SORBONNE SPEECH SUGGESTS BRYAN'S PLAN OF PEACE

PARIS, Dec. 23.—Mr. Wilson's address at the Sorbonne on Saturday in which he again defined his conception of a League of Nations attracted closest attention from all public men here. This is especially true of his statement that the war could never have occurred if the central powers had discussed it for a fortnight and certainly not if they had been forced to talk matters over for more than a year.

The president's address has recalled that the United States while William Jennings Bryan was secretary of state, negotiated a dozen arbitration treaties, one of them with Great Britain. These treaties bound their signatories to discuss their controversies for at least a year before proceeding to a declaration of war. An attempt was made to negotiate such a treaty with Germany, but the Berlin government refused to entertain it.

There is no official authority for the statement that Mr. Wilson is thinking of the Bryan plan as one of the elements in the proposed machinery for preserving world peace, but this reference to the plan in his Sorbonne speech has set public men to talking.

No announcement has been made as to how far the conference between Mr. Wilson, Premier Clemenceau, Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino have gone, but French public men have declared that their premier's talks with the president were entirely satisfactory.

It is also believed that Mr. Wilson has made substantial progress in his conferences with Italian statesmen.

FEELS TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER

Can Walk a Mile Now Where Before Taking Tanlac Couldn't Go 2 Blocks

"Since Tanlac has relieved and built me up so much I feel twenty years younger," said Mrs. W. B. Lapsley, who resides at West 2115 Eleventh avenue, Spokane, Wash., recently.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble," she continued, "until I had become almost a nervous wreck and unable to do my housework and look after my children. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could hardly retain a thing I would eat. I lived for days at a time on nothing but boiled milk and poached eggs, and half the time they failed to agree with me. I was kept on a diet all the time, and my stomach was pumped out nearly every day, but this nor anything else did me any good. I was advised that a higher altitude might help me, so I took a trip to the mountains in Canada, but came back home just as bad off as when I left. What I ate would sour on my stomach, and the gas formed by it would blast me up terribly. Sometimes my heart would palpitate like some one beating with a hammer, and then stop suddenly and keep still so long that I thought I would never draw another breath. My back, over my kidneys, hurt me dreadfully and at times my left side pained me until I could hardly stand it. I was constantly taking something to relieve constipation and was almost frantic at times with headache, and was so nervous that sleep was almost impossible for me.

"Now, this is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and I commenced to pick up with my first bottle. It was only a short time until I was eating most anything I wanted. I can now eat all kinds of vegetables, or anything else I want, without the least bit of trouble from it. My headaches and pain is all gone and I have already gained ten pounds in weight. I sleep like a child every night and have so much strength and energy that I can walk a mile, where before I took Tanlac I couldn't walk two blocks without being all tired out. Tanlac not only helped me, but my husband, who has been troubled with his stomach for a good many years, is now taking it with just as good results. Some of my neighbors are also taking it on my recommendation, so you can see what I think of it. I am thankful enough for what it has done for me to tell everybody about it."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Gold Hill by M. D. Bowers, in Central Point by Miss M. A. Mee, in Ashland by J. J. McNair.
