CANNERIES ENJOY PROSPEROUS YEAR AND A BUSY ONE

ASHLAND, Nov. 25.—In a quiet sort of a way and without a flourish of trumpets—involving an efficient system coupled with ready methods which characterize the present management—the Ashland Preserving company, recently closing the pack for the season, has doubled the output of 1917, and this gratifying exhibit has been accomplished in the face of many difficulties, such as the labor shortage and the additional handicap of various restrictions. Fortunately the installation of a number of labor saving devices partially overcome many problems which otherwise would have existed in the mechanical department. The manager of the plant is M. C. Lininger, who is ably assisted by his son Bruce. The local concern has in years past had its ups and downs and has experienced many vicissitudes. However, the community is coming into its own as a dispenser of home products through this agency, which not only promises to become, but already is, one of the chief factors among our local industries. Granted that it is in active operation only for a portion of the year, the three months are hummers as to activities. Probably not half of the people in town are aware of the extent of operations at this plant during the busy season, but the canned product tells the story of our fruits and vegetables which are better advertised and far more appreciated abroad than at home. Every detail in these canning operations is personally supervised by Manager Lininger, who is an indefatigable worker, and where others have failed in this particular industry, his persistent efforts have spelled success.

70,000 Gallons Canned

The aggregate pack for 1918 amounted to about 70,000 gallons. In the several classifications tomatoes were foremost, 1,200 gallon cans and 36,000 2½ pound containers being the output. Of peaches there were 1,000 gallons, an amount which seems small for a yield in this territory, known far and wide as the "Peachblow Paradise," but it must be remembered that the crop was a light one this year, in fact in certain sections there was no crop of this fruit whatever. Pears footed up 6,000 gallons and apples 12,500 gallons. The vegetable schedules also included 2,500 gallons of beans. There may have been a few other designations, but the foregoing incorporates the major portion of items in this year's pack.

Talent Cannery Record

The Talent cannery has also made an enviable record this year. Its cider specialty is superb and finds a ready market in many of the leading centers, being canned for export by a process which retains the freshness and juicy flavor of the real genuine article. The season's output at Talent has been reckoned in cases instead of gallons, and up till recently over 3,000 cases of pears and 7,000 cases of tomatoes had been packed. Cider making and the canning of apples is still under way. As in the case in Ashland, the Talent pack will be double that of last year, according to reports of the manager, Ralph H. Koozer.

Government a Buyer

As between the customers of these canneries, the government is the heaviest buyer, the disposal of the total output being on about a 50-50 basis, the demands of the army and navy being given a preference, federal requisitions implying "first aid" in behalf of the nation's fighting forces, after which the residue finds its way into general trade channels.

The call for raising more cereals is also being responded to in line with the demand which has given an impetus to the canning of all food products, and the territory across Bear creek tributary to Ashland is beginning to assume the status of the grain yielding periods of former years. Jackson is included in the wheat growing counties of the state, and the area thus cultivated in 1917, which was over 5000 acres, was practically doubled in 1918. The campaign is on to increase this acreage further still to the extent of from 5 to 20 per cent, depending upon circumstances as to location and soil. If such a ratio of increased acreage is maintained throughout the state, Oregon's maximum area cultivated to grain for the year 1919 would be 700,000 acres, as compared to the extent of 600,000 acres for 1918. Oldtimers state that this vicinity alone used to raise 100,000 bushels of wheat annually.

DOCTOR SAID "KEEP ON TAKING TANLAC"

Mrs. Bieal Gains Twenty Pounds—Wants Others to Be Helped

"I have not only gained twenty pounds since I began taking Tanlac, but it has done me so much good that my doctor after seeing the improvement this medicine brought, advised me to keep on taking it," declared Mary Bieal, of 519 Dayton Ave., Seattle, a few days ago.

"I feel so grateful for Tanlac, I don't know what to say," continued Mrs. Bieal. "For three years I suffered such agony with my stomach, that I wasn't able to do a thing around the house. In fact, I was hardly able to get around at all. I completely lost my appetite, and what I did force down caused me so much pain, I could hardly stand it. Of course this got my nerves in a terrible condition, and I hardly knew what it was to sleep at night, I'd just roll and toss until morning.

"At last I got so bad off that I was taken to the hospital, and had an operation performed. I was there for five weeks, and when I finally got back home, I was a perfect wreck. I was so weak I couln't move around the house at all and had to stay right in bed and my husband had to leave his work and wait on me. I had the best attention I could get but nothing seemed to give me any strength and altho I tried and tried to get up and move around, it was no use. I was too weak; I just couldn't do it. Everybody insisted that I go back to the hospital, but I said: 'No.' I had been through so much I just couldn't bear the thought of going back there again.

"Then I decided to try Tanlac, as I had heard so much about it and it's the honest truth this medicine did more for me than I ever thought anything could do. I have taken six bottles now, and my stomach is in splendid condition. I have a fine appetite and can eat anything I want and never suffer the least bit afterwards.

"Tanlac certainly has built me up wonderfully. Just think, before I took it, I didn't have strength enough to set my own table, and now I can do every bit of my house work, even to the washing, if necessary, and I sleep like a child and wake up in the mornings feeling refreshed and full of life. I've gained twenty pounds and look so well that my doctor told me to keep right on taking Tanlac, and you may be sure I'm going to do it. I'm glad for everyone to know what Tanlac has done for me and hope the story of my case will help other sufferers to get the same relief."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. O. Eawers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by J. J. McNair. Adv.

FAMOUS MUSICIAN WHO APPEARS AT THE PAGE WEDNESDAY

Leopold Godowski, world's leading pianist.

Leopold Godowski, the famous Polish pianist who appears here Wednesday evening, Nov. 27th, hits nothing but the high spots on the Pacific coast, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Medford, Portland and Seattle. So Medford is again to the front from the musical standpoint. One reason for this is that the Rogue River valley has the reputation of being able to recognize the real sterling attractions and never fails to give them her hearty support. The advance sale of Godowski already demonstrates that the people are again going to live up to their former reputation. The program that Mr. Godowski will give is calculated to please all classes, his marvelous technic is bold and startling and combined with his breadth of conception and delicate shading will be a revelation as to what can be done with the piano.

Don't forget that Miss Margaret Hughes is a violinist of the very highest type, to appear on a program with Godowski she is obliged to "play some," and she does.

The regular seat sale will open at the box office, Page theatre, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Call or phone your order early as the tickets are going fast. Prices $1.50, $1.00, 75c and 50c.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.
