

HERE'S CHANCE TO HELP SALVATION ARMY GLASSIES

"Take it from me the Salvation Army is delivering the goods over here. Right up in the thick of it, clean to 'No Man's' land, any weather, any hour of the day or night you will find a Salvation Army lassie or one of their men, giving us coffee and doughnuts, or a word of cheer to the wounded and dying. And they don't blow about it either. If you get a chance to help the Salvation Army over there, do it for us over here."

This is an extract from a letter written by a Medford boy to his parents in this city. And there have been hundreds of other letters sent to Jackson county since war was declared, with similar praise for this splendid organization. There is not a home with a service flag in the window that won't endorse this statement.

Well the chance to help the Salvation Army has now come, for the United War Work drive starts next Monday, November 11th, and the Salvation Army is one of the seven worthy organizations which is to benefit by that drive. In fact if this drive should fail, the Salvation Army with its splendid record and its high capacity for reconstruction service, would be discontinued its foreign relief and its devoted and self-sacrificing members would be forced to conclude that what they had done was not appreciated by the people over here.

You don't want the Salvation Army lassie to stop handing out hot coffee and doughnuts do you, for even after peace has been signed, thousands of Yanks will be on foreign soil and more in need of good American grub and good American smiles than ever before.

Of course you don't. Then get ready to do your very best bit, when the solicitors start out next Monday. Show the Salvation Army that you are behind them till the boys come marching home—make it big!

BOY KILLED IN PEACE CELEBRATION

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Nov. 8.—An unidentified 14-year-old boy is dead and five other persons are in hospitals today suffering from serious injuries as a result of accidents which marred the premature peace celebration here last night. The dead boy and four injured men were the victims of a noise bomb explosion.

During the celebration, Jack McDonald, foreman at a local tinplate factory, was beaten and shot by a crowd when he was mistaken for a foreigner who is said to have defiled an American flag.

OREGON FARMER GAINS 28 POUNDS

"I Simply Feel Like a New Man," Says Beaverton After Taking Tanslac

"To look at me now you'd hardly think that just a little while ago my life was despaired of and I was told to make my plans accordingly; but Tanslac has fixed me up so I am out in the fields every day working hard, and that's a strong man's job I can tell you."

This remarkable statement was made the other day by William Welch, a well-known farmer who has lived all his life about a mile north-east of Beaverton, Oregon, on Route 4, Box 31, in telling of his wonderful recovery through the use of Tanslac.

"I had always enjoyed pretty good health up to the first of last March," he continued "when something seemed to go wrong and I got into such a rundown condition that I fell off from a hundred and fifty-five to a hundred and thirty-two pounds, a loss of twenty-three pounds. I was terribly weak, and my heart would beat and thump so fast that I could hardly rest at night. I had to be very careful about what I would eat and for three months I lived on the very lightest kind of diet. My skin had a yellowish, sallow look like I didn't have any blood in my veins, and I wasn't able to do a lick of work on my farm. I got mighty discouraged, for none of the medicines I took did me any good and I really thought my time had come."

"I was in the awful fix when I read about the wonderful way Tanslac was helping others, so I got me a bottle. Well, I began to feel better soon after starting on it and kept on improving right along as I kept on taking it. I have just finished my second bottle, and I have not only gotten back all my lost weight but am actually five pounds heavier than I was before I was sick at all, that is I have gained twenty-eight pounds since I began taking Tanslac. I don't have a bit of trouble now and simply feel like a new man."

Tanslac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mea, in Ashland by J. J. McNair.

BLOND ESKIMOS REALLY PRIMEVAL TRIBE OF BLONDS

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—"Sure they're blond Eskimos." They are aborigines living up in the white Arctic on Victoria Land in their primeval state absolutely untouched by the outside world's civilization. They are completely out of contact with everything and, consequently, have none of our improvements and also none of our evils."

W. J. Bower, known along the Arctic coast as "Blond" Bower, one of the very few men who have gone from the outside into the far northern almost fabled land of the "blond Eskimos" thus described them when he was here recently.

"And I don't think it was Stefansson who first found them," Bower asserted. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, returned Canadian Arctic explorer, who has been credited with discovering the strange tribe, agrees with Bower that he did not find them first. He does, however, claim that he made the first study of the tribe and brought back to the outside world the first report of its existence.

According to Stefansson and Bower, a Captain Klinkenberg, master of the whaling schooner Olga in 1905 pushed northwest to Victoria Land where he found the blond tribe. On his return to the whaling base at Karsch Island, an Arctic Ocean point, he told of his findings. Stefansson, then at Karschel, heard Klinkenberg's story and immediately went to Victoria where he made a study of the natives.

Bower claimed the "blond Eskimos" are really blond. Stefansson does not go that far but says they have light eyes, almost blue eyes and a few have light hair and eyebrows. Bower pointed out that the "blond" natives have round full eyes while the other Eskimos of the far north have the slant eyes of Asiatics.

"It looks as if the 'blond Eskimos' come from early Greenlanders, or Scandinavian stock of some kind," Bower said. "I know they are not half white and half Eskimo because the half breed Eskimos have black eyes and black hair. These white ones have light eyes and light skin and hair. The old men of the tribe have the same white features as the young."

"Horns and arrows are used by them, they know nothing about tobacco and flint, they make their fires with a sort of flint, they dress in skins, they spear their reindeer and catch their fish, they won't eat outside's food and they speak a language similar to that of the Eskimos. "They are beautiful, friendly and square, too square, I think."

CAPTURE OF SEDAN THRILLS FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 8.—One hundred days ago the Germans were 33 miles from Paris. Today they are being peace.

After many occasions when hope has been deferred and of bitter disappointment, France knows at last that triumph has come and gives rein to its unreserved joy. The conviction is universal that whether the German delegation signs articles of capitulation or not, Germany is beaten.

The allied advance, particularly the exploit of the Americans in entering Sedan, a name which thrills every French heart, shows clearly that continuation of hostilities by Germany can lead only to a military debacle in the near future. This feeling is confirmed by reliable news that Germany's internal affairs are drifting toward chaos.

SPANISH INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC IN MEXICO

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., Nov. 8.—Spanish influenza has taken its toll of lives in northern Mexico. The epidemic was believed to have been brought here and in other towns in this state by travelers from the border at El Paso, where the epidemic was sweeping thru the army and the civilian population. As the Mexican physicians had no experience in treating the disease and had not anticipated an epidemic here, they were without sufficient supplies, only a few bottles and no hospital facilities aside from the military hospitals, which were soon crowded with soldierly soldiers. The epidemic was most general among the poor, who know nothing of sanitation and lack the only way to prevent pneumonia is to shut all the doors and windows in their homes. So great was the number of deaths that bodies were left in the cemeteries for days, as the native sections could not dig graves fast enough to bury them. The supply of coffins was soon exhausted and many bodies were buried without shroud or coffin.

The ancient Chihuahua cathedral was closed for the first time in 200 years on account of the influenza epidemic. All churches, schools and theaters were closed by the health authorities.

GERMANY STRIVES TO CLOUD ISSUE SAYS PARIS PRESS

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The text of the wireless exchanges between Marshal Foch and the German high command shows signs, the morning newspapers declare, that Germany is still determined to cloud the issue in every possible way, apparently with the object of at least gaining time, if they cannot gain anything else.

The Matin says: "Berlin and all Germany are striding rapidly toward a revolution. The substitution of a responsible secretary of state for Admiral Von Hintze was inspired by this grave peril. The commission sent by the German government must have wit if a man able to sign immediately, without referring to Berlin. An attempt must be made at any price, in the phrase of Prince Maximilian of Baden, to open negotiations in favor of peace."

"Needless to say the German government is the victim of a persistent illusion. Marshal Foch will refuse to come out of his province which is strictly military, and he also will certainly refuse any suspension of hostilities until the armistice is accepted."

Other commentators write in the same vein and invariably conclude by asserting that German capitulation is not far away.

Unlike Topsy— Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Grewed"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done. It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of a half a century. Because of all of these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in the history of the packing industry will be mailed on request to Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.

SOCIAL UNREST RAPIDLY GROWS AMONG JAPANESE

TOKIO, Oct. 3.—(Correspondence of Associated Press.) The recent food riots in Japan are dangerous symptoms of a widening social cleavage in the opinion of Toshiro Fujiwara, a leading business man of Tokio and an authority on social questions. He contrasts the conditions under which the working class of Japan live with the enormous profits of great enterprises, and sees in the ostentation of the countless war millionaires a social irritant which is causing the theories of western agitators to work on the minds of the Japanese workmen.

Mr. Fujiwara thinks that Japanese skilled workmen have already acquired the ideas of the working people of western countries. He adds: "These ideas, unfortunately mostly in a wrong sense, are steadily working upon the minds of our working people, especially those in big cities like Tokio, Osaka, etc. He continues: "Leaders of the nation are therefore strongly urged to adopt some measures for relief of the general discontent so that disaster may be avoided. Should this general discontent of the working class be left without remedy, we may have more serious outbreaks and these may bring about a catastrophe to the empire."

Mr. Fujiwara urges that Japanese statesmen learn a lesson from American and British statesmen in the handling of national problems, especially food problems. Improvement of the living conditions of the working classes in Japan, he believed to be urgently imperative, and this reform should be inaugurated in the big cities of Tokio and Osaka.

The maximum disturbance was at 12:30 and the distance from Washington approximately 5,900 miles.

U-BOAT PROBLEM FINALLY SOLVED BY DEPTH BOMBS

ON BOARD AN AMERICAN DESTROYER IN FRENCH WATERS, Oct. 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—An American destroyer with her depth bombs ready to be discharged is indeed a dangerous craft to monkey with. She is a menace not only to the enemy but to any other craft with which she might collide in the darkness, running without lights, and to herself as well. If one of her depth bombs loaded with its heavy charge of T N T should be accidentally exploded there would be little left of the destroyer.

The deadly depth charge which is proving to be the conclusive answer to the submarine menace now is being released from every quarter of the destroyer. Two of these big cylinders of high explosives can be dropped from the bridge by the pressure of a button. Launching Thornycroft throwers drop a charge from either side of the destroyer forming a barrage.

"Y-guns" are stationed amidships with two barrels, each of which throws a depth charge, one to port and the other to starboard. Finally astern, there are two long lines of depth charges running on miniature railway tracks, ready to be dropped over the stern.

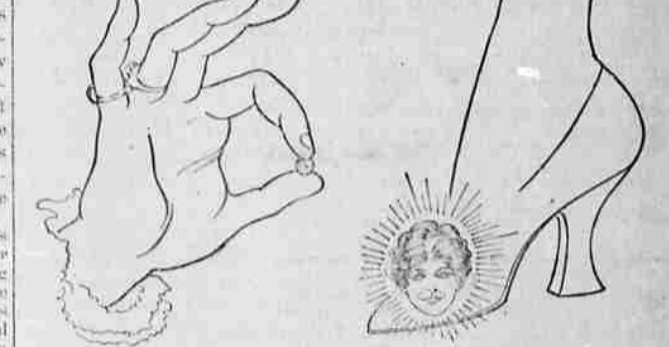

With all these depth bomb charges ready to be let loose forward, ast and amidships a complete enveloping barrage can be put in operation at any time. With the destroyers completely enveloping the transports the water barrage extends its protecting sweep entirely around the fleet.

Great care is taken against any collision in the darkness which would release the depth charges. While the lack of a collision would not cause an explosion the depth charge might destroy its own ship by exploding when it reached the depth fixed by the fuse.

Such an explosion has actually occurred in one case doing considerable damage but causing no fatalities. This incident has given warning of the extreme care needed to guard against night collisions when the fleet is going through the darkness with all lights out.
