

FINLAND NOW AFTER SUPPORT OF THE ALLIES

General Mannerheim Formerly the Commander of German Troops Now in London—Asks Aid—Common People Grateful to Huns for Restoring Order in Finland.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(Correspondence of Associated Press.) General Mannerheim, the Finnish leader who has consented to become regent of the new coalition government in Finland, and the other supporters of the government sustained by the White Guards, are extremely anxious to have the entente powers and the United States recognize the new Finnish government.

The necessity for such recognition at once is urged on the ground that the peasants feel under great obligations to Germany for interfering and establishing order in Finland and cannot be induced to transfer their allegiance to the enemies of Germany unless steps are taken that will convince them that the entente powers have a real interest in Finland's welfare.

Mannerheim in London

General Mannerheim has been in London for several days conferring with A. J. Balfour, British foreign secretary. He intends to go to Paris to discuss the Finnish situation with Colonel E. M. House and French officials. He desires also to meet Herbert C. Hoover, the American food administrator and talk over the provisioning of Finland whose bread supplies are about exhausted.

German Troops Gone

According to dispatches received by General Mannerheim virtually all the German troops have now left Finland. There were less than two thousand Germans there a week ago, and as these have been moving out whenever ships were available, the general says Finland is now doubtless entirely free from German soldiers.

The Russian Reds are threatening the Finnish border and the political situation in Finland is so troubled that a recurrence of the war between reds and whites which devastated the country last winter is feared unless the government is able to obtain adequate food supplies to relieve the distress which is now becoming widespread.

Feed Russian Refugees

Russian political refugees have escaped into Finland in large numbers. It would be almost certain death for many of these if they were forced to return to Russia. Consequently the Finnish government has permitted them to remain in spite of the shortage of foodstuffs, thus imposing an additional tax on its limited supply of grain.

General Mannerheim led the Finnish white guards in their fight against the Finnish red guards and Russian red guards last winter, but retired from the command when the white guards accepted the support of Germany with Germany's movement to entrench itself in Finland, and was summoned back to Finland from Sweden after it became clear that Germany must withdraw as a result of its defeat on the western front.

Election in February

An election is to be held next February to select a new Finnish senate, which will pass on the form of government Finland is to have. At present it is a constitutional monarchy, conforming to the laws under which it was governed when a part of Sweden, before it was annexed to Russia. It is really a grand duchy, but as there is no grand duke to approve its legislation, and as its laws require such approval, General Mannerheim will, if he becomes regent as is now proposed, act instead of a grand duke pending the establishment of a legal government to replace the constitutional monarchy.

Card of Thanks

We haven't words to express our appreciation and thankfulness to our many neighbors and friends who did so many kind and noble acts during the late illness of our darling husband and father, son and brother. Also the noble Elks, M. of W. members of the W. O. W. and also for the many beautiful flowers. Also the minister who spoke so kind and sympathetic and the quartet who sang so sweetly.—Wife and son Ralph; mother, Mrs. Caroline Bollinger, and four sisters and one brother; Mrs. Lucinda Slover, Mrs. Kate Talent, Mrs. Eva Roberts, Mrs. Emma Merriman, and Frank Bollinger.

WILSON EMBASSY DINNER A MOST BRILLIANT EVENT

PARIS, Tuesday, Dec. 17.—Tonight's reception at the American embassy when President and Mrs. Wilson and President and Madame Poincare were the guests of honor, proved a notably brilliant social event, the company assembled for dinner including many of the most prominent figures in public life who later at the reception met several hundred people of various nationalities representing all branches of official, military and diplomatic life now gathered in the French capital.

Ambassador Sharr's residence was handsomely decorated. The spacious marble staircase was lined with palms, while the salons and the dining rooms were filled with flowers and palms, the decorations including a tasteful blending of the American and French colors.

The president and Mrs. Wilson were received by a mounted French guard as their automobile reached the embassy. As they descended they passed between the lines of an American guard of honor drawn up at the entrance. About the same time President and Madame Poincare arrived and received military honors.

A distinguished company already had assembled in the grand salon and the ambassador and Mrs. Sharr then escorted their guests to dinner. President Wilson sitting his arm to Madame Poincare, who sat at his right. Mrs. Sharr sat at the president's left. President Poincare took out Mrs. Wilson who sat at the right with the wife of the president of the French senate on his left.

The scene in the drawing room after the dinner was brilliant with the women in rich evening gowns glittering with jewels and the members of the diplomatic corps, generals and admirals in full uniform resplendent with medals and decorations. The stately figure of Cardinal Amette, the archbishop of Paris, in his scarlet robes blazed out among the sombre blues and blacks of the uniforms and evening dress. Most of the civilian officials wore the red sash of the Legion of Honor or the star of that order.

President Wilson wore a plain black coat while Mrs. Wilson had a blue tulle gown with silver ornaments and a diamond crescent in her hair. Madame Poincare wore white brocade silk.

Military honors were accorded the president as he departed from the embassy. In the afternoon before attending the embassy reception, President Wilson conferred with Ambassador Jusserand who accompanied him to Europe on the George Washington.

Some surprise has been occasioned in certain circles that four women—Mrs. Wilson, Madame Poincare, Madame Jusserand and Miss Wilson—were permitted to ride in the same carriage Saturday from the Bois de Boulogne station. It appears that the arrangement was due to Mrs. Wilson, who expressed a wish that Madame Jusserand be allowed to ride with her.

OFFICIAL VATICAN ORGAN DENIES PEACE PACT

ROME, Tuesday, Dec. 17.—Reports that there has been a settlement of the controversy between the Vatican and the Quirinal and that there is a possibility that Pope Benedict may leave the Vatican are emphatically denied by the Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican.

TOM MOORE IS STAR OF "JUST FOR TONIGHT"

Goldwyn introduces popular Tom Moore as a star in "Just for Tonight," which comes to the Rialto theater tonight and tomorrow. It provides the young actor with a role that admirably fits his remarkable talents.

Theodore Whitney, Jr., (played by Tom Moore) is in love with a girl who chooses to conceal her identity. When Whitney's father commissions him to recover a missing mining stock certificate he meets her and is so engrossed that he returns without the certificate, which meanwhile has fallen into the hands of a mysterious stranger. The girl, it develops, is Betty Blaine, niece of Major Blackburn, whose home was recently the scene of a jewel robbery. Betty meets the prowling stranger and detectives suspect her. They are ordered from the house when they make known their suspicions to the major.

Whitney, on learning that one of the sleuths is to go to the Blackburn home in the guise of a British nobleman, induces the detective to let him nose as Lord Roxenham. Arriving at the major's home, Whitney, as Lord Roxenham, is suspected by the butler, who brings a woman known as Lady Roxenham, to expose him. The major orders Whitney to leave the house before morning, but before he does he proves the titled lady is not only an impostor, but a jewel robber, too, and that the butler is her thieving assistant.

SAMS VALLEY

Our Sunday school and school were closed for an indefinite time owing to there being cases of flu in our district. It is reported there are now fifteen cases of influenza in the Meadows district.

Edgar Peley, our first flu victim, is able to be from his bed, but it will be some time before he can be back at work.

Miss Marvel Robins returned last week to her home in Portland to await the reopening of school.

Mrs. S. B. Stoner and daughter Ila are staying at the home of Mrs. Stoner's daughter, Mrs. Ray Barney in Medford while Mrs. Barney is in the hospital.

Mr. Hoyt, congressional Sunday school missionary of Ashland, paid a much enjoyed visit to our Sunday school Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holst, who are suffering from an attack of influenza are reported as convalescing.

John Edington returned last week from conveying a carload of hogs into a Portland market from the Van Hovenburg ranch.

The community Xmas tree which was under way was cancelled on account of the prevalence of the flu.

Mrs. H. I. Pelton is soliciting for the annual Red Cross membership fee.

Mrs. D. D. Duggan who is suffering from influenza is doing as well as could be expected.

Dr. Chisholm was called to attend Mrs. Richard Fredenburg who has never seemed to have recovered from a recent attack of influenza or grippe.

Mr. Waters, traveling optician, was thru our district last week.

Mrs. J. L. Howe received a letter from her son Joe Monday written in France, the first for two months when he was stationed in California. His many friends will be glad to know he is well and happy.

Dr. Chisholm who is visiting our district frequently finds himself right into the flu instead of being out of it as he had hoped when leaving the east.

Mrs. John Payne, who has been taking treatments for nervous prostration under Dr. Lockridge in Grants Pass, has returned to her home improved.

The many friends of Percy Chapman were saddened to hear of his death. He was well known thru this district having formerly resided here for some time.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

A silver wedding anniversary occurred the first of the week at 214 C street, where Mr. and Mrs. August Schuerman were hosts to a number of intimate friends, including representatives of the Lamkin, Curry, Shinn, Webster and Day families. An oven dozen partook of a sumptuous dinner, which would have done justice to a Thanksgiving or Christmas holiday occasion, inasmuch as a turkey of heroic proportions graced the dining table, around the orbit of which circulated all the other good things of the season. August Schuerman and Caroline Miner were married in Richland Center, Wis., Dec. 15, 1893, and came to Ashland about ten years ago. Mr. Schuerman is connected with business affairs at Gold Hill. Mrs. Schuerman is prominently identified with club and fraternal organizations, and is one of the leading workers in Red Cross activities, notably in connection with the canteen service which so kindly and efficiently labors in behalf of welcoming and entertaining the soldier boys who pass thru town to and fro between the great military camps. The couple observed their silver anniversary under the most happy auspices, friends far and near extending their heartfelt congratulations.

Local teachers have been informed that the annual meeting of the State Teachers association, slated for Dec. 25-28, at Portland, has been abandoned, and furthermore that the yearly examination of county teachers, set for Dec. 18-21, at Jacksonville, has been postponed, presumably until a date in February. Regarding the state association the work of policies will go on as usual, and sessions of the representative council and superintendents will be held as usual.

George Walton, formerly manager of electric light utilities here, and now of Klamath Falls employed in a same capacity, is chairman of Klamath county's committee working in behalf of the present Red Cross membership drive.

Last Saturday E. V. Carter's Packard car, the peer of any auto in these parts, was severely damaged. The machine was standing in front of the family residence on the Boulevard, when it was rammed by a runaway team which was attached to a local swill jitney service. The car will have to go to a hospital for repairs, the impact being terrific. One of the team of horses was severely injured.

Get your hunting and fishing licenses early, inasmuch as these permits are now available from the state game and fish commission and are being mailed to the 36 county clerks thruout Oregon. Specifically the classifications include angler, hunter, and combination licenses, the issue of angler permits being 60,000; hunter, 45,000; combination, 20,000. There have also been issued a huge number for non-residents, also 257 complimentary ones, which are reserved for the use of veterans of the civil war and pioneers of the era antedating 1850.

The Misses Florence Allen, Helen Moore, Bernice Myer, Myra Gunter, Edith Moody, Ruth Daniels, and Mrs. Francis Murphy, Ashland students of the San Jose normal school are home from California pending cessation of the influenza epidemic. Incidentally they are passing the holiday vacation with the home folks.

Within a week sons and daughters in the R. W. Hastings family have been bereft of both parents. The father passed away Dec. 7, and the mother on Sunday evening, Dec. 15. Mrs. Hastings was 47 years of age, and was a native of Independence, Ore. Five children are left to mourn their loss, three sons and two daughters. Also the prevailing epidemic was the predisposing cause of this dual mortality, the mother was overwhelmingly crushed by the blow which removed the husband and father, and mental depression added to the physical complications which caused her death. Her body was taken to Monmouth for interment by the side of the husband who predeceased the wife and mother only a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Hastings will be missed by a wide circle of acquaintances who ever found them exponents of the true spirit of helpful friendliness.

The food administration, with state headquarters in Portland, is in the market for carload lots of certain food substitutes, and is advertising for same in this locality, the time of purchasing to expire Dec. 20. Now is the time for handy housewives to pool their brain-mash substitutes in car lots f. o. b. Ashland and unload.

P. J. Fountain, former resident here, and now of Klamath Falls engaged in the real estate business, was renewing old time acquaintances in Ashland early this week, preliminary to a trip to southern California for an extended stay. He has two sons in the army in France, one of whom is with the medical corps.

In order to reinjoin employment on the Chautauqua platform under Ellison-White auspices, Rev. M. C. Deef has gone to Colorado, where at Grand Junction he will initially renew his contracts covering the winter circuit thruout the intermountain region.

Miss Voda Brower, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Brower, who is holding a government position in Washington, has been transferred from the ordinance department to judge advocate general's office as stenographer. Her sister Mina is now employed in the war risk bureau at a salary of $110 per month. Both enjoy their work at the national capital and recent transfers in the service are in the line of promotions.

Miss Helen Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dickerson, and who is another government employe at Washington, has been summoned home due to her mother's protracted illness.

Fred Schuerman, with the artillery over in France, has written his parents he being wounded, a shrapnel fragment having hit him in the face. He made light of the mishap and stated he was getting along fine towards recovery, tho the accident may leave a scar. Official reports indicate that Lieut. Louis Campton, credited to Ashland, had been severely wounded, and Barney Wolfe, also of this vicinity, was missing in action. These reports were dated Dec. 15.

Chas. H. Yeghie has returned home after an absence of two months attending to business matters in the north part of the state.

In the largest annual schedule for road construction ever presented to the state highway commission, as recently submitted, local units in southern Oregon included Grants Pass to Jackson county line, $105,000; Central Point north five miles of paving, $82,500; Siskiyou mountain section, $50,000; Klamath county to Jackson county, $75,000. Estimates do not as yet include Ashland to mountain base work. Thruout the state the several units imply an expenditure of $3,525,500, employing 3500 men. Bids on construction will be considered on Jan. 7, 1919.

A Wall of Resistance

Emphasis should be placed upon the conservation of strength and the building up of a strong wall of resistance against weakness.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

is used regularly by many, right through the winter, as a dependable means of conserving strength. For the delicate child or adult, Scott's offers rich nourishment with tonic qualities that are great in their ability to strengthen the body and increase resistance.
