PEACE PROBLEMS OCCUPIES CONGRESS IN SHORT SESSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Problems of peace and re-construction promise to occupy fully the third and last session of the 65th congress, which opened today at noon.

Framing of the legislative program had been held in abeyance to await the address of President Wilson, an hour after the opening.

The usual formalities of the opening of a new session were hurried through because of the fact that President Wilson, about to sail for Europe, desired to deliver his address on the first instead of the second day of the session.

After calls of senate and house rolls to disclose the presence of quorums, committees were appointed to notify the president and the respective branches of congress that the new session had begun.

CLAMOR FOR TRIAL OF FORMER KAISER

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 2.—A number of the soldiers' and workmen's councils in Germany have requested the German government to have former Emperor William tried by a German tribunal, according to a news agency telegram from Berlin.

OBITUARY

SISTY—John Sisty died Sunday, Dec. 1, at his home at Central Point, aged 64. He was born at Napoleon, Ohio, Jan. 26, 1854, and lived there until he was 15 years of age, when he moved to Butler county, Neb.

W. F. Turner, president of the Hill Hoes in Oregon, on Friday made an inspection of the Pacific & Eastern system. Mr. Turner was formerly auditor of the latter railroad, living for two years in Medford.

UP TO CONGRESS.

CONGRESS which has viewed with alarm the president's departure to "make good" at the peace conference what "America's soldiers offered their life blood to obtain" and has ceaselessly damned the president for offering definite constructive programs during the country's hour of peril, and alleged that he was usurping the rights of that body of cheap politicians, wind-jammers, and office boys of predatory privilege, will now have an opportunity to show the country what it can do in the way of constructive policies itself—for the president has left to congress the solution of the railroad problem.

For several years now congress has wrestled with several important subjects, like the power bill, without result. Since spring it has toiled on a war revenue bill—without producing one. It is strong in criticism but short on performance. The reason is that it has developed no great leaders and no statesmen, worthy of the name—that over half of its membership are reactionaries and oppose any move tending to interfere with the sacred right of privilege to exploit the people and the natural resources of the nation; or any taxation which throws the burden upon wealth; or any legislation interfering with stock and food speculators and profiteers.

It has been alleged in congress that the president planned the retention of public utilities by the government after the declaration of peace. Even Judge Hughes, who is under pay as counsel for the association of railroad security owners to retain for Wall street the privilege to restore its ancient pastime of gambling in railroad stocks and wrecking railroad systems, is alarmed at the prospect that a great political machine will be created if the railroads remain in government hands—yet the last election proved his fears ungrounded.

With the president in Europe, congress will have its hands free of executive interference to devise a program for unscrambling the railroads that will retain the advantages of their merger, if it can. If it accomplishes nothing, the president will be expected by the people, to suggest a solution; and congress then can resume its old practices of demagogic political abuse.

THE KAISER'S FATE.

DISCOVERY of a plot to restore Wm. Hohenzollern to the throne and re-establish the dynasty has been announced at Berlin and thwarted by the arrest of the principals.

This is only the first of many such attempts. As long as the ex-kaiser is permitted to live in an adjoining country, where in a few hours he can re-enter Germany, just so long will the German junkers, threatened with the loss of their privileges, conspire for the overthrow of the new republic.

Establishment of peace in Germany and creation of a stable democracy, depends upon seizure by the allies of the person of the kaiser, trial and punishment to fit his crimes. Either the kaiser must die or suffer some such fate as Napoleon suffered, or countless thousands perish in the future in his attempts to "come back."

We have to go back to Isaiah to find a fate suitable for this fallen monarch and quote from the latter, chapter 14.

Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming; it stirreth up the dead for thee; even all the chief ones of the earth; it had raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. All they shall speak and say unto thee, art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us? Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee. How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! How art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations! For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High. Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit. They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth tremble, that did shake kingdoms? That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the house of his prisoners? All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house. But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust thru with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcass trodden under feet. Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land and slain thy people; the seed of evil-doers shall never be renowned. Prepare slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not rise nor possess the land, nor all the face of the world with cities.

NO LET-UP BUILDING MERCHANT MARINE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—Assurance given by Secretary Daniels in a recent address here that the nation has no intention of abandoning its program of building up the merchant marine has had a stimulating effect upon recruiting for that branch of the service.

William G. Rice, chief of the sea service bureau, which supplies officers and men for transports and cargo ships, said men are being shipped daily into active overseas service and that this will continue indefinitely. He declared that there is a glorious future in store for the American merchant marine, and that the prospects of fame and fortune for those who enter this service are more alluring today than ever before in the nation's history.

YANK VETERANS FROM FIRING LINE REACH NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The British steamship Mauretania, sister ship of the Lusitania, is in port today with the first large contingent of American troops from overseas. The four thousand men, mostly non-combatant troops, who were stationed in England, will be taken to Camp Mills, on Long Island, during the day. Demobilization will take place at this camp in the near future. Heavy storms delayed the giant transport's voyage so that plans for welcoming the soldiers had to be changed. Shortly before the Mauretania dropped anchor, the hospital ship, Northern Pacific, with 1,100 wounded soldiers and marines aboard, passed on the bay unheralded and docked at Hoboken. Nearly half of the heroes aboard were badly wounded, one section being given over to men who have lost legs and another to those who have had arms amputated. Red Cross nurses supervised the work of removing the men to nearby hospitals today. Troops aboard the Mauretania number 4,205, including 150 wounded men. When the big liner left Gravesend Bay for her North River pier Mayor Hyman and his party were aboard. The mayor announced that Secretary of War Baker had denied his request that the troops parade in New York before going to camp.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
