternate chosen from Jacksonville. Rev. Dr. Koehler, pastor of the Ashland church, was designated to preach the sermon on the occasion of the installation of Rev. L. M. Boozzer as pastor at Medford, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 16.

In a recent official report from the state superintendent of banks, among 27 institutions having deposits of a million dollars or over, Ashland's three banks are credited with an aggregate of $1,099,984.24; Medford, $2,287,160.70; Klamath Falls, $2,277,497.52. On August 1, when this report is dated, 263 banks in Oregon, located in 162 towns, had deposits of $164,792,418.10. Portland led with over $162,000,000, and Astoria in this instance was second with over $6,000,000.

J. P. Rocha has moved to his finely improved orchard property on Ooca street, and his family residence on Granite street has been rented to Adolph Kahn, a newcomer here.

Among recent army appointments of young men well known in this vicinity, one instance is that of Paul Snerross, of Central Point, in the quartermaster's department, and another that of James Nail, of Klamath Falls, as ordnance officer, both with the grade of second lieutenant.

A few days ago George McCallister and Frank Swingle motored over to the big 660-acre ranch of the former, about 30 miles up Rogue River, and in record time husked two car loads of the corn from the ideal fields on that property. Although the yield was plentiful and the husking by these huskies was speedy, it should be remembered that the two carloads refer to auto capacity, and not standard freight receptacles in the 80,000 pound classification. These cars of maize of the yellow dent variety in size and perfection were enough to bewilder the eyes and senses of Iowa and Missouri grangers who imagine that King Corn reigns dominantly only within their respective boundaries.

Mrs. Frank Jordan returned to Portland last Saturday after a visit here with friends. The Geo. W. Loosley family have an option on leasing the Jordan home, on upper Granite street, for the winter.

Harry Sinclair, a former foreman in the Tidings office, was a visitor here on Sunday from Montague, in which town he owns and edits the Messenger.

It does not seem as tho it required the threatened advent of an influenza epidemic to lessen the expectorating habit in public places, but the city health authorities have been compelled to take that view of the situation in the face of possible complications. As a result, placards are displayed warning offenders that the provisions of the anti-spitting ordinance will be enforced.

Wm. F. Herrin, of San Francisco, general counsel of the Southern Pacific, who has been rusticated of late at Shasta Springs, came on to Ashland last Friday, accompanied by his brother Ed, for a brief visit with relatives and friends here, returning south on Saturday, the round trip being a motor one.

The remains of Roy Thornton Willets, who died at the Sacred Heart hospital in Medford, last Friday, as the result of a shooting accident while out hunting in the northern part of the county, were brought here on Sunday for burial. The family home was formerly in this vicinity where a number of relatives reside.

Members of Siskiyou chapter of the Royal Arch Masons of Jacksonville to visit that town on Monday evening, Oct. 14, and participate in some special degree work, where at least three candidates are a prerequisite in successful team work. Several from here have entered the races.

Mrs. Sadie Walker, who formerly conducted the Suburban grocery in the Nell creek district, has moved to Ashland and located in the Plumert residence on the corner of Second and B streets.

Clarence Collins, of Oakland, Cal., overworked after twelve years service at continuous and exacting truck driving employment, is in Ashland for a resting spell and change of climate. He has a brother here who is a Wells Fargo messenger on the run between Ashland and San Francisco.

George Kincaid, who occupies the Edwards residence on Laurel street, has returned from a business trip to his former home in Waterville, Wash. Representatives on the circuit court jury, October term, from this vicinity, include W. E. Jeter, Frank Crouch, W. A. Cooper, A. C. Briggs, Walter Hash and Charles Lindsay from Ashland, and R. S. Purvis, C. C. Hartley and E. D. Adamson from Talent.

Fred Herrin's band of nearly 2000 sheep recently began the fall trek from Mt. Ashland summer grazing territory to winter range quarters across Bear creek.

Among events in the fraternal organization calendar, the Eastern Star meets Tuesday, Malta commandery Wednesday, and Siskiyou chapter Thursday evenings of the present week.

C. W. Nims, O. Winter, and Stuart Saunders returned home Saturday, from attending the Templar and commandery convales at Bend, a locality not so very far distant, yet under prevailing transportation conditions requiring two days time each way in going and coming.

The Herring family of Wasco, Ore. were renewing the acquaintance of friends here on Saturday, on the way to Talent to visit relatives, preliminary to going to California for the winter, the extended trip being made by auto.

October 12 being a holiday and the weather being delightful, H. C. Stock made a farewell trip for the season over to Lake of the Woods, accompanied by a trio of jolly young ladies, including Calla Biegel, Helene and Gertrude Biede.

Mrs. Emma Bailey, of Central Point, who died last Friday, and who formerly lived in Ashland, was a sister of Albert Arnold, residing in this vicinity.

Mrs. Fanny Yargam, from Klamath Falls, has moved to Ashland with her three children, the family occupying the Roche home on Meade street.

A big new water tank is among extensive improvements being added to Southern Pacific equipment in local railroad yards.

M. B. Chase is building an addition onto his little bungalow for his father-in-law, Mr. Gill, who will make his home with them during the winter.

Roy Willets, who was shot thru the arm while out hunting Wednesday, passed thru here en route to the hospital last night. The wound being close to the shoulder, it was feared might prove serious.

Lawrence Fitzpatrick received the sad news of the death of his brother Melvin in a naval training camp at Quantico, Va., of pneumonia. The Mr. Fitzpatrick was only twenty-one years old at the time of his death, he had spent more than a year in the service, having enlisted in the marines soon after war was declared. Lawrence has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

Those wishing to send Xmas packages to the boys "over there" should first read the Red Cross instructions regarding sending of packages. A copy has been posted at the Table Rock store.

A calf on the Vincent farm is attracting a great deal of attention owing to its size. At birth it stood 33 inches in height.

We are glad to hear that one of our vacant houses may soon be occupied permanently.

A California car, containing a man, woman and their two babies, ran off the grade above the bridge Monday night. The car turned completely over but fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

Mike Baker of the Modoc is reported off duty on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cameron spent Sunday with Mrs. Cameron's folks at Central Point.

Mr. Pence who has been ill for sometime left Monday for Berkeley, Cal., for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Vincent and little daughter Cloy are visiting home folks.

Grandma Collins is suffering severely with rheumatism.

R. E. Nealon left last Friday for Eugene to continue his officers' training course.

The following letter has been received from Corporal Glenn May of Co. 1, 1st army supply train:

Somewhere in France, Aug. 15. Dear Mrs. McBride: Received your letter yesterday. It had been on my trail since the latter part of June but I was new and enjoyable just the same.

The boys over here certainly appreciate every letter they get. You can realize how a fellow must feel who has not had a letter of any sort for five or six months. Occasionally a soldier loses out on his pay for several months, too, and then he is up against it. Such things only happen when the soldier gets into the hospital or is transferred to a different company or for any reason is separated from his original company.

However when everything is taken into consideration there is very much more to appreciate in what Uncle Sam and the people of the U. S. are doing for the boys over here than there is to complain of. There is an immeasurable stream of love, gratitude and appreciation expressed in every conceivable way, flowing out from the hearts of those back home for those on duty over here and it extends to the soldiers and workers of every nationality. One has to get into the thing as it is in order to fully realize that only the real things in life count.

Our work as an army supply train is what the name implies. We handle everything from troops to ammunition. We use the army trucks and are called motor truck trains. We have traveled over France considerable so far, having entirely crossed it in one direction and one-half way in the opposite. We have seen service on two sections of the front and at one time drove trucks for three days and three nights getting just two and one-half hours rest during that time, missing two meals in succession and eating the others on the go. The night driving was done without lights and the nights were real dark. You can imagine the position of a truck driver with his machine loaded with troops, trying to follow the machine ahead in a train of perhaps one hundred trucks, with the dust thick enough to cut, and the road is barely enough for two machines side by side and there is a ditch of running water on one side and steep hill on the other. Likely his brakes have burned out and his motor is working with only three lungs. I have seen this condition without accident. However I have helped dig and pull out several trucks. If a fellow happened to get behind under such conditions and comes to a cross road, then what? Perhaps there are fifty trucks behind him and he is going over this particular road for the first time and doesn't even know his destination (he couldn't say it in French if he did.) I have seen a train split in two or three sections just because some driver couldn't or didn't keep close enough.

Don't think that truck drivers are always out of range of shells and air-bombs for at times they get both. The enemy makes it his business to shell roads over which supplies have to go, so we occasionally find hot spots in the road.

One of the most interesting nights I have spent since coming over was spent at a section of the front where airplanes fought directly overhead using their machine guns when they could in the dark. Meanwhile powerful searchlights and anti-aircraft guns were doing their duty. The enemy machines were attempting to bomb batteries and munition dumps which they thought they knew the location of. Now when cannon bark, airplanes mix their music near enough that the terra firma vibrates perceptibly and the rockets' flare remind you of a Fourth of July, then you realize you are on the fringe of action which farther ahead creates No Man's Land.

Last Sunday I went thru the second art museum in France. The treasures are kept in some great noble's palace of past days and is certainly worth visiting.

Now while France has many interesting places and things I'm not convinced that the good old U. S. A. has to take second place in anything. I appreciated your Table Rock Tablets and will expect them again. I'm glad women and girls are able to keep up the necessary work. Remember me to everyone and give my address to any who wish it. Write soon. The same old boy.

GLENN.

Mr. May was a resident of our neighborhood for about 13 years and has many friends here.

THE BEST PROOF

Given by a Medford Citizen. Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Medford residents. Time has strengthened the evidence. Has proven the result lasting. The testimony is home testimony—The proof convincing. It can be investigated by Medford residents.

Mr. Wm. Charley, 205 N. Grape St., Medford, says: "My kidneys did not act right at all. Besides this, I had much pain in my back and sometimes, I could hardly bend or straighten up. At night, the pains bothered me, too, and often I couldn't sleep. I tried plasters and medicines for my back but none of them helped me any. It was while I was feeling ill and discouraged that I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began taking them. In less than two weeks, I felt better. I took in all four boxes and got well again." (Statement given September 14, 1907.)

On March 16, 1916, Mrs. Charley said: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as I did several years ago. I still consider them a medicine of merit and whenever it is necessary for me to take a kidney remedy I use them, for I know they are most reliable." 60c. at all dealers.
