

COLLEGE WITHIN 100 MILES FROM ARCTIC CIRCLE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Oct. 29.—The new Alaska agricultural college and school of mines under construction here about 100 miles from the Arctic Circle, is believed to be farther north than any other institution of higher learning in the world. It will train its graduates to help develop Alaska along its two main lines—agriculture and mining. Authorities assert this northern soil holds big things in both food and metals. Both United States government and Alaska territorial funds are being used by the college. Congress, in 1915 designated a site for the school and set aside agricultural and mining lands in the Annuma valley for the support of the institution. Last year the Alaska territorial legislature voted $80,000 for the construction and purchase of equipment. An annual congressional appropriation of $50,000 is expected to help maintain the school. The Fairbanks United States government agricultural station, now located on the college site, will become part of the new institution and will continue to draw its revenue for support from the federal government. The college cornerstone was laid July 4, 1915. The site is high on a hill overlooking the city of Fairbanks, the Tanana river and the railroad. The United States government is building between Seward and Fairbanks. The concrete walls are completed and work will continue as long as the weather permits.

GENERAL PETAIN MADE MARSHAL OF FRANCE FOR VICTORIES WON

PARIS, Nov. 19.—General Petain, the commander-in-chief of the French armies, today was named a marshal of France at a meeting of the French cabinet presided over by President Poincare. General Petain is entering Metz at the head of the French tenth army.

GENERAL PETAIN

The raising of General Petain to the rank of marshal increases the number of marshals of France to three, the others being Marshal Joffre and Marshal Foch. General Petain was on May 15, 1917, appointed commander-in-chief of the French armies, while Marshal Foch, as generalissimo, commanded the French and other allied armies. General Petain was a retired colonel at the outbreak of the war.

OREGON TROOPS FREEST OF ANY FROM DISEASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—"The task of combating the spread of venereal disease among the civil communities of the United States, is a task that has taken on a tremendously added importance with the coming of peace," declares General Rupert Blue of the U. S. public health service. "Fortunately, congress enabled us to organize our division of venereal diseases a sufficient time ahead of the coming of peace to enable us to make appreciable headway in the task of securing clean communities to which our returning soldiers may come. And, while the job of fighting vice diseases is first, last and all the time, a civilian job, it must not be forgotten that it was the vast amount of venereal disease that was creeping into our military service from civil life that first awakened us to the need of the work. The estimates of some of the military authorities were to the effect that no less than five-sixths of all the vice disease in the army was brought there from civil life."

Statistics dealing specifically with venereal disease among the men entering the training camps have just been issued. These figures deal with one million men, a quota from every state in the union. These figures show that the state sending the least proportion of men afflicted with vice diseases was Oregon with .59 per cent. The largest percentage of infected men was furnished by Florida with 8.9 per cent. Statistics dealing with this subject since congress placed the whole matter in charge of the U. S. public health service are now being compiled and it is expected that they will show a marked improvement.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS By A. C. Howlett

George McMuller of northern California, was a visitor Thursday morning. He came out from Medford and took passage on the P. & E. for Derby. He has been spending several days in this section looking over the timber and mill sites. That little write-up that was published in the Medford Sun on the tenth instant has put the timber men talking if nothing more, and the question comes up, "What will be done with all of the vast body of timber in the Big Butte country if the railroad is torn up?" And one of our customers who lives in Butte Falls seemed to be somewhat uneasy about his investments in that thriving little city, but the general feeling on the subject seemed to be that it was simply a bluff to try to scare the "big timber owners" into buying the road and taking it off the hands of the company; but he that is it may be a serious proposition when it comes to talking about tearing up a railroad thirty-two miles long and leaving people with thousands of acres of timber land on their hands, and leaving such a town as Butte Falls out in the woods with a saw mill that has already cost four times what a first-class mill, that mill out a hundred thousand feet of lumber a day, with no way to get the lumber out, and another mill on the tract the Dufrey mill, and logging camps along the route. One very common opinion seems to be that the company is aiming to work on the railroad commission for higher rates, while they are charging so much now that the truck men are hiding for the freight. One of our merchants, a member of the firm of George Brown and Sons, told me that a truckman in Medford offered to deliver his freight at the store door for the same price that the railroad company charges for bringing it out on the cars, and the merchant would save the drayage on both ends of the route, and one of our gristmill men told me the other day that he could save $7.50 on a car of flour by having it taken from the mill direct to destination in Medford, Central Point or Gold Hill, on account of the extra cartage. But the probabilities are that the railroad company will do as they have been planning ever since before the war, extend the road to connect with the Oregon Trunk and possibly extend it on from Medford to the coast, or perhaps the government will take the matter up and

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Catarrh being generally influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for Free Testimonials. Address: F. J. PROBE BREWERY PAPER PURCHASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—At the opening hearing today before the senate committee investigating the purchase of the Washington Times with money furnished by brewers, evidence was offered to prove that funds from the same source were provided for purchase of the Montgomery (Alabama) Advertiser. C. W. Feisenman of Newark, N. J., who handled the money furnished Mr. Brisbane, was one of the first witnesses. He identified as brewers the underwriters of a loan said to have been arranged for acquisition of the Advertiser. In addition to aiding in the financing of the Washington Times and Montgomery Advertiser, the witness said he had contributed personally $15,500 to the support of the Newark Ledger. The brewers' association contributed nothing to the Ledger, he said.

NAVY CANCELS ORDERS FOR HALF BILLION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Naval ordnance contracts amounting to $421,359,000 have been cancelled since hostilities ceased, Rear Admiral Earle, chief of the naval ordnance bureau, told the house naval committee today when the committee began framing the 1920 naval appropriation bill.

CHILDREN KILLED BY ABANDONED MUNITIONS

PARIS, Nov. 19.—A party of children passing through a field in the department of the north, Monday, found a box of British ammunition. When they attempted to open it there was a heavy explosion. Four were killed and a number injured.

ing of 250,000 men, as it is known, is made up of the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, twenty-sixth, thirty-second, forty-second, eighty-third and ninetieth divisions, it is officially announced. It is divided into the third and fourth army corps.

The commander, Major General Dickman, formerly commanded the third division and defended the Marne east of Chateau-Thierry. Later he was a corps commander. Brigadier General Malheur Craig is acting as chief-of-staff to Major General Dickman.

Resting at Landres WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press.) First division headquarters at Landres today was awaiting orders at any moment to move forward. The troops on ahead were spending the day along the line reached late on Monday.

The Americans in Landres are enjoying all the comforts of a modern-ly equipped and newly-finished German bath house. It is a building of two stories with concrete walls, care having been taken to make the structure a permanent one. The building is steam heated through.

Near the bath house an immense bakery of brick construction also had been completed recently. Landres was used as German headquarters for the troops opposite the Americans.

Welcomed by Citizens

The first American to enter Landres was Lieut. Harold Ephlin of Detroit who reached the town at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The first person to see him was an aged woman who ran to his automobile and tried to climb onto the running board. When the lieutenant alighted she greeted him effusively.

The news of his arrival spread rapidly and soon afterward the mayor and some 50 civilians waited upon Lieut. Ephlin. The woman who first greeted him insisted that he be her breakfast guest. When other Americans entered they found the lieutenant at the table enjoying fresh eggs, toast and coffee with cream.

The mayor of the town proclaimed the day a holiday and announced that the schools would not hold their sessions. The Germans left Saturday.

BRUSSELS CHEERS BURGOMASTER MAX

BRUSSELS, Nov. 19.—Adolphe Max, the burgomaster of Brussels, returned from captivity today and was given an enthusiastic ovation by the populace.

Burgomaster Max was arrested while performing his duties in Brussels late in September, 1914, after discussions with the German governor-general, Von Der Goltz. He was taken to Germany and refused offers of the German government to be returned to Belgium if he would change his attitude toward the Germans. In August, 1917, King Alfonso of Spain made a fruitless attempt to obtain the release of Burgomaster Max. He was liberated by the Germans several days ago in accordance with the armistice agreement.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS IN POLISH GALICIA

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 19.—Anti-Jewish outbreaks with numerous fatalities to Jews, have occurred in several towns in the western part of Polish Galicia, according to the Jewish Press bureau here. In Siedlce, Polish Legionaries killed six Jews, the bureau's advice state, while at Chranow nine Jews were slain. Other anti-semitic outbreaks have occurred, it is said, at Dombrowa, Jawrona and other cities.

How a Salesman Suffered

R. J. Porter, Sterling, Col., writes: "For six months I suffered with a painful weak back. As a traveling salesman I had to stoop frequently to pick up my grips, which I grew to dread as the pain which I straightened up was awful. Numerous remedies failed to reach my case. I was induced to try Foley Kidney Pills. Relief was immediate. Say, they are great! Any one afflicted as I was should try a bottle or two of Foley Kidney Pills." Good for pain in the back, rheumatic pains, aching joints, sore muscles. For sale by Medford Pharmacy.

dead in his bed that morning. The cause of his death is not known so far as I know. He has been a resident of this neighborhood since his early manhood and was looked upon as a highly respected citizen. As near as I can learn he was about 89 years of age.

Wm. Lewis, our sheepman, was doing business here Thursday, and so was Mrs. John Rader and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Stanley. Miss Euzila Geppert has taken a position in the telephone office here and is rooming at the Sunnyside, and S. H. Harnish is taking his meals at that hostelry.

There were several passengers on the P. & E. Saturday morning but the most of them were strangers, altho Ed Walker was among them, and he said that he was going to close down for a short time in his logging camp while the Applegate Lumber company moved their mill to the junction of the P. & E. and S. P. railroad. There was one woman among the passengers and she had on a mask so that I could not tell whether I knew her or not.

H. W. Audley, J. Clapeled, Mr. and Mrs. Gallier, one of the most office inspectors, Mrs. W. C. Clements, our postmistress, C. H. Tall and son Buster of Medford, J. D. Wall, a timber man, G. W. Somers of Medford and Wig, Jack and Dick Benney of Central Point, were among the diners here Saturday. Dick has come to drive the mail wagon from here to Persist while Mr. Winningham, the contractor, is sick.

Word came Saturday morning that the remains of Chris Woolley, one of the pioneers of this valley, was found

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a smooth complexion. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
