SEEKING A MESS OF POTTAGE

THE warmer the welcome that President Wilson receives from the peoples and governments of Europe, the bitterer, more savage and venomous the criticisms hurled at him by political opponents at home. One has to go back to civil war days for a similar recrudescence of partisanship.

Instead of supporting the leadership which has won world wide acclaim for successful efforts to win the war, and standing unitedly back of the president in his endeavor to end the old regime of the rule of autocratic might and install that of democratic right, utmost endeavor is being made to discredit the president before our allies and lend support to the reactionary influences, which in Europe, as in America, seek to perpetuate the old regime of privilege and the rule of force.

The United States senate seems to have sadly degenerated. It spends most of its time damning the president. No matter what he suggests or proposes, what he does or leaves undone, it is proper theme to set the tongues wagging of this bunch of political scoundrels. Following the lead of the envious Roosevelt, who perpetually seeks the presidency as the chief knocker in the avil chorus of defamation, its constructive efforts are limited to character destruction and to vain efforts to deprive the president of his constitutional privileges.

According to European papers, no foreign visitor ever received such a popular welcome in France, England or Italy as that accorded President Wilson. The London News calls it "a peoples' welcome, not only expressing gratitude for the president's spacious statesmanship, lofty vision and unflinching wisdom, but also sending greetings from the free people of Europe to the free people of America on the morrow of their joint victory." It is this, and more than this, for the real source of the enthusiasm is the knowledge that President Wilson, alone among the statesmen of the world, represents the definite purpose to make an enduring peace upon a basis that will prevent another war.

Militarism is not popular in the war worn countries of Europe and the people are resolved to put an end to conditions that permit its revival, to end once and for all the burden of larger armaments and exploitation of weaker nations. It is because President Wilson has openly championed this cause that he has become the hope of the people of Europe, who rely upon him to compel a democratic peace and upon the United States to support him in his efforts.

But the political Lilliputians, blinded by the fog of partisanship, are unable to see events in their proper perspective and real significance, deery everything American and repudiate American leadership of world affairs and would betray the cause of democracy to the reactionaries for the sake of securing a mess of political pottage in the coming presidential campaign—a thing that looms much larger in their myopic vision, than the peace of the world.

NEWLY CHOSEN COUNTY OFFICIALS SEATED MONDAY

Important changes take place in the county offices next Monday when the newly elected officials assume their duties and the old officials who were not re-elected retire.

Probably the most important change is that of the consolidation of the county recorder's office with the county clerk's office and the performing of its duties hereafter by the county clerk, Chauncey Flacey, the retiring recorder, takes the office of county clerk to which he was elected. He has appointed Miss Mildred Neal who served under him in the recorder's office, as chief deputy county clerk, and Miss Louise Williamson, who has been connected with the sheriff's office, as deputy county clerk in charge of the recorder's department. Mr. Flacey will not announce his other appointments until Monday, but said this noon that he would probably retain one or two of the present county clerk's staff. Three more appointments are to be made.

Another important change will come in the personnel of the county court, County Judge F. L. Tou Velle, who retires to private life, will be succeeded in that office by Geo. A. Gardner, the retiring county clerk. For the first time since F. H. Madden resigned as county commissioner about 18 months ago, the county court will have a full board when James Owens of Antelope, becomes county commissioner on Monday. Sheriff-elect Chas. E. Terrell succeeds Leslie W. Stansell in that office. Mr. Terrell has appointed H. C. Sparr of Ashland as chief deputy sheriff, and W. O. Garrett, who has his opponent at the election, to his present position as head of the tax department of the sheriff's office.

Miss Myrtle Blakeley, county treasurer, succeeds herself in that office, and there is also no change in the county coroner's office as John Perl is his own successor in the office, or in other county offices.

MEDFORD BOYS SUPPOSED TO BE EN ROUTE HOME

Medford and vicinity will certainly be on pins and needles until the 65th artillery in which are from 30 to 40 former Seventh company members, arrives from France. It is presumed from all reports that the 65th is on its way home, and the latest report, which comes by way of Eugene, is that the command is coming by way of the Panama canal and San Francisco.

Letters just received in this city from Medford boys of the 65th, and dated December 10th, stated that the regiment had turned over all its military equipment, except uniforms, at headquarters and had only its private belongings. This, the letters stated, indicated that they were to be soon ordered to sail for home.

A letter was received in Eugene on Thursday from Wiley Knighten, formerly a member of the Second company, O. A. C., but now in the ordnance headquarters in New York, the text of which according to the Eugene register, reads as follows:

"I met a boy, a sailor, in the Y. M. hut, Forty-second and Broadway, Wednesday evening whom I went to school with in Forest Grove and he said that the coast artillery sailed direct to San Francisco from France, so no doubt you will see them soon. This sailor is on the U. S. S. George Washington, which took President Wilson to France."

In going to France the 65th proceeded to the Atlantic seaboard by way of San Francisco and the Panama canal, and it is presumed that the boys are coming home the same way. Landing at San Francisco, it is expected that they will proceed by train to Fort Stevens or Camp Lewis to be demobilized, or it is possible that they will disembark at Astoria or Tacoma, depending upon whether Fort Stevens or Camp Lewis is to be the place of mustering out.

WORTH $50.00 A BOTTLE

Wm. Barnes, San Antonio, Tex., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy in the world. It has been worth $50.00 a bottle to me. I had 'the flu' followed by pneumonia, which left me weak, with a persistent cough. I needed rest and sleep, which I was unable to get. Some one advised Foley's Honey and Tar. I began taking it that very night. Before bed time I noticed relief, and that night had a sound sleep and perfect night's rest. The first since the beginning of the flu. I have completely recovered and do not cough at all. It cost me only $1.20 to cure that obstinate cough with Foley's Honey and Tar. Let all who read this letter try Foley's."
