SAMS VALLEY

All of the recent flu victims have almost entirely recovered sufficient to be out as soon as danger of contagion is past; but it is reported there are two new cases in our locality.

Mrs. S. B. Stoner and daughter Ha returned from their stay in Medford, accompanied by Mrs. Stoner's daughter, Mrs. Barney, and son, who will remain through the holidays. They were joined Christmas day by Mrs. Barney's husband.

Charles Strang and family of Medford visited Sunday at the ranch.

George B. Little, who has been visiting relatives in the valley is now visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Kenney.

R. E. and J. L. Nealon of Table Rock extended Christmas greetings among relatives and friends here Wednesday.

Mrs. H. I. Pelton and daughter Gladys left last week for Portland for an extended visit.

Christmas passed by rather quietly owing to the flu epidemic but most of the homes celebrated with their usual feasts and Christmas trees for the little ones.

Dick Straus took into the Central Point market one of the finest bunches of Christmas turkeys ever handled there.

Mrs. Enslver, who has made an extended visit with her son, F. W. DeFord and family, left last week for Portland. She was accompanied by Miss Anna De Ford, who will attend high school in the metropolis.

Stephen McReynolds, who was home on a furlough visited friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cook and Mrs. M. Stimmert spent Christmas day with Mrs. Steinmetz's brother, Don Hougham and wife at Gold Bay.

Lloyd Tresham of McMinnville was visiting last week with his uncle W. A. Tresham and family.

Recent word from C. G. Wilson, son of D. C. Wilson, states his wife lives in a critical condition at Hotanum, Wash., from influenza.

Mrs. Richard Freudenburg, who has been ill for some time is still under the doctor's care.

EDEN PRECINCT

William Beeson was in Medford Tuesday of last week on business.

Mrs. Stovers, who has been in North Talent the past month, left Saturday for her home at Roseville, California.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett.

The last time that I wrote, was Christmas day and afterward I learned that Fred McPherson had a limited family reunion of his father-in-law's people on Christmas eve and also had a Christmas tree for the benefit of the little folks.

They had almost all of the T. E. Nichols family, his father-in-law's family connections and some of the neighbors remarked that they appeared to have a royal good time.

R. R. Minter, one of our progressive farmers, gave a Christmas dinner and a family reunion. He also invited in a few of his special friends among whom was Prof. E. N. Dearoff and family. He had all of the family together except one daughter, Miss Dahlia, who was in Portland and could not be present, but among the most welcome of all was his son Marshall who had been discharged from the service as artilleryman. He walked in unannounced and the rejoicing was almost unbounded.

J. V. McIntyre, our banker, and wife were invited to dine Christmas day with our postmaster and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clements. The Brown family had a family reunion the same day and about all the members of the family were present.

Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holmes and a part of their children, S. B. Holmes and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, Mrs. Edith Van Sooy, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Brown, Mrs. Cora O'Brien and daughter, Miss Allison Officer, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carlton. The dinner was served at the home of Royal G. Brown and counting Mr. and Mrs. Brown and daughter Miss Hazel, made just eighteen. They had two tables spread and just nine at each table. It was one of those pleasant family reunions such as the good people can have out here in Eagle Point.

Another joyful reunion was in the family of Mr. Geppert of Butte Falls. His son Horace came in on the P. & E. Thursday morning and he phoned to his sister Euzula who works in the telephone office here telling of his arrival and that he was on his way up to their home. In the afternoon Miss Euzula procured a saddle horse from E. H. Harnish and started for her home and about the time she should have reached home the Snydyside began to inquire as to her arrival, but no word came, but later we began to think that perhaps she had got on the wrong road on the north side of the Obenchain mountain as the side of the mountain has been partially logged off and there are several log roads leading to the loading stations on the P. & E., but our minds were soon set at rest when she called up and said she had arrived safe at home, but that the ground was frozen so hard and was so slippery that she had to get off of the horse and walk down, thus retarding her movements. The only sad feature in the incident is the fact that her brother Horace can stay only five days, as he is off on eight days furlough and must start back Tuesday.

Another joyful incident was the arrival of Elmer Robinson from Camp Lewis at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Robinson. Another arrival was that of Thomas Vestal, but his discharge and arrival home was the sad news of the death of his brother Roy who was a victim of the flu in Portland, whose remains were shipped to Central Point and the funeral was to be today, Saturday, Dec. 28. It was arranged that I was to have gone to the Central Point cemetery and officiate at the burial but the snowstorm this morning caused me to change my mind as I begin to realize that I am at that age when I now in my eighty-seventh year.

There are some other families who have been made happy by the arrival of their sons from the army and navy, and some whose hearts are saddened by the sad news of deaths, wounds and disease. Our sympathies are for such and for those also who are in suspense over the thought that they can get no word from the loved ones over there.

Ed Walker was a passenger on the P. & E. Thursday for Medford to see about rounding up another crew for his logging camp four miles this side of Butte Falls and he went back to his home Saturday and there were

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Easier Quicker and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of out-of-date mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).
